A CHEAP WELL.—A correspondent of the Massachusetts Ploughman writes:—"Having been troubled with toads, bugs, worms, leaves and most everything else in my well, I thought I would try a new plan for a well. I dug a well about eight feet across the top, and twelve feet deep, that being as deep as I could get, on account of a ledge. I then took a section of cement pipe, two feet in diameter and three feet long; this I placed on the ledge, and filled in on the outside with cobbles as high as the top of the large pipe. I then covered the pipe with a flat stone in the centre, the size of a three-inch pipe, and piped it to the top of the ground, then filled the dirt back again. I then put in a common deep well pump; the whole costing me, when done, just thirty dollars. I now have the cleanest, coolest, and cheapest well about here."
