of the series dealing with the establishment of the BANK OF MONTREAL at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere

WHEN the Bank of Montreal opened its first office in Quebec 106 years ago, travel between Montreal and Quebec was mainly by stage coach, occupying three days in the journey. The difficulties and exigencies attending travel were such that funds were only conveyed between the two cities "at the first safe opportunity."

With the opening of this Quebec office, the Bank of Montreal introduced into Canada branch banking, one of the elements that has contributed to the remarkable elasticity of the Canadian banking system, winning for Dominion finance an enviable reputation in all parts of the world.

Of the Bank's 567 Branches, 83 are situated in the Province of Quebec.

The Pentecostal people have service every Sunday afternoon and Wednesday evening. All are welcome.

Mrs. H. A. Smith is expected home from Woodstock Saturday. She has been undergoing medical treatment there.

Roy Wasson was home from the woods a few days but has returned again.

Arthur Orser took a team load of young people to Andover to a sing Sunday night. A good time was reported.

WOULD LOOK FOOLISH EITHER WAY

A commercial traveller says that he was in a small town the other day when he came across an automobile agent trying to sell a car to a well-to-do farmer. "Nothing doing son," said the farmer. "A car's all right for those as can afford it, but I could buy ten cows with the money." The agent was struck, and said, "But you'd look funny riding around on a cow, would you not?" "Maybe son," said the farmer, "but I'd look like the mischief trying to milk a silver, too."—Fredericton Mail.

FIELDING NOTES

THE PREACHER'S HARD LOT

A preacher has a hard time.

If his hair is white, he is too old.
If he is a young man, he hasn't any experience.

If he has ten children, he has too many; if he has none, he should have and isn't showing a good example.

If his wife sings in the choir she is presuming; if she doesn't she dislikes her husband's work.

If a preacher reads his notes he is a bore; if he speaks extemporaneously, he isn't deep enough.

If he stays at home in his study, he doesn't mix with the people; if he is seen around on the streets he ought to be at home getting up a good sermon.

If he calls on a poor family, he is playing to the grand stand; if he calls at the home of the rich he is an aristocrat.

Whatever he does someone could have told him how to do better. He has a time living off of donations which never come in.

Next to being an editor—it is an awful life.

MAIL MAN LAUDED

Postmaster-General Commands Kindly Act of D. Claude Fitzgerald

D. Claude Fitzgerald, a contractor in charge of rural route No. 2, at Glasville, is held up as an example of usefulness by the Postmaster-General's Department at Ottawa. In an official bulletin it is set forth that Mr. Fitzgerald, under the new regulations, had the right to observe New Year's day as a holiday. He supplies mail along his route on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and had he availed himself of the holiday privilege the people about Glasville would have had no mail from Saturday before New Year's until the following Thursday, the holiday having fallen on Tuesday.

The Postmaster-General says of this incident: "This is certainly community spirit of the right kind."

Cause of Early Old Age

The celebrated Dr. Michahoff, an authority on early old age, says that this "caused by" is generated in the "Lungs." When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons bring on early old age and premature death. 18 to 30 drops of "Mathieu's Syrup" after meals makes your digestion sound.
