CURIOSITY Prompted Many Women To Try PURITY FLOUR

THEY were curious to see exactly what results would be produced by flour consisting entirely of the high-grade portions of the best Western hard wheat.

They were curious to know more about a flour that contained none of the low-grade portions, which are found in every wheat berry, but which are separated and excluded from the high-grade in the process of milling PURITY FLOUR.

THEY were curious to know whether an ALL HIGH-GRADE hard wheat flour was really superior to a mixed hard and soft wheat flour.

They were curious to see and taste the kind of bread, buns, biscuits, cakes and pies PURITY FLOUR would make.

Curiosity prompts you to seek the knowledge they discovered. It's urging you to try PURITY FLOUR.

REMEMBER: On account of the extra strength and extra quality of PURITY FLOUR it is necessary, for best pastry-results, to add more shortening than you are accustomed to use with an ordinary flour. Add more water when making bread.

An Interesting Letter

"Zam-Buk has proved a great comfort to me, as it is now something like two months since it cured my little girl of eczema from which she suffered for a year. THIS is but a fragment of a very interesting letter received by the Zam-Buk Co. from Mrs. E. Cozzit, of Joggin Bridge, Digby Co., N.S. The letter continues: 'When the sores first broke out I called in a doctor; but his treatment did no good. I tried salves and lotions and washes of all kinds, but the sores still spread. The disease finally became so bad that the child's face and shoulder were completely covered with sores. Imagine the pain the poor child (not a year old) had to suffer! 'One day a friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. I did not have much faith at that time that Zam-Buk would be able to work a cure, but as there could be no harm in trying it, I obtained a supply. At that time the disease had defied all remedies I had tried for over a year. By the time I had tried one box of Zam-Buk there was a marked improvement. I continued the Zam-Buk treatment and day by day the sores showed signs of improvement, until the eczema was confined to the child's shoulder, one sore on which had been particularly deep. By degrees this, also, was healed, and finally Zam-Buk banished every trace of the disease.

"I have waited several months before mentioning this case to you, in order to see if there was any return of the eczema. There has not been any return; the cure being permanent, and there is no scar or trace of the disease from which the child suffered so long. You may publish this information if you wish, so that every mother may know the value of Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk is just as good for cold sores, chapped hands, piles, blood-poison, ulcers, bad leg, varicose ulcers, scalp sores, frost bite, baby's chafed places, etc. Also as an embrocation for rheumatism, sciatica, etc. All Druggists and Stores, 50c box or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

THE DUNGARVON WHOOPER--- A TALE OF LONG AGO

BY MICHAEL WHALEN.

Far within the forest scene, where the trees forever green Form a contrast with the beach and birches gray,
Where the snow lies white and deep and the song birds seem to sleep
And cease their sweetest singing all the day;
Where the mighty, monster moose, of limbs large and long and loose,
Thru the forest sweeps with stride both swift and strong,
From the day of long ago comes this weird tale of woe,
Where the carbon and deer bound the brook's so crystal clear,
Where the stark and deep Dungarvon rolls along;

Where the black bear has his den far beyond the haunts of men,
Where the marten mink and sable swim the streams,
Where the squirrel light and free swiftly springs from tree to tree
And the little snow-white rabbit sleeps and dreams;
Where the sounds of toil resound far across the frozen ground
With the thousand things that to the woods belong,
Where the saws and axes ring and the woodmen wildly sing
Where the dark and deep Dungarvon sweeps along.

In a lumber camp one day while the crew were far away,
And the boss and cook were in that camp alone,
A sad tragedy took place and death won another race
When the young cook swiftly passed to the unknown;
From that day of long ago comes this weird tale of woe,
The sad and solemn subject of my song,
When this young man drooped and died in his youth and manhood's pride,
Where the dark and deep Dungarvon rolls along.

When the crew came home at night, what a sad scene met their sight,
There lay the cook all silent, cold and dead,
Death was in his waving hair, in his young face pale and fair,
While his knap sack formed a pillow for his head;
From the belt around his waist all his money was misplaced,
Which made the moon suspect some serious wrong,
Was it murder cold and dread that befel the fair young dead
Where the dark and deep Dungarvon sweeps along?

When they asked the skipper why he had made no wild outcry
He turned away and hung his haughty head:
"Wall, the youngster took so sick and he died so dreadful quick
"I hadn't time to think" was all he said;
Each heart heaved a heavy sigh and a tear was in each eye
While strange feelings thro' each bosom throng;
Then each reverent soul was bared as the funeral they prepared
Where the dark and deep Dungarvon rolls along.

Fast fell the driven snow, while the widest winds did blow,
Till the feet dead lay upon the frozen ground,
So that on the burial day, to the settlement away,
To bear the corpse impossible was found;
So a forest grave was made and therein the cook was laid,
While the woodmen and the song-birds ceased their song,
The far-well words were said o'er the young and lonely dead
Where the dark and deep Dungarvon sweeps along.

When the snow to came returned, their dear comrade still they mourned
While the shades of night were falling o'er the hill,
All that long and fearful night all the camp were in affright
Such fearful screams and whoop, the forest fill:
Pale and haggard was each face, "We will leave this horrid place,"
"For this camp unto the devil does belong,
"At the dawning of the day we will hasten far away
From where the deep Dungarvon sweeps along."

Since that day, so goes the story, fearful yells have long been heard
Around the scene where lies the woodman's grave,
Sounds the stoutest heart to thrill, yells the warmest blood to chill
And strike terrors to the bravest of the brave;
Till beside that grave did stand God's good man with lifted hand
And prayed that He this scene would not prolong,
That these fearful sounds should cease, that this soul might rest in peace
Where the dark and deep Dungarvon sweeps along.

Since that day the sounds have ceased and the region is released
From those most unearthly whoops and screams and yells,
All around the Whooper's Spring there is heard no evil thing,
And around the Whooper's Grave deep silence dwells:
Be the story false or true, I have told it unto you
As I heard it from the folk here all life long,
And I hope all strife shall cease and our people dwell in peace
Where the Rensou and deep Dungarvon sweep along.

Hon. Edward Blake PROMINENT RAILROAD MAN

By Michael Whalen.

My country mourns her best beloved son,
The great, the good, the gallant Edward Blake,
Much he accomplished, suffered, for her sake,
This great one gone, his duty nobly done,
The highest place in men's esteem he won,
This proud pure prince, who never did forsake
The cause deemed right, and foremost part did take
In making her great history, but begu,
Grand were his gifts, but grander still his soul,
No narrow bigot, but a broad, brave mind,
Whose name stands high on Honor's sacred scroll,
Who used his gifts for God and humankind,
To guide his country in the way of right,
His fame beazon and a brilliant light,

STRONGLY ADVISES HIS FRIENDS TO TRY GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS

"I have been a Pullman Conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central during the last three years. About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pains in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate. I treated with my family physician for two months for gravel in the bladder but did not receive any benefit. About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected and who had been cured by taking Gin Pills, after having been given up by a prominent physician who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try Gin Pills which I did, with the result that the pains left me entirely. FRANK S. IDE, BUFFALO, N. Y. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample free. MISS CYNTHIA WARD HONORED

On the eve of her departure for New Hampshire, a few days ago, Miss Cynthia Ward of Harcourt met with a very pleasant surprise. Quite a large number of friends went in a body to the home of Miss Annie Campbell where Miss Ward had been invited to spend the evening. After all were seated an address was read by Rev. R. H. Staver and a purse was presented by Mrs. W. F. Backley.

PEDESTRIANISM IN THE SOUTH
Near Champlain on the bank of the "Hooping".
Many reports of the New England team, Crever, Hayes and the others, were given credit for being the best in the world, the New Orleans team, which was a very dangerous opponent to Champlain, was defeated by the New England team. Two and a half years ago, Mandot, a very famous runner, was defeated by the New England team, which was a very dangerous opponent to Champlain, was defeated by the New England team. THE MANDOT

The little southerner did not show any signs of the game, but among the spectators was Johnny Lynch, a training for a fight with Freddy Andrews, of Milwaukee. Lynch heard Mandot's friends making fun of him and asked the boy to train with him.
Lynch learned rapidly and Lynch received a preliminary engagement for him and he won handsily.
After this Mandot learned from every top-notch who landed in New Orleans. He made friends for him among the boxers and they helped him along.
Mandot's rise has been little short of phenomenal. Since he joined with Mackey Reggo, a Memphis sportsman, he has defeated all comers.
