Stiffness
It is astonishing how quickly Minard's Liniment relieves stiffness and lameness.

Gives Great Relief

Mrs. A. R. Cabott, 26 Park Ave., Guelph, Ont., writes: "My husband has used Minard's Liniment frequently, always with good results. Friends of mine use it for rheumatism and tell me that it gives great relief."

Mrs. Fred Johnson, Box 715, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I suffered very much with rheumatism in my face last winter, was advised to try Minard's Liniment, and was relieved immediately after first application. I persevered in using it and it has entirely gone. This winter I can go out without tying up my face and give the credit to Minard's Liniment. Have told several people about Minard's, and others are using it."

Give your Boy a Chance!
You will not miss the small monthly amounts.

On the first day of every month draw a cheque for $10 for the credit of your son's Savings Account. Do this regularly for (say) ten years.

Your boy will then have $1,387.45. He can own a farm when other boys are still working for wages.

CAPITAL AND RESERVES $32,000,000
TOTAL RESOURCES $478,000,000

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children need to be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

CURTAILMENT OF BIG GAME SEASON

The curtailing of the open season for hunting big game in New Brunswick, which is understood to have been under consideration by the Government, is opposed by the New Brunswick Guides' Association.

THE TIME THEY MISSED IT

Londoners are shy of gold-brick sellers but they miss chances occasionally. To settle a bet, Fred Barnes, well-known London music-hall comedian, stood for five minutes in busy Trafalgar Square offering genuine one pound notes for sale at two pence each. He sold one.

Mark Twain of Canada

In the days when interesting people came to Canada to find it freshly interesting there was no body could reveal the spirit of the land to them like George Ham of the C.P.R. It is said he put Major Foot of the United States out of business. Why go on a wearisome lecture tour under that impressario's guidance when a George Ham could transport you to Winnipeg and on through the delights of the Rockies in all the comfort of a spacious coach? Great personages beseech him to call them by their first names. He has loaned matches to kings and potentates and autographed photographs of his features for admiring authoresses of best sellers. There did once seem to be a time when the truly great would not venture to come to Canada without first ascertaining whether George Ham could receive them. He is said to have got so "fed up" with dukes and royal bodies that he did not mind, for a change, escorting untitled personalities of international fame. Many men whose signatures command imperious power would no more think of forgetting to send him their Christmas cards than they would dream of neglecting a royal command. He is so very much personae grata with all kinds of people in Who's Who, when he arrives in London the court circular has to be enlarged to publish the invitations issued in his honor. Now he has achieved the signal honor of an unpaid-for mention in the exclusive Morning Post. It feels relieved to know that even if the League of Nations be jeopardized, the official entertainer of the C. P. R. is keeping his health and revelling in his high spirits. This bright though aristocratic London paper says George Ham is the Mark Twain of Canada. It claims his jests are beyond computation. He will yet go down to fame as having originated one joke. He has been as generous with his humor as he has been a profitable acquaintance for professional joke-smiths. As he never has patented any of his inimitable quips he often laughs at them when he hears them on the stage, until he realizes that they were of his own making. You may have heard of the Cincinnati millionaire he took to Muskoka. While there the plutocrat was attacked by brigands from Toronto. The chief brigand later complained to the police that in the encounter his watch and chain had been stolen. It should be added that George Ham was not out with his Cincinnati charge when the watch and chain were stolen. Thousands of personages who have enjoyed seeing Canada have testified to how much their enjoyment was due to his kindly wit and indefatigable attention. They have paid tribute to the courtesies he knows so well how to extend in behalf of his railway. But perhaps one of the best tributes ever paid this incomparable humorous elf-omponent of the railway ties, was a copy of verses by Mr. Neil Munro, the Scottish author. He sang how George Ham had "freighted laughter ten thousand miles," when acting as uncle, aunt, brother, father and grandfather to a party of British scribes. They think in Britain that not to have known George Ham of the C. P. R. is to display ignorance of the Empire's geography.

Bow-Legged Men Best Husbands

New York, April 13—Bow-legged men make the best husbands, while the worst life mate in all the world is the bald-headed male, according to Mrs. Amsterdam Schmidt, of the Bronx, who writes to a local newspaper boasting of the fact that she walked up the centre aisle to the altar with three specimens of the opposite sex. Mrs. Schmidt admits that barbers make simply awful life companions. Mrs. Schmidt declares with a sting that the man who first won her hand in marriage was a "bum" who she said, when not idly playing the banjo during the day, "was never working, shooting craps and getting drunk."

"In the first place," says Mrs. Schmidt, in her verbal barrage, "bald headed men fly around with other men's wives, bust up happy homes and leave a string of broken hearts in their wake, the scoundrels."

"All worthless, foolish women are crazy over worthless, shiftless, bald-headed men; believe me, they are a good match," she continued. "My second venture was a bald-headed man, and although the insurance was small, thank God he has gone to a place where he belongs."

"Ah the bow-legged man," writes Mrs. Schmidt in her letter, and it is evident she heaved a deep sigh at this point, for the pen ran across the length of the page and ended with a blot.

"They make the finest hubbies in all the universe. They are the best and most loving life mates. My third has bow-legs, God bless him, he is an angel, a perfect saint, but by no means a perfect 34. Girls, take my advice and only say 'yes' to the eternal question when the sutor for your hand in marriage has legs that would not stop a pig in an alley."

Mothers' Advice

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl. When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with headaches, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side, aching so I did not know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. F. FROST, 515 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.
