INPERILLED LIVES.

Thrilling and Trying Experience Men Imprisoned by the Storm.

Men Imprisoned by the Storm.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—A thrilling scene was enacted yesterday three miles out in the lake opposite Twelfth street. The storms of the last few days have made the lake very rough. At the point indicated contractors are sinking a heavy iron caisson to serve as an inlet for a new water supply tunnel. A wooden crib surmounts it, and on Wednesday the heavy waves began to break off the board covering it. There were ten men at work in the caisson. Three tugs were sent out Wednesday, and after working all day succeeded in rescuing four men. In a lower tower above the crip is a stove. This tower can accommodate only two persons at a time, and all Wednesday night and part of yesterday the six remaining men took turns at warming and drying themselves at this stove and then decending to the crib, where they became soaked and ice-covered.

rice-covered.

Tugs were sent to their rescue, but could not get at them. Then the Government life-boat was tried, with no better success. Finally Superintendent Sanger decided to risk everything dent Sanger decided to risk everything in behalf of the imperilled lives, and after two and a half hours of heroic and hazardous work took off four men. The other two declined to take the chances of a leap into the tug, seeing how their companions were buffeted, and as there was room in the little tower for both of them, they were left there for the night. This morning a tug was sent out and they were taken off.

A large gathering witnessed the departure of the aldermanic excursion, comprising the Mayor, eighteen aldermen and delegates of the Harbor Commission and Board of Trade. The World accompanied the party to St. Martin's Junction. Some of the party gave him the impression that it was their first trip, and as Alderman Prefontaine said, the trip will greatly tend to efface from the minds of the aldermen the notion that Montreal has the fluest harbor, finest accommodation, fluest streets, finest buildings, finest police and fire forces in America. The party is in charge of the genial and energetic George J. Bury, of the C.P.R., and will return Dec. 5.

WOODSTOCK STARTLED.

By the Suicide of a Well-known Livery Keeper

Woodstock, Ont., Nov. 29.—The town was startled to-day to hear the awful news that W. R. Baskerville had hanged himself at his home in Burford township. The startling intelligence was brought to town by a relative, and in a very few minutes it was in every body's mouth along the streets. For many years "Billy" Baskerville ran the livery stable on Graham street, and there were few better known men in Woodstock than he. Last spring he disposed of his business here and removed to his farm in Burford, Brant county. For some time he has been known to be in great trouble over his wife's mental condition. Latterly, it is stated, he was in financial difficulties. He was in very poor health for the past year, caused more or less from an immense amount of worry occasioned by the amount of worry occasioned by the combination of circumstances noted above, and this no doubt urged him on to the awful deed. He was a man about 40 years of age and of a very quiet disposition. He leaves a wife and a young family, LUCAN, Nov. 29.—It will be remembered that on the night of the 11th inst. the barn and out buildings belonging to John Kennedy, on the 11th concession of Biddulph, were burned down. Mr. Kennedy, at the time, said the fire was the work of an incendiary, and publicly accused an old man by the name of Dennis Carty as being the cause of the fire, or account being the cause of the fire, on account of which a very bitter feeling was engendered between the parties, which recently culminated in Kennedy recently culminated in Kennedy threatening to take the life of James Carty, a son of the old man Dennis. Pottstown, Pa., Nov. 29.—Yesterday John Chana, a hopeless paralytic, aged 35, was found dead on the floor of his hovel. It is supposed he committed suicide. Until recently Chana was a fine specimen of physical mankood. One day he cursed his creator in a tetrible manner, when he fell over, struck dumb and paralyzed from head to foot. He remained in this condition until death.
