LONDON, To-day. The 'Outlook' contains editorials pitterly attacking the Foreign Office n account of the report that Sir ionel Carden, British Minister to Mexico, is to be removed from his present post and transferred to the egation in Brazil. The transfer, the Outlook' says, has been semi-officialy confirmed at Washington, to which place we must now turn for the eariest news of British diplomatic movenents. The report of Carden's transer from Mexico wears a sinister ook. The probability is that the renoval of the British representative o Brazil or elsewhere may not take place immediately, but when the nind of the public has been duly repared for the step, we expect to nd that our apprehension of a most iotable and wanton surrender to an inprincipled foreign intrigue, is fully varranted. We assert that it will be bsolutely calamitous if our Minister Mexico is withdrawn from his post f duty until existing situations in he Latin American Republic has een wholly transformed. The article then pleads for the retention of arden in Mexico, saying now is the ime when he is greatly needed, esecially when because of the action of he States, millions of dollars of ritish capital are wasting away, nd when danger menaces the Britsh name and fame in the eyes of the eople with whom they long have tood prominent. The 'Outlook' expresses the belief that the report of ir Lionel's transfer did not lask fir Lionel's transfer did not leak, and advances the opinion that rela-ions between the States and Britain vill not be improved by a temporary nfirmity in our Foreign Office. In onclusion, the articles say, that ireat Britain still retains her rights, hough they may remain in abeyance short time longer, while the present

The Lost Submarine

NOT YET FOUND-CREW BELIEV-ED TO HAVE PERISHED. special to Evening Telegram.

PLYMOUTH, Eng., To-day. prising the crew of the British Sub-marine Boat are trapped in their craft eneath the waters of White Sand Bay about five miles Southwest Plymouth Whether the men are dead or alive is not yet established, but Navy officials them perished. The exact spot when the little vessel sank has not been de finitely fixed. Another submarine wen down, put out grappling irons, and dragged the Bay all the afternoon un-til darkness set in, but the efforts were fruitless. The grappling operat on begin again at daybreak. The nope is the Submarine will be found. A boat capable of lifting her to the op of the water has been ordered to White Sand Bay. The (A. 7) was in charge of Lieut. Welman, who had as Aide another officer and a number of seamen aboard making a first trip in submarine. The cause of the ac-

was caused when the accident occured by the announcement that (A. 7) went down at Sawsand Bay, Western shore of Plymouth Sound and that the Depot Ship, Onyx, had succeeded in getting into communication with the submerged men. This confusion was dissipated by a report from the Admiralty that the accident occurred at White Sand Bay which extends from
