The 1925 Industrial Fair.

One of the members of the Parliamentary delegation in referring to the Wembley Exhibition remarked that its value depended not so much upon its success as a financial proposition as upon the influence which it exercised as an educational factor, and in that respect it had succeeded beyond the greatest expectations. The dominions had rubbed shoulders with each other and with the Mother Country, and this close intimacy had resulted in the removal of many misunderstandings, a clearer insight into each others' aims and purposes, and a greater mutual feeling of regard and respect.

Here in Newfoundland there is a great need for some means of closer intercourse between the capital and the other parts of the community, and with the improved transportation facilities available to-day one of the chief difficulties in this direction has been overcome. The next thing is to provide an object which is likely to bring the citizens to the rallying point, and there can be no better incentive than an Industrial Exhibition. Thanks to the enterprise and enthusiasm of Mr. W. A. MacKay and the loyal co-operation of the various promoters of trade and commerce the object is an accomplished fact, and it is particularly gratifying that the Exhibition has become an annual affair.

Last year The Industrial Fair and Exhibition held in the Prince's Rink was such an unqualified success that plans were immediately made at its conclusion for another in 1925. To-day we are glad to announce that not only are all the booths taken up, but that the programme is an even more elaborate one than that of last year.

Starting on the 19th of October, the Exhibition will remain open until the end of the month, and thus, with the special rates of travel which have been arranged on all trains and steamers, everyone who can will be given an opportunity to attend. As a further inducement to visitors the Exhibition is held at a time of the year which is most suitable for shopping, and no doubt many will take advantage of the reduced rates to combine business with pleasure.

We are informed that October 24th will be the Orphans' Day at the Exhibition, when all the children in the various institutions in the city will be the guests of Mr. MacKay. Sometimes it is said that sentiment plays no part in business, but such a generous invitation is evidence to the contrary, and in fact philanthropic acts of this kind are happily by no means uncommon in the business life of the community.

While it is impossible to refer in detail to the numerous exhibits, we are glad to find that the fishing industry will be conspicuously displayed. The fresh fish business, of which we are convinced the future holds wonderful possibilities, will be exhibited by Messrs. Job Bros., and an interesting show of the cured article, which will comprise local specimens and others prepared by our competitors has been arranged by Mr. G. M. Barr. In no better way can we be made to realize our failings or to discover wherein we excel than by such a comparison, and there is no mistaking the fact that the spirit of the community is without question progressive.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR SORE BACK.

His Grace the Archbishop OPENS NEW SCHOOL AT MAJOR'S PATH.

His Grace the Archbishop formally opened and blessed the new school at Major's Path, Portugal Cove Road, on Sunday evening last, 27th Sept.

Sunday, Sept. 27th will ever be a memorable one in the annals of the beautiful countryside of Major's Path and Cove Road. For the past few years the problem of building a new school had been receiving the earnest attention of the priest of the place, but more pressing needs of a new church in Portugal Cove made it impossible till the present year. In consultation with His Grace the Archbishop and with his generous help the superb country residence of Mr. Barker with its gardens and park-like grounds were purchased this autumn, and with necessary changes in the interior it is now a first-class High School which easily accommodates 50 pupils. How great, then, the joy of the children and people was on the arrival of the Archbishop and party on Sunday evening cannot well be described. A very fine triumphal arch of evergreens and display of bunting gave additional color to the surroundings. Over the portico of the new building a very artistic picture of St. Theresa, the Little Flower patroness of the new school, was displayed. This picture was generously donated by Mrs. W. Hall. The formal ceremony of opening was begun at 5 o'clock. On the platform with the Archbishop were Rev. Mr. McDermott, V.G., Very Rev. J. F. Pippy, P.P., Rev. T. J. Gough, P.P., Dr. V. P. Burke, Deputy Minister of Education, and Alex Hall, member of the Board of Education. The children's address was read by Miss Mary Dunn, senior pupil, and Master Alphonsus Buckle of the infant school presented a magnificent bouquet of roses.

His Grace's address to the people and children was given in his own masterly style. Dr. Burke was the next speaker and from his experience of twenty-five years at the head of the Educational Department we expected to hear something good, and we were not disappointed. The Pastor, Rev. T. J. Gough, briefly thanked the Archbishop and visitors, and the lusty cheers of the men left no doubt of the hearty reception. The party were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, at Majordale at 6 o'clock. This a new educational venture has been successfully launched.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

Sept. 30th.—Comes Povey to-day and bids me be ready to go a-shooting with him to-morrow, being that he has a 2 day vacation and would tramp the Rensselaers. Indeed, I may ill afford the time to go with him, yet am in great need of a change and do decide to go with him. My wife in a great rage, saying how she will not be left alone, and cries out on me for leaving her, but I did pay little heed to the wretch, knowing full well that her outwring is but contrariness. Anon abroad and meeting Balie, he tells me how Judge Morris do give his judgement on one of the complaints against Sir R. Squires about his income tax, and a fine of $1000 is imposed. I learn also how the prosecution will proceed on 6 other complaints, and that the case is like to go to the Supreme Court for argument. Busy all this afternoon settling my accounts for the month and find myself in an ill state, being that I do owe more than I have, and my spending has twice my earnings. So do register an oath that I will forego smoking for 3 months, and will drink no liquors save what are given me at no cost to myself. So I do hope to have my finances in better shape for next month. Home betimes and to bed, having much to do to-morrow if I will go a-shooting as I do intend.

Date: Friday, Oct. 2nd. Place: Prince of Wales Rink. Time: 8 p.m. ? Carnival. Will you be there? Sure.—oct.1

Supreme Court OPENS FOR FALL TERM.

The fall term of the Supreme Court opened this morning at 11 o'clock with the Grand Jury present. The Constabulary, under Superintendent O'Neill, lined up in front of the Court House, and gave the salute to the Hon. the Chief Justice, Sir William Horwood, and the Hon. Mr. Justice Kent, as they passed in.

After the Jury had been sworn they were addressed by the Chief Justice on a bill of indictment, charging one Gertrude Ashley with perjury, in connection with an enquiry into a fire which destroyed the residence of J. Harding, Mundy Pond Rd., in January last. The accused was a witness at the enquiry which was held in February, before Mr. McCarthy, J.P.

A second indictment, charging bigamy, was also given to the jury to consider. The accused, whose maiden name was Shute, is alleged to have married W. L. Voke, at Whitbourne, in May, 1920 and in May, 1925, under the alias of Violet Travers, to have gone through a marriage service at Coley's Point, with a man named Norman.

The jury retired at 11.45 to consider the indictments.

Splendid Building Operations IN THE PARISH OF BARHAVEN.

Special to Evening Telegram.

HR. BUFFETT, Sept. 30.
Rev. Francis Caccola announced to the people this evening that the very pretty school would be ready to be declared opened for the children on Columbus Day, Oct. 12th, and at Port Royal the neat little Church of St. Christopher, Arnold's Cove Station, on Sunday, Oct. 19. These buildings were designed and the constructions supervised by the priest himself. The large and commodious new school at Long Hr. Centre is open and in charge of excellent teachers. The new church of the Holy Angels and new school at Crawley's Island are nearing completion. The new school at Bruley will be ready to admit the children at the beginning of the New Year. The Church of the Sacred Heart at Bruley is now really a new building, in consequence of the many improvements made there. At Indian Harbour, St. Raymond's Church and school are in course of construction. Some nice additions are being introduced in the magnificent church of St. Francis Xavier, Barhaven. At Iona the new church there is completed and ready for the painter's brush. With all these grand improvements, Barhaven Parish stands to-day with its 24 stations permanently the strongest financially in the Colony of Newfoundland.

Nfld. Representatives for Halifax

O'TOOLE, BELL, G. STONE AND J. RALPH WILL COMPETE.

The Committee in charge of the local sweepstake on the Halifax Road Race, met yesterday and decided to send a representative team of four runners to Halifax, to compete in the Halifax Herald's annual 10-mile race, which takes place at that city on Saturday, Oct. 17th. After careful consideration the Committee decided in selecting Ronald O'Toole, John Bell, Gower Stone, and Jake Ralph, as the best runners obtainable, to go forward with Mr. Eric Robertson, as trainer. The four above mentioned runners played a prominent part in the long distance running at season. They are well conditioned athletes and with the extra training between now and the date set for the big race, we feel confident that they will be well able to hold their own with all outside contenders. This is the first time that the runners as a team from Newfoundland will compete, and with the experience already gained by O'Toole and Bell, who have already travelled the course, and with the confidence placed in Stone and Ralph, the team as a whole will prove strong contenders for the special club prize. With Victor McAnulty out of the race, this year, anything is likely to happen, and it would not be a surprise for a Newfoundland runner to be hailed as the victor. The team will leave for Halifax by the Rosalind on Saturday week, October 10th. Arrangements have already been made for reservations at the Y.M.C.A., while the entry list was called to W. J. Ahearn, Sporting Editor of the Halifax Herald, last night. They will run under N.A.A.A. colors. The Sweepstake Committee have received the full sanction of the N.A.A.A. to send them forward, besides giving them the necessary credentials. During the next week the runners will undergo hard training. Col. Rendell having given the use of the C.I.B. Armoury for the purpose. It is hoped that the athletes will be favored with fine weather before leaving, as it is necessary to get as much practice as possible over the road. They will be handicapped in this respect after their arrival in Halifax, as they will only have a short time before the race.
