Talmage Talks About His Tour in Palestine.

The Visit to Calvary—Mount Moriah— The Mosque of Omar—Sights from the Housetop.

Brooklyn, Oct. 12.—This morning Dt. Talmage delivered his third sermon on his recent tour in Palestine. Text: "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her eunning."—Pasim, exxxvii. 5. Paralysis of his beat hand, the withering of its muscles and nerves, is here invoked if the author allows to pass out of mind the grandures of the Holy City where once he dwelt. Jeremish, seated by the River Euphrates, wrote this pasim and not David. Afraid I am of anything that approaches imprecation, and yet I can understand how any one who has ever been at Jerusalem should, in enthusiasm of soull cry out, whether he be sitting by the Euphrates, or the Hudson or the Thames, "if I fonget thee, O Jerusalem, may my right hand forget her cunning!" The city is unlike all others for topography, for history, for significance, for style of population, for waterworks, for ruins, for towers, for domes, for ramparts, for literature, for tragedies, for memorable birth-places, for supulchres, for conflagrations and famines, for victories and defeats. I am here at last in this very Jerusalem and on a house-top, just after the dawn of the morning of Dec. 3, with an old inhabitant to point out the salient features of the am here at last in this very Jerusalem and on a bouse-top, just after the dawn of the morning of Dec. 3, with an old inhabitant to point out the salient features of the seenery, "Now," I said, "Where is Mount Zion?" "Here at your right." "Where is Mount Olivet?" 'In front of where you stand." "Where is the Garden of Gethsemane?" 'In yonder valley," "Where is Mount Calvary?" Before he answered, H saw it. No unprejudiced mind can have a moment's doubt as to where it is. Yonder I see a hill in the shape of a human skull and the Bible says that Calvary was the "place of a skull." Not only is it akull-shaped, but just beneath the forchead of the hill is a cavern that looks like eyeless sockets. Within the grotto under it, is the shape of the inside of a skull. Then the Bible says that Christ was crucified outside the gate, and this is outside the gate. The Saviour's assassination took place besides thoroughfare along which people went "wagging their heads," and there is the ancient thoroughfare. All recent travelers agree that this place was without doubt, the scene of the most terrific and overwhelming tragedy this planet ever witnessed.

G. Lamentations. The grotto is 30 feet night of Lamentations. The grotton is 30 feet night of Lamb, on a bull of Calvary, Juse water prough to contain three crosses. As I opened the nineteenth chapter of John to read, a chill blast struck the hill and a cloud shovered, the natural solemnity increasing the spiritual solemnity. I read a little, but broke down. I defy any emotional Christian man sitting upon Golgotha to read aloud and with unbroken voice, or with any voice at all, the whole of that account in Luke and John, of which these sentences are a fragment: "They took Jesus and led him away, and he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the Place of a Skull, where they crucified him and two others with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst"; "Behold thy mother?" "If thirst"; "This day shalt thou he with me in Paradise", "Father, forgive them; they know not what they do"; "If it be possible, let this cup pass from me." What sight, what sobs, what tears, what tempests of sorrow, what surging oceans of agony in those utterances!

While we sat there the whole some came before us. All around the top and the sides, and the foot of the hill, a mob rages. They gnash their teeth and shake their clenched fiest at him. Here the cavalry horses champ their bits and paw the cartle and snork at the smell of the carnage. Yonder a group of gamblers are pitching up as to who shall have the coat of the dying Saviour, Thare are women almost dead with grief among the crowd, his mother and his aunt, and some whose sorrows he had comforted, and whose guilt he had pardoned. Here a man dips a sponge into sour wine, and by a stick litts it to the hot, and cracked lips. The hemorrhage of the five wounds has done its work. The atmospheric conditions are such as the world saw never before or since. It was not a solar eclipse, such as astronomers record or we ourselves have seen. It was the heavenment of the heavens! Darker!

record or we ourselves have seen. It was the bereavement of the heavens! Darker! Until the towers of the temple were no longer visible. Darker! Until the surrounding hills disappeared, Darker! Until the inscription above the middle cross became illegible. Darker! Until the chin of the dying Lord falls upon the breast, and he sighed with this last sigh, the words, "It is finished!"

the words, "It is finished?"

As we sat there, a silence took possession of us and we thought; this is the center from which continents have been touched, and all the world shall yet be moved. Toward this hill the prophets pointed forward. Toward this hill the apostles and martyrs pointed backward. To this all heaven pointed downward. To this with foaming excerations perdition pointed upward. Round it circles all history, all time, all eternity, and with this seen painters have covered the mightiest canvas, and sculptors cut the richest marble, and orchestras rolled their grandest oratorios, and churches lifted their greatest dexologies, and heaven built its highest thrones.

But we must hasten back to the city.

ologies, and heaven built its highest thrones.

But we must hasten back to the city. Stop here and see a startling proof of the truth of prophecy. In Jeremiah, xxxi, 40th verse, is is said that Jerusalem shall be built through the ashes. What ashes, people have been asking? The meaning has been recently discovered. Jerusalem is now being builts out in a certain direction where the ground has been submitted to chemical analysis, and it has been found to be the ashes cast out from the sacrifices of the ancient temple, ashes of wood and of bones of animals, accumulation of centuries of sacrifices. It has taken all these thousands of years to discover what Jeremiah meant when he said, "Behold the days shall come, saith the Lord, that the city shall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel unto the gate of the corner, and the whole valley of the dead bodies and of the ashes." One handful of that ashes on which they are building is enough to prove the divinity of the Scriptures, enough to prove the divinity of the Scriptures, Explorers have been digging, and they have found 75 feet beneath the surface the corner stone of the ancient temple, laid by Solomon 3,000 years ago. Yonder from a depth of 40 feet a signet ring has been brought up inscribed with the words "Haggai, the Son of Shebmaiah," showing it belonged to the prophet Haggai, and to that seal ring he refers in his prophecy, saying "I will make thee as a signet?" Further on, look at the pillars on which Mount Moriah was built. You know that the mountain was too small for the temple, and so they built the mountain out on pillars, and I saw eight of those pillars, each one strong enough to hold a mountain. Here we enter the Mosque of Omar, a throne of Mohammedanism, where we must put on slippers before we take a step further, lest our feet pollute the sacred places. Yonde is a curve of stone which is part of a bridge which once reached from Mount Moriah to Mount Zion, and over it David walked or rode to prayers in the temple. Here is the walling-place of the Jews, where for centuries during the day time whole generations of the Jews have stood, putting their heads or lips against the wall of what was once Solomon's temple. It was one of the saddest and most takering of invoked if mind the se once in the wall of what was once Solomon's temple. It was one of the saddest and most the wall of what was once Solomon's temple. It was one of the saddest and most solemn and impressive scenes I ever witnessed to see scores of these decendants of Abraham, with tears rolling down their checks, and lips trembling with emotion, a book of pealms open before them, be wailing the ruin of the ancient temple and the captivity of their race, and crying to God for the restoration of the temple. But I must get back to the housest particular their see that the city was built for military safety. It stands on a hill 2,600 feet above the level of the sca, and deep ravines on three sides do the work of military trenches. Compact as no other for literature of the scan, and deep ravines on three sides do the work of military trenches. Compact as no other may round, and the three ancient towers, hippicus, Phasacius, Marianne, frowing death upon the approach of all enemies. There is stood, covering nineteen acres, and 10,000 workmen had been 46 years in build, in front of the saddes and the captivity of their race, and the captivity of their race, and the captivity of the race, and the captivity of the sion of Monammedans, under Saladin Against him came the armies of Europe under Richard Cœur de Lion, King of England; Philip Augustus, King of France Tancreed, Raymond, Godirey and othe valiant men, marching on through fevers, an Ingues, and battle charges, and sufficients, as intense as the world ever saw With all the world looking on, the armic of Europe come within sight of Jerusales.

century greater than all those of the past centuries put together. A crusade in which you and I will march. A crusade without weapons of death, but only the Sword of the Spirit. A crusade that will make not a single wound, nor start one tear of distress, nor incendiarize one homestead. A crusade of Gospel Peace! And the Cross again be lifted on Calvary, not as once an instrument of pain, but a signal of invitation, and the Mosque of Omar shall give place to a Church of Christ, and Mount Zion become the dwelling place not of David, but of David's Lord, and Jerualem, purified of all its idolatries, and taking of the control of the start of the control of the purished of all its idolatries, and taking the control of the David, but of David's Lord, and derusatem, purified of all its idolatries, and taking back the Christ she once cast out, shall be made a worthy type of that neavenly city which Paul styled "the mother of us all," and which St. John saw, "the holy Jerusalem descending out of heaven from God."
