—Mr. J. C. Lockhart was one of the hardest workers for the local team in the rugby football match against Petrolea. Tuesday. He received some heavy knocks, but thought nothing of his injuries until they became se painful yesterday that he consulted Dr. Jento, who found two ribs broken. Mr. Lockhart will not be able to play again this season.

play again this season The Plumbers' Trade Journal, of New York, dated Oct. 15, 1893, has the follow-York, dated Oct. 15, 1893, has the following to say of one of our local firms: "Enterprising Plumbers—At the World's Fair, Chicago, is seen on exhibition, in the main building, an exhibit of sanitary goods by a Canada firm of plumbers, Smith Bros. of London, Ont. The display is attractively arranged, and reflects great credit upon them. Smith Bros. are very prominent plumbers, having under contracts about 25 new buildings to be plumbed and heated by hot water."

—Through an unfortunate transposition in the report of Wednesday's city police —Through an unfortunate transposition in the report of Wednesday's city police court, it was made to appear that Mr. John D. Pigot had been charged with trespassing and damaging the London Cricket Club grounds. The fact is that Mr. Pigot discovered two boys named Wm. Bonser and John Eyans damaging the cricket club property and grounds, and in order to put a stop to a very bad practice, took action against them. Mr. Pigot did not get home from Chicago till after the magistrate had disposed of the case. The cricket club authorities have been much annoyed by the malicious destruction of their property, and are determined to put down the lawlessness. It is not probable that future delinquents will get clear with a reprimand.

The Stranded British Tournamenters. Nearly $1,400 has been subscribed in New York for the relief of the stranded English, Irish and Scotch soldiers of the British Military Tournament. The New York World says: "Through the efforts of George Crouch, of the St. James Hotel, 351 RICHMOND STREET.]

75 of the destitute soldiers who appeared in the British Military Tournament will sail for home to-day on the Britannic. St. George's Seciety and J. Pierpont Morgan subscribed $500 each, the total being $1,373."

Clara Coleman Saturday Night.

Henry N. Henderson's scenic production of "Nora Machree" will be seen at the Grand to-morrow night. This great romantic play has been received everywhere with unanimous praise, the press and people with one voice stamping it the success of seasons. Its construction is of the most superb stage-craft, and its subject is, and will always remain, deeply sympathetic to the human heart. The arrangement of the play is exquisite, the dialogue pointed and witty, the situation full of interest and dramatic force, and, above all, nothing is overdone—nothing in questionable taste. An air of refinement pervades the entire work, and it will be a welcome addition to successful Irish drama. Clara Coleman Saturday Night. ssful Irish drama

The G. T. R. Smash-Up.

In regard to yesterday's accident on the G. T. R., the Hamilton Times says: The crash occurred right opposite Main's rope walk, and less than 50 yards east of the Mary street bridge. The east-bound special from Chicago left the Stuart street depot but a few minutes before, and had not attained much speed, Conductor Jones, of London, was in charge and the driver was Engineer Wm. Williamson, of Niagara Falls, who had Alex, Mitchell, also of the Falls, as his fireman. Their train had the right of way and a clear track as far as the eye could see, which at that point is several miles. The train on the Northern, due at the King street station at 11:45 o'clock, was just about on time. Where the Northern runs into the G. T. R. main line there is a switch on the inside of The G. T. R. —Messre, R. H. Climic and Wm. Parson, well-known commercial men, have left on business trips to British Columbia and Calgary respectively.

—Dr. McIntyre has purchased the lot on McKeilar street, Glencoe, on which the burned blacksmith shop stood from B. J. Nash, of London, for $250.

—At a late hour last night, Mrs. Smith, who was so badly burned at Mr. Slater's residence through the explosion of a can of kerosene oil, was in a very critical condition.

—Thomes Jamieson, appeared before Squire Lacev on a charge of vagrancy. He was fined $5 and $4 10 costs, but as his funds were low he preferred to spend 21 days in jail.

—Kitty Cheathan, who stars in "Jane," which was played here last night, is be lieved to possess the last authograph Charles Dickens ever penned. She was a visitor at his house a day or two before he died.

Charles Frohman's company of comedians appeared last evening in the farcecomedy of "Jane" at the Grand. It was produced here last season, and many attended last night who witnessed the previous performance. The plot is such a tangle of complications that in the endeavor to urravel it all in the cast are even an equal chance to display their tangle of complications that in the ondeavor to unravel it all in the cast are given an equal chance to display their talents. The company is perhaps better than last year, but then the play is one of those comedies that can be enjoyed even if the company producing it is not exactly up to the standard. Miss Kitty Cheatham assumed the character of Jane and completely captivated her audience. She is chic, vivacious, merry and winning. Heracting is pleasing and natural, not forced or constrained, and at no time does one tire of her bright face. Robert Cotton, as William, was an able support. His tall, slim figure was nearly always upon the stage, and as the downcast husband he was ever ready to take back his own wife Jane. The entire company was commendable. "Chuma," a one-act comedy, was given as a curtain-raiser, and was also very laughable. The following is the cast of "Jane": Charles Shackelton, Mr. Seymour G. Hoss; Mr. Kershaw, Mr. Fer'd Hight; William, Mr. Robert Cotton; Claude, Master Haines; Mr. Pixton, Mr. William Henderson; Lucy Norton, Mr. William Henderson; Lucy Norton, Mr. Sulfus Lizette Le Baron; Mrs. Pixton, Miss Alexandrienne Ramsey; Jane, Miss Kitty Cheatham,
