

London Advertiser.

TWO EDITIONS DAILY - WEEKLY.

Daily, One Year, $3.00
Daily, Six Months, 1.50
Daily, Three Months, .75
Daily, One Month, .25

The London Advertiser will be delivered to any residence or place of business in London without extra charge. Published at Advertiser New Building, 191-193 Dundas street.

Daily, One Year, by mail, $1.50
The Western Advertiser, published every Wednesday. Subscription price, 75 cents per year.

Sample copies of Daily and Weekly sent free.

TELEPHONE CALLS.
Business Office, 107
Editorial Department, 134
Job Department, 175

A complete Job Printing Plant, New Type and New Presses.

LONDON ADVERTISER CO., (Limited).

London, Wednesday, June 17.

The Elections in Germany.

The results of the elections in Germany yesterday have a world-wide interest. They reveal once more the portentous growth of the Socialist movement. At the last general election five years ago the Socialists polled 2,107,100 votes in a total of 7,752,900, or about 27 per cent. It is estimated that yesterday they polled 2,500,000 votes. In 1898 they elected 56 members, and their representation will be increased by 15 or 20 in the new House. The Socialists are the greatest single political party in the country, but they are not represented in the Reichstag in proportion to their numbers. The reason for this is that their strength is drawn from the masses in the cities, where the unit of representation is much larger than in other electoral divisions. The Clericals, who polled 1,133,000 votes in 1898, had 102 members in the last House. The Conservatives, with 900,000 electors, had 53 members. Had the Socialists the same basis of representation they would hold the balance of power. There are ten or twelve parties in the Reichstag, and it commonly takes three or four of these in combination, sometimes five or six, to carry through an important measure. These conditions are continually shifting, but the Socialists, the most compact and aggressive group, are invariably arrayed against the Government and the Kaiser, who is intensely hostile to them. The Socialist party he denounces as "the party of subversion. He openly and actively takes part in the canvass against them. The speaker of Socialism mocks his soaring ambition for the aggrandizement of the Empire. He dreams of making Germany a great maritime and colonial power, while all the time his throne is being steadily undermined. The German Empire may put on an imposing front, but it will be only a shell, if the disintegrating forces of Socialism continue to work and spread in the center of it. This is the greatest problem which the Kaiser has to face. His lordly ways and divine-right conception of monarchy seem to have inspired only resentment among the proletariat.

Uncle Eben.

[Washington Star.]

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "say that honesty is the best policy, and 'den seems puffy to willin' to give their neighbors a monopoly of its advantages."

Come Not in Grief Alone.

[S. E. Kiser.]

Ay, come to me when you are sad, When tears are trembling in your eyes, And I will try to make you glad, To give you laughter for your sighs.

But come not only to bemoan When you have the sorrow in your heart—Come sometimes, too, when grief has flown, And when the days are glad and fair.

High Life

[Punch.]

Two orange-outang and a chimpanzee, we learn from a cable, partook of an eight-course dinner in the New York zoo last week. We presume this is another of the series of banquets by millionaires, of which we are constantly reading. But why do they take these quaint names?

The Things Men Do.

[S. E. Kiser.]

We fool ourselves by saying that we always give worth recognition; The truth is that it all depends Upon the worthy one's position.

If Kipling were some day to sign A silly ode or stupid ditty Reeled off by Alfred Austin, we Would find it full of thrills or witty.

If Austin were to put his name, Some day, below the grandest sonnet That any mortal ever penned, We'd merely heep sarcasm on it.

More Opinion.

[S. E. Kiser.]

A woman never can understand why her husband pays out money for a new hat when it looks just like his old one, anyway.

All men want to laugh, but most of them are generally discouraged because they have been laughed at for one thing or another.

The luckiest man in the world is the one who marries for money and then falls in love with his wife.

Most men would rather win $10,000 on a horse race than to honestly earn it, even if the work were all done.

A Song For June.

[Washington Star.]

Used to sing about the roses; That was long ago; When we shivered through the winter, Struggling with the snow; Now the garden's blooming gaily, Skies are free from storm, But there's a sigh for seasons When it ain't so warm.

Air that's crisp an' stars that twinkle Sharply through the night; Snowflakes through the air a-dancin' Carelessly an' light; Slighthearted jinglin', fireplace roarin' To the north wind's tune; Merry Christmas! Happy New Year! That's the song for June!

Associations of the Bonnet.

[Washington Star.]

Will the coming of the bonnet effect a revolution in manners and morals? What mid-Victorian ideals, what domestic virtues, what rigorous supervision of other people's behavior do we not associate with the word "bonnet"? The "struttings" of our mothers' bonnets played a large part in their mental attitude. In the well-regulated days of the fifties and sixties the hand that tied the bonnet-string ruled the world—London Ladies' Field.

FINANCIAL PANIC HAS SUBSIDED

The Runs on St. Thomas Loan Companies Are Over.

DEPOSITORS ASSURED SECURITY

The Whereabouts of Rowley Still Unknown—The Liquidators Appointed.

St. Thomas, June 24. — The excitement caused by the suspension of the Elgin Loan and Savings Society has been largely allayed, and the runs on the Southern and Southwestern Companies have practically ceased. Manager Stewart of the Southern Loan announced that while a few depositors had withdrawn their money, deposits were coming in. He considers the crisis over, owing to the fact that all demands on Monday were promptly met. "We have the run broken," he said, "and our affairs are in an absolutely safe position."

The above indicates the situation today.

As to the Elgin Loan, there is nothing new to tell, except that the London and Western Trusts Company has been appointed liquidators, and that Mr. Weldon, of that company, is now in charge of the office. Mr. Moore, the manager of the London company, came over this morning and placed Mr. Weldon in charge. Another accountant of the same company will take his place today.

At the meeting of the directors it was thought advisable in the best interests of the company to have the estate wound up and W. K. Cameron, their solicitor, made the application that a liquidator be appointed before Judge Hughes.

There is no news concerning Mr. Rowley, whose whereabouts are still unknown. The amount of his shortings, however, made the application that a liquidator be appointed before Judge Hughes.

MR. ROWLEY'S CAREER.

Mr. Rowley, the manager of the Elgin Company, who has disappeared, is a son of the late Mignon Rowley, a former resident of London, who died there some five years ago. He was born in London fifty-eight years ago, and learned his profession as a telegraph operator under Mr. W. C. Furness, manager of that city. He was appointed manager of the St. Thomas office of the G. N. W. in 1887 and retained that position ever since.

He was owner of several buildings in charge of the affairs of the Elgin Loan, remarkable powers of application, and was one of the leading spirits in the organization of the Elgin Loan, and was chosen as manager. He was very prominent in church circles, being treasurer of the First Methodist Church. He was a member of several different societies in any. He owned his own handsome residence on Wellington street, and a number of other real estate properties beside.

The coming centenary of Wesley's death calls attention to the progress of Methodism. The statistics show that there were in the United Kingdom in 1898, before Wesley's death, 294 itinerant preachers and 71,568 members. In the West Indies, Nova Scotia, and Newfoundland there were 5,350 members. In the United States of America there were 228 itinerant preachers and 57,631 members. This made a total of about 135,000 (134,549) members the year before Wesley's death. In 1898 there was reported a total membership in the various Methodist bodies of 7,659,285 members, with 48,359 ministers, 104,836 local preachers, 7,267,511 Sunday school scholars and church property valued at $300,000,000. Of these immense figures the American Methodist churches have 6,437,481 members, 42,083 ministers, 46,423 local preachers, 5,091,879 Sunday school scholars, and church property valued at $180,000,000. Those who adhere to Methodism are estimated to number 28,018,770, and of these adherents 22,551,113 are credited to the American Methodist congregations.

Uncle Eben.

[Washington Star.]

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "say that honesty is the best policy, and 'den seems puffy to willin' to give their neighbors a monopoly of its advantages."

Come Not in Grief Alone.

[S. E. Kiser.]

Ay, come to me when you are sad, When tears are trembling in your eyes, And I will try to make you glad, To give you laughter for your sighs.

But come not only to bemoan When you have the sorrow in your heart—Come sometimes, too, when grief has flown, And when the days are glad and fair.

High Life

[Punch.]

Two orange-outang and a chimpanzee, we learn from a cable, partook of an eight-course dinner in the New York zoo last week. We presume this is another of the series of banquets by millionaires, of which we are constantly reading. But why do they take these quaint names?

The Things Men Do.

[S. E. Kiser.]

We fool ourselves by saying that we always give worth recognition; The truth is that it all depends Upon the worthy one's position.

If Kipling were some day to sign A silly ode or stupid ditty Reeled off by Alfred Austin, we Would find it full of thrills or witty.

If Austin were to put his name, Some day, below the grandest sonnet That any mortal ever penned, We'd merely heep sarcasm on it.

More Opinion.

[S. E. Kiser.]

A woman never can understand why her husband pays out money for a new hat when it looks just like his old one, anyway.

All men want to laugh, but most of them are generally discouraged because they have been laughed at for one thing or another.

The luckiest man in the world is the one who marries for money and then falls in love with his wife.

Most men would rather win $10,000 on a horse race than to honestly earn it, even if the work were all done.

A Song For June.

[Washington Star.]

Used to sing about the roses; That was long ago; When we shivered through the winter, Struggling with the snow; Now the garden's blooming gaily, Skies are free from storm, But there's a sigh for seasons When it ain't so warm.

Air that's crisp an' stars that twinkle Sharply through the night; Snowflakes through the air a-dancin' Carelessly an' light; Slighthearted jinglin', fireplace roarin' To the north wind's tune; Merry Christmas! Happy New Year! That's the song for June!

Associations of the Bonnet.

[Washington Star.]

Will the coming of the bonnet effect a revolution in manners and morals? What mid-Victorian ideals, what domestic virtues, what rigorous supervision of other people's behavior do we not associate with the word "bonnet"? The "struttings" of our mothers' bonnets played a large part in their mental attitude. In the well-regulated days of the fifties and sixties the hand that tied the bonnet-string ruled the world—London Ladies' Field.

FINANCIAL PANIC HAS SUBSIDED

The Runs on St. Thomas Loan Companies Are Over.

DEPOSITORS ASSURED SECURITY

The Whereabouts of Rowley Still Unknown—The Liquidators Appointed.

St. Thomas, June 24. — The excitement caused by the suspension of the Elgin Loan and Savings Society has been largely allayed, and the runs on the Southern and Southwestern Companies have practically ceased. Manager Stewart of the Southern Loan announced that while a few depositors had withdrawn their money, deposits were coming in. He considers the crisis over, owing to the fact that all demands on Monday were promptly met. "We have the run broken," he said, "and our affairs are in an absolutely safe position."

The above indicates the situation today.

As to the Elgin Loan, there is nothing new to tell, except that the London and Western Trusts Company has been appointed liquidators, and that Mr. Weldon, of that company, is now in charge of the office. Mr. Moore, the manager of the London company, came over this morning and placed Mr. Weldon in charge. Another accountant of the same company will take his place today.

At the meeting of the directors it was thought advisable in the best interests of the company to have the estate wound up and W. K. Cameron, their solicitor, made the application that a liquidator be appointed before Judge Hughes.

There is no news concerning Mr. Rowley, whose whereabouts are still unknown. The amount of his shortings, however, made the application that a liquidator be appointed before Judge Hughes.

MR. ROWLEY'S CAREER.

Mr. Rowley, the manager of the Elgin Company, who has disappeared, is a son of the late Mignon Rowley, a former resident of London, who died there some five years ago. He was born in London fifty-eight years ago, and learned his profession as a telegraph operator under Mr. W. C. Furness, manager of that city. He was appointed manager of the St. Thomas office of the G. N. W. in 1887 and retained that position ever since.

He was owner of several buildings in charge of the affairs of the Elgin Loan, remarkable powers of application, and was one of the leading spirits in the organization of the Elgin Loan, and was chosen as manager. He was very prominent in church circles, being treasurer of the First Methodist Church. He was a member of several different societies in any. He owned his own handsome residence on Wellington street, and a number of other real estate properties beside.

The coming centenary of Wesley's death calls attention to the progress of Methodism. The statistics show that there were in the United Kingdom in 1898, before Wesley's death, 294 itinerant preachers and 71,568 members. In the West Indies, Nova Scotia, and Newfoundland there were 5,350 members. In the United States of America there were 228 itinerant preachers and 57,631 members. This made a total of about 135,000 (134,549) members the year before Wesley's death. In 1898 there was reported a total membership in the various Methodist bodies of 7,659,285 members, with 48,359 ministers, 104,836 local preachers, 7,267,511 Sunday school scholars and church property valued at $300,000,000. Of these immense figures the American Methodist churches have 6,437,481 members, 42,083 ministers, 46,423 local preachers, 5,091,879 Sunday school scholars, and church property valued at $180,000,000. Those who adhere to Methodism are estimated to number 28,018,770, and of these adherents 22,551,113 are credited to the American Methodist congregations.

Uncle Eben.

[Washington Star.]

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "say that honesty is the best policy, and 'den seems puffy to willin' to give their neighbors a monopoly of its advantages."

Come Not in Grief Alone.

[S. E. Kiser.]

Ay, come to me when you are sad, When tears are trembling in your eyes, And I will try to make you glad, To give you laughter for your sighs.

But come not only to bemoan When you have the sorrow in your heart—Come sometimes, too, when grief has flown, And when the days are glad and fair.

High Life

[Punch.]

Two orange-outang and a chimpanzee, we learn from a cable, partook of an eight-course dinner in the New York zoo last week. We presume this is another of the series of banquets by millionaires, of which we are constantly reading. But why do they take these quaint names?

The Things Men Do.

[S. E. Kiser.]

We fool ourselves by saying that we always give worth recognition; The truth is that it all depends Upon the worthy one's position.

If Kipling were some day to sign A silly ode or stupid ditty Reeled off by Alfred Austin, we Would find it full of thrills or witty.

If Austin were to put his name, Some day, below the grandest sonnet That any mortal ever penned, We'd merely heep sarcasm on it.

More Opinion.

[S. E. Kiser.]

A woman never can understand why her husband pays out money for a new hat when it looks just like his old one, anyway.

All men want to laugh, but most of them are generally discouraged because they have been laughed at for one thing or another.

The luckiest man in the world is the one who marries for money and then falls in love with his wife.

Most men would rather win $10,000 on a horse race than to honestly earn it, even if the work were all done.

A Song For June.

[Washington Star.]

Used to sing about the roses; That was long ago; When we shivered through the winter, Struggling with the snow; Now the garden's blooming gaily, Skies are free from storm, But there's a sigh for seasons When it ain't so warm.

Air that's crisp an' stars that twinkle Sharply through the night; Snowflakes through the air a-dancin' Carelessly an' light; Slighthearted jinglin', fireplace roarin' To the north wind's tune; Merry Christmas! Happy New Year! That's the song for June!

Associations of the Bonnet.

[Washington Star.]

Will the coming of the bonnet effect a revolution in manners and morals? What mid-Victorian ideals, what domestic virtues, what rigorous supervision of other people's behavior do we not associate with the word "bonnet"? The "struttings" of our mothers' bonnets played a large part in their mental attitude. In the well-regulated days of the fifties and sixties the hand that tied the bonnet-string ruled the world—London Ladies' Field.

FINANCIAL PANIC HAS SUBSIDED

The Runs on St. Thomas Loan Companies Are Over.

DEPOSITORS ASSURED SECURITY

The Whereabouts of Rowley Still Unknown—The Liquidators Appointed.

St. Thomas, June 24. — The excitement caused by the suspension of the Elgin Loan and Savings Society has been largely allayed, and the runs on the Southern and Southwestern Companies have practically ceased. Manager Stewart of the Southern Loan announced that while a few depositors had withdrawn their money, deposits were coming in. He considers the crisis over, owing to the fact that all demands on Monday were promptly met. "We have the run broken," he said, "and our affairs are in an absolutely safe position."

The above indicates the situation today.

As to the Elgin Loan, there is nothing new to tell, except that the London and Western Trusts Company has been appointed liquidators, and that Mr. Weldon, of that company, is now in charge of the office. Mr. Moore, the manager of the London company, came over this morning and placed Mr. Weldon in charge. Another accountant of the same company will take his place today.

At the meeting of the directors it was thought advisable in the best interests of the company to have the estate wound up and W. K. Cameron, their solicitor, made the application that a liquidator be appointed before Judge Hughes.

There is no news concerning Mr. Rowley, whose whereabouts are still unknown. The amount of his shortings, however, made the application that a liquidator be appointed before Judge Hughes.

MR. ROWLEY'S CAREER.

Mr. Rowley, the manager of the Elgin Company, who has disappeared, is a son of the late Mignon Rowley, a former resident of London, who died there some five years ago. He was born in London fifty-eight years ago, and learned his profession as a telegraph operator under Mr. W. C. Furness, manager of that city. He was appointed manager of the St. Thomas office of the G. N. W. in 1887 and retained that position ever since.

He was owner of several buildings in charge of the affairs of the Elgin Loan, remarkable powers of application, and was one of the leading spirits in the organization of the Elgin Loan, and was chosen as manager. He was very prominent in church circles, being treasurer of the First Methodist Church. He was a member of several different societies in any. He owned his own handsome residence on Wellington street, and a number of other real estate properties beside.

The coming centenary of Wesley's death calls attention to the progress of Methodism. The statistics show that there were in the United Kingdom in 1898, before Wesley's death, 294 itinerant preachers and 71,568 members. In the West Indies, Nova Scotia, and Newfoundland there were 5,350 members. In the United States of America there were 228 itinerant preachers and 57,631 members. This made a total of about 135,000 (134,549) members the year before Wesley's death. In 1898 there was reported a total membership in the various Methodist bodies of 7,659,285 members, with 48,359 ministers, 104,836 local preachers, 7,267,511 Sunday school scholars and church property valued at $300,000,000. Of these immense figures the American Methodist churches have 6,437,481 members, 42,083 ministers, 46,423 local preachers, 5,091,879 Sunday school scholars, and church property valued at $180,000,000. Those who adhere to Methodism are estimated to number 28,018,770, and of these adherents 22,551,113 are credited to the American Methodist congregations.

Uncle Eben.

[Washington Star.]

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "say that honesty is the best policy, and 'den seems puffy to willin' to give their neighbors a monopoly of its advantages."

Come Not in Grief Alone.

[S. E. Kiser.]

Ay, come to me when you are sad, When tears are trembling in your eyes, And I will try to make you glad, To give you laughter for your sighs.

But come not only to bemoan When you have the sorrow in your heart—Come sometimes, too, when grief has flown, And when the days are glad and fair.

High Life

[Punch.]

Two orange-outang and a chimpanzee, we learn from a cable, partook of an eight-course dinner in the New York zoo last week. We presume this is another of the series of banquets by millionaires, of which we are constantly reading. But why do they take these quaint names?

The Things Men Do.

[S. E. Kiser.]

We fool ourselves by saying that we always give worth recognition; The truth is that it all depends Upon the worthy one's position.

If Kipling were some day to sign A silly ode or stupid ditty Reeled off by Alfred Austin, we Would find it full of thrills or witty.

If Austin were to put his name, Some day, below the grandest sonnet That any mortal ever penned, We'd merely heep sarcasm on it.

More Opinion.

[S. E. Kiser.]

A woman never can understand why her husband pays out money for a new hat when it looks just like his old one, anyway.

All men want to laugh, but most of them are generally discouraged because they have been laughed at for one thing or another.

The luckiest man in the world is the one who marries for money and then falls in love with his wife.

Most men would rather win $10,000 on a horse race than to honestly earn it, even if the work were all done.

A Song For June.

[Washington Star.]

Used to sing about the roses; That was long ago; When we shivered through the winter, Struggling with the snow; Now the garden's blooming gaily, Skies are free from storm, But there's a sigh for seasons When it ain't so warm.

Air that's crisp an' stars that twinkle Sharply through the night; Snowflakes through the air a-dancin' Carelessly an' light; Slighthearted jinglin', fireplace roarin' To the north wind's tune; Merry Christmas! Happy New Year! That's the song for June!

Associations of the Bonnet.

[Washington Star.]

Will the coming of the bonnet effect a revolution in manners and morals? What mid-Victorian ideals, what domestic virtues, what rigorous supervision of other people's behavior do we not associate with the word "bonnet"? The "struttings" of our mothers' bonnets played a large part in their mental attitude. In the well-regulated days of the fifties and sixties the hand that tied the bonnet-string ruled the world—London Ladies' Field.

New Goods! New Store!

KINGSMILL'S

The Best Possible Value for Your Money.

SEASONABLE NOVELTIES.

Twenty different designs, in very effective Guipure Lace, 18 inches wide. Colors, Paris, Chartreuse, White, suitable for Yokes, Fronts, Waists, Side Panels. Price..... 75c

Venetian Lace, 18 inches wide. Colors, Paris and White, for Waists, Skirts, Jackets, Berthas, Scarfs, with Lace and Insertion 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 inch to match. Price..... 75c

Valenciennes Lace, 18 inches wide. Colors, White, Cream, Paris, Chartreuse. New designs and very effective. Price..... 75c

Edgings and Insertions to match, ½ to 5 inch. Price..... 25c

New patterns in White Vestings, 30 inches wide. Price..... 25c

Great variety of designs in Lawns, Muslins, Sheer Linens, Organdies, Printed Muslins. The New Paris Linens. Price..... 25c

Warm Weather Goods—Twenty thousand yards of White Laces, every known make and design, all modern widths, from ¼ inch to 6 inches..... Prices, per yard, from 1 Cent to $2.00

Another shipment of those Elegant Lace Collars, in Black, White, Chartreuse, Champagne, Paris..... Prices, each, from 75c to $12.00

Black Voiles, French made, 47 inches wide, one of the very fashionable materials of the day, durable, cool and economic. Price..... 60c

Black Voiles, French made, 48 inches wide, a heavier thread, general effect the same, with more wear. Price..... 80c

Gros Canavas, French made, similar to a Voile, only much heavier mesh, one of the most durable light materials, black, 46 inches wide. Price..... 65c

Black Albatross, French made, all wool, light and durable, not so transparent as a Voile, cool and comfortable, 44 inches wide. Price..... 60c

You can always depend on getting the Best Value for Your Money. Reliable Goods at

Kingsmill's

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Notice—Cushions! Cushions! Feather and Down, from 50 cents up. Goose Feather Pillows, Mattresses, Spring Beds, Brass and Iron Bedsteads, Bed-room Suites, Sideboards, Couches, Chairs and Stoves of all kinds at Hunt & Son's, Mattress and Feather Pillow Manufacturers, 593 Richmond street north. Telephone 397.

For the Denver C. E. Convention. Very low excursion rates have been arranged from all points in Canada to Colorado, leaving July 6, 7 and 8, good for return up to Aug. 31. Everybody can go, the rate is wide open, and this is a splendid opportunity to spend a vacation among the Rockies at slight expense. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway and connections will run special standard first-class and tourist sleeping cars through to Denver, besides the regular daily service from Chicago.

For full information, time tables, pamphlets, rates and sleeping car reservations, write to A. J. Taylor, Canadian Passenger Agent, 8 King street east, Toronto. 14-uc

Leave London at 7:15 p.m. The Michigan Central train leaving London at 7:15 p.m. arrives New York 10 a.m. next morning via New York Central Railway. Through sleeping car from St. Thomas. 23-bk