

SOUTHPAW'S SNAPSHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

Evidently that bunch of hockey players from Watford wanted to stave off the inevitable as long as possible last night, for it was five minutes to 9 o'clock before they appeared on the ice at the Jubilee rink. The university boys were on deck at 8 o'clock, but then perhaps they could foresee what was going to happen. At all events everybody had their revenge, for the visitors' tardiness, for the slaughter of the innocents was "just terrible."

If anybody tells you that Herb McGuffin, who played cover for the college team last night, is "backward about coming forward" when it comes to getting into the thick of the fray, just whisper "lemons" and let it go at that. The big fellow was Bizzy Izzy last night—busy with his stick and busy with his thinker. He should curb that ambition to knock his opponent's vines from in under him. At that referee, who hailed from the quiet village of Watford, only ruled him off once, but then the aforesaid official was too busy looking for a home talent victory to see what was going on in the game.

Inquisitive Maggie—The Watford team dropped out of the O. H. A. because the other teams in that organization were too slow for them.

The Rambler-Seaford contest, which comes off tomorrow night at the Jubilee, promises to be a very good contest. The Ramblers say that Seaford will wish it had never been on the map when they got done with the team of that place, while Seaford sits up and emits two prolonged giggles. "The ideal" say the villagers from the burg with the salt water title. "The very ideal" And there the matter will rest until tomorrow night.

And in the meantime the lonely (?) Hermits are trying to figure out just what will happen to the Saints from St. Thomas when the "Recluses" meet them in combat on Wednesday night. Quite a large number of local philanthropists will journey to the village of saints and railroads on the 7 o'clock wagon on the night in question and contribute their mite to the collection.

The executive of the City Hockey League wishes to announce through these columns that a strong team will be picked from the ranks of the four teams in the league to meet Goderich and other strong clubs at the close of the local schedule. Tabs are being kept on the various players, and those who show up best throughout the season will be the ones selected.

Poor old "Championville." It has a howl coming in earnest, and the Hamilton scribes are taking advantage of the opportunity with a vengeance. The Times' dope artist says: "It is a pity that Saturday was not the beginning of the O. H. A. championship series, instead of the close, so far as Hamilton is concerned. The Tigers are now in fine shape, and would stand a good chance of winning out in the series. They were badly handicapped at the outset, having no ice to practice on."

Pipe the latest. Our own Tommy Burns, he of the punch and broad shoulders, will absolutely hook up in an exhibition bout tomorrow night at Hamilton with John Maher, who poses as a cousin of the yellow-striped Peter Maher. The show will absolutely take place, rain, shine or street car strike, and no butter, eggs or apples will be received at the "opry house" in exchange for tickets.

This thing of forming rival skating, hockey and lacrosse associations is getting to be a chestnut. There are about 'steen of these bodies in Canada now, and everybody connected with sports seems to be either a president, vice-president or secretary of something or another. While it is conceded the C. A. U. is one huge joke (as is the A. A. U. on the other side) it seems to be a senseless move, each one eager to knife the other body. Sport certainly won't be benefited by such business, and the sooner somebody gets the idea worked into their heads the better off Canadian athletics will be.

In connection with this subject it seems as though somebody holding office in the National Lacrosse Union is badly mixed up in his dates, or else the officers of the Athletic Federation have gone astray in their soundings. Mr. Carling, of the former body, is reported as having caused the affiliation of his organization with the new union. The joke is at once apparent, when it is remembered that the N. L. U. is a professional organization, and the other one a supposedly bona fide amateur one. Wonder who's kidding?

BASEBALL STARS FORCED OUT OF THE GAME'S FOUR HUNDRED

New York, Feb. 4.—The coming baseball season will see the departure of the greatest number of one-time stars that the game has ever known.

Of the old-time favorites eight have been relegated to the minors, from whence they came. The baseball public this spring will miss the familiar features of Billy Gifford, Doc Newton, Halme P. Peitz, Joe Kelley, Billy Barbeau, Jim Jackson, Jimmy Sebring and Bob Wicker.

One of these, Barbeau, is a new-comer, having been drafted from Columbus, O., the year that club won the pennant in the American Association, but he made such a hit with the Clevelanders that he became popular all over the American League circuit. The other seven are old-timers, and three years ago you would have been declared insane had you suggested that any one of them would have dropped back into the "brush" in 1907.

But such is the nature of things. The greatest stars eventually fall, and that is what has happened to Gifford, Peitz, Kelley and others. Like all other businesses, baseball depends on the young men for its success, and when the first streaks of gray begin to appear in the end of a player's hair it is the beginning of the end. Of course, there are exceptions, but ten years of service usually puts an end to the usefulness of a diamond knight, no matter how great a star he may be.

SEBRING GETS SYMPATHY.

Jimmy Sebring would probably be able to hold his own in any company but the decision of the baseball commission has sentenced him to the minors for life, and there is no appeal. He made his own bed and consequently must lie upon it. Sebring's case is rather pitiable, and everywhere he is met with sympathy. His crime consisted of leaving the Cincinnati club and signing with an outcast club that he might be close to his sick wife. No one can blame him as a man, but still he broke a baseball law and cannot be forgiven.

The release of Helme Peitz, the veteran catcher of Pittsburgh, to Louisville sounded the first note of warning, and the major league demise of Gifford and Kelley quickly followed.

Gifford announces that his pride will not permit him to go to Newark, as he will quit the game forever. He has bought an interest in the Metropolitan Cafe, in Columbus avenue, and will remain in business permanently.

Joe Kelley, at one time the most famous of all the Baltimore outfielders, has been sold to Toronto. When Kelley was at the zenith of his career he was sent from Baltimore to manage the Cincinnati Reds. That really meant his downfall. Gradually he began slipping from his high estate, and last season Ned Hanlon relieved him as manager. He now goes back to the minors, where his only ambition is to make money.

Bob Wicker, the high-salaried pitcher who for years was so successful with Chicago and who was later sold to Cincinnati in the numerous trades of last year, was next to go. Wicker has been sold to Columbus in the American Association. He insists that he is still good, and says that he will make such a good showing in the minor league that some of the big league managers will have to either purchase or draft him.

Jim Jackson, the once famous outfielder of the Cleveland Blues, will also be missed from the baseball "400." He goes to Columbus also. The Cleveland management believed that Jackson had outlived his usefulness with that club. Dozens of the young recruits who broke into the big league last season have been sent back to their homes, but that is an annual occurrence. The sad feature of the season's opening is the absence of so many one-time stars.

Such are the doings of Father Time.

SKATING.

WILL SKATE IN SMOKY CITY.
Toronto, Feb. 4.—Lot Roe and Fred J. Robson, the skaters, will go to Pittsburgh for the United States skating championships this month. Roe will be sent out after the Canadian records in the half-mile and three-mile distances at some local rink next week.

$75,000 RINK AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—A new skating rink in Ottawa, equaling the size of the Montreal Arena, to replace the Rideau rink, destroyed by fire a week ago, is now assured. Considerable capital is behind the project, the only question remaining to be adjusted being that of a site. Three are in view, and the selection will be made in the course of a few days. The new rink will cost $75,000.

'VARSITY WON IN A GOOD OLD-FASHIONED GAME OF SHINNY

Manner in Which Collegians Handled Watford's Hockey Team Was Shameful.

Booma la ka! Booma la ka! Bow wow wow! Chica la ka, chica la ka! Chow, chow, chow!

No, it wasn't a Kingston earthquake which kept the good people of London awake last night. It was merely those wildly enthusiastic collegians from the Western University rooting their hockey team to victory over the Watford outfit at the Jubilee rink.

And such a din! The Hamilton Rooters' Club can make a little fuss themselves when they get started, but they are as a pack of weak-lunged infants in comparison with their genuine collegi-bred rooter.

At approximately 11:02 o'clock last night eight silent figures hobbled out of the rink and boarded a westbound car on Dundas street. Without a word each one of the bunch dug down in his jeans and shoved a nickel in the slot. Then when the car was fairly on its way, in concert, the silent group heaved one huge sigh of relief. "Thank goodness," they murmured in unison. "We are homebound at last." Needless to say they were the Watford team and the referee.

And the game! Oh, it was a fright! Talk about your good old-fashioned shinny, and you've got it. The college boys were anxious and willing to play hockey, but it was not to be. In reality the game resembled one long procession of goal producing promenades for the collegians.

The Watford forward appeared to be fairly good, but the defense was—well, it could hardly be called a defense. It was a downright shame to set big McGuffin on those visiting innocents.

"Cruelty to youthful ambitions," one spectator put it, and he nearly rang the bell.

And then there was McKay, of the locals. That boy actually looked out of place in that free-for-all scramble. But then everybody knows Mac—that is when he has his proper tag on. He didn't have it last night.

Shortly after Referee Elliott jingled his little bell, McGuffin took a brief rest on the rail for attempting to amputate the lower limbs of one of the visitors.

with his stick. After that Mac tried it over again (a half a dozen times or more), but the man behind the bell didn't see him.

McKay scored the first goal after fifteen minutes of strenuous, but very unscientific hockey.

Abbott followed suit within two minutes, and the score stood 1 to 1.

The Collegians kept the puck hovering around the visitors' goal in real affectionate fashion now, and McGuffin the Big laced in two goals in 19 and 20 minutes, respectively.

A little skirmish on the puck-off, and McKay secured the local fourth tally with but four minutes of the half to play.

Half time score: 'Varsity 4, Watford 1.

The second half began with a rush. McGuffin hitting the puck a la Hans Wagner, and sending it into the visitors' net, after travelling almost two-thirds the distance of the rink.

L. Dadds got too risky at this juncture, and was given a pass to the rail of repentance. Then, just by way of excitement P. Dadds—yes, the whole Dadds family was out for practice.

Then they managed to put a brand new dent in the side of the rink. Dadds the second shortly afterward retired, and Featherstone was sent along to keep him company.

McKay and Maurice Follinsbee worked off a nice combination play after 19 minutes of "follow the leader," and the score stood 6 to 1.

With but five minutes to play, Follinsbee scored another goal, and the kid with the white paint chalked up: W. U. 7, Watford, 1.

As a real hockey contest the game was nil, for science seemed to be an almost unknown quantity.

However, the boys had lots of fun out in that affair, and the fair-sized crowd in attendance seemed fairly well-pleased, so what are the odds if the game was not exactly in the pro league order?

Referee—Elliott, of Watford.

Second Round of O. H. A.; First Games Are Tonight

Postponed Games and Nearly All Ties Settled This Week—Standing of Clubs.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—The first games in the second round of the O. H. A. series will be played tomorrow night, and that leg of the race will be pretty well worked out by the end of the week.

All the postponed games and just about all the ties will be settled.

In local circles St. Michael's College, winners of junior group 2, will play Parkdale, winners of group 4, at the Mutual street rink, on Tuesday and Friday nights. On Thursday night St. Georges II. and the Argonauts will play the last game in their district, which, if St. Georges win, will give the series to Newmarket. In case of a tie, a sudden-death game will settle the district.

Cobourg will go to Port Perry tomorrow night in the second round and play back at home Friday, the winner to take on Smith's Falls later.

Berlin and Paris will meet this week at Paris on Wednesday, and at Berlin Friday, in the second round. The winners will have a few things to say to Goderich probably.

Markdale closes up its junior district at Owen Sound Thursday and the winner will play Collingwood a sudden-death game next Monday, Friday.

Markdale has eleven goals on the round lead on Owen Sound.

Paris will play Ingersoll at Woodstock tonight, and the winner meets Woodstock in Brantford Thursday to settle their tie.

Orangeville is waiting for the St. Georges or Newmarket and Simcoe is sitting tight to see the outcome of the Port Colborne-Welland protest.

The Sudbury group will come together as early as possible, and the victor will interview Paris Sound.

The Marlboroughs object to being grouped with long-distance runs. In a letter today they ask the O. H. A. to allow them to return with the other city clubs to a local series for the first round, on the ground that they cannot possibly get a team away for long trips. If the association cannot grant that they ask that they be grouped in the other section where the runs are shorter.

O. H. A. WILL HAVE TO SETTLE THIS

Picton and Lindsay Can't Agree on Plan to Break Tie for Championship.

Picton, Feb. 4.—The O. H. A. has been asked to settle the dispute between the Picton Junior O. H. A. team and the Belleville team who are tied for the junior district championship.

They cannot agree either on a referee, home-and-home games, or the scene of a sudden-death struggle.

Picton wants Chaucer Elliott to handle the bell, but Belleville will not stand for him. Picton offered to play home-and-home games at Belleville will put a wire net around the rink to prevent spectators reaching out and taking a crack at passing Picton payers.

At the last game in Belleville two Picton players were struck by sticks held by spectators. Belleville will not do this, and Picton wanted to play off at Port Hope. Belleville objected, and desired the final battle at Cobourg. The Picton management could not see Cobourg and suggested Kingston, but the Penitentiary City proposition did not attract the Bary of Queen city team, and they asked the secretary of the Picton team to come to Trenton to toss a coin to decide where the game would be played.

Mr. W. J. Carter could not afford the time to go that far to flip a coin, and the situation was deadlocked. The O. H. A. has the key, and Picton wants it opened this week.

TO BREAK TIE.

Ingersoll, Feb. 4.—To break the tie in the junior district some great hockey is coming. Three teams, Paris, Ingersoll and Woodstock, are on even terms, each with 4 games won and 2 lost. The first play-off takes place in Woodstock tomorrow night, when the locals take on Paris. Ingersoll has a fast aggregation and are right on edge. To beat them Paris will have to go some. A bunch of 75 or more rosters, including Messrs. James, Kibbort, Elliott, Wal, who have been very low as the result of a relapse in pneumonia, is still fighting a plucky battle for life. All last week he was in a decidedly precarious condition, but his unexpected vitality pulled him through, and now he is improved slightly. Today his nurse reports him brighter and stronger.

A POOR GAME.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—In a poor display of hockey Montreal went down before Ottawa at Dey's rink on Saturday night, with a score of 5 to 3. The ice was in a deplorable condition and had been used during the afternoon. The line-up:

Referee—C. Kirby, Ottawa. Judge of play—Russell Bowie, Montreal.

BILLY HEWITT IMPROVES.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—W. A. Hewitt, the secretary of the O. H. A., who has been very low as the result of a relapse in pneumonia, is still fighting a plucky battle for life. All last week he was in a decidedly precarious condition, but his unexpected vitality pulled him through, and now he is improved slightly. Today his nurse reports him brighter and stronger.

THE TURF.

MILLER'S GREAT CHANCE.

New York, Feb. 4.—Jockey Walter Miller has an excellent chance to earn $50,000 this year. James R. Keene, the noted turfman and broker, has secured second call on Miller. That means he can ride the Keene horses whenever the Newcastle stable has no mounts for him in the same race. His salary from these two stables will, it is said, amount to $25,000. Miller is at present riding in California. Continued success there will enable him to earn at least $10,000 before he comes east. Here he will have a chance to pick up the other $15,000 in accepting outside mounts. Of course, much of his money-making power depends on him retaining his present good riding form. Few jockeys have held the crown for two years.

DOPING ALLEGED.

New Orleans, Feb. 4.—An interesting aftermath to the reported betting coup on Gamara, when he won a race on Jan. 31.

TUTHILL TO TRAIN LEWIS.
New York, Feb. 4.—Willie Lewis took a wise step Saturday in preparation for his championship match with the welterweight title holder, Willie Honey Melody, by engaging the services of Harry Tuthill, the trainer of the New York Giants, to fit him for the battle at Valley Falls, R. I., on Feb. 11. Tuthill had charge of Young Corbett when the Denverite was in his prime, and made a great fighter out of him. Lewis is a natural fighter, but he needs the supervising eye of a good athletic trainer to keep him on the road to the pink of conditions.

Jan. 25, developed Saturday, when two of the stable hands that exercised and rubbed Gamara made a complaint to the stewards that the horse had been doped by J. P. Devlin, his trainer, the day he won, and that the stimulant had been withheld in his next out on Jan. 31.

The complaint came as the result of the grievance of the two men because they had not been given their share of the winnings, as promised Gamara is owned by local people, who played him in the Covington poolrooms the day he won. Devlin was called before the stewards and questioned regarding the alleged doping.

He entered a denial and an investigation was ordered.

The complainants were under the influence of drink at the time they made their protest, and for that reason they were ordered to bring in their evidence next week.

FIVE BOOKIES ARRESTED.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 4.—A deputy sheriff and constables arrested five bookmakers today at the Oklahoma race track upon the acceptance of the first bets. The officers say they will continue to make arrests as fast as bets are made. The races opened this afternoon. Five bookies were open at all times, however, for fresh men immediately replaced those arrested.

NEW TWIRLER FOR MISFITS.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Feb. 4.—Word has been received here that Pitcher Archie McCarthy, of this city, has been sold by the Toronto Eastern Club to a Tri-State team, the Ypsilanti Ypsilanti State team, a Ypsilanti State team, and did not play in the New England League, and for a time at Montreal, whence he went to Toronto.

ZIMMER TO UMPIRE.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 4.—President Kavanaugh has received the signature of "Chief" Charles E. Zimmer to a contract to umpire next season in the Southern League. He managed the Little Rock team last season.

TORONTO SELLS A BATTERY.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—Pitcher McCarthy and Catcher Slatery have been sold to a club in the Tri-State League for $750. Both players were with the local club last year, but neither came up to the high mark. McCarthy came here in a trade with Montreal, in exchange for Rapp, and it is hard to say which got the worst of the deal. Slatery was bought from Kansas City. He is a big, strong fellow, and may yet shine as a backstop.

GOLF.

CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENTS.

New York, Feb. 4.—W. Fellowes Morgan announced today that the championship golf tournaments of the United States Golf Association will be held as follows:

Open championship, June 20 and 21, at Philadelphia Cricket Club.

Amateur championship, July 9 to 13, inclusive, at the Euclid Club, Cleveland, Ohio.

Women's championship, Oct. 7 to 12, inclusive, at Midlothian Country Club, Blue Island, Illinois.

POOL.

BIG MATCH AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—For the first time in five years a world's championship pool match is to be played in this city, the contestants being Thomas Huston, of St. Louis, and George Dawson, formerly of this city, the latter being the challenger. The dates are Feb. 7, 8 and 9, and some prominent billiard room will probably be selected for the contest. The emblem for which they meet was first offered in a tournament won by William Clearwater, who won in a play-off with Cowboy Weston, in Clarence Green's Brooklyn Academy in March, 1902.

LACROSSE.

TECUMSEHS WITH N. L. U.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—The position of the Tecumseh Lacrosse Club relative to the N. L. U. and the new Athletic Federation of Canada, recently born in Montreal, is clearly explained by this telegram dispatched to Montreal this morning:

Mr. Thomas S. Carling, vice-president, N. L. U., Montreal:

The Tecumseh Lacrosse Club heartily indorses your action as N. L. U. representative at Athletic Federation meeting. Anything must be better than that joke advertisement for the N. L. U., and you hold the Tecumseh's proxy in whatever line the N. L. U. may choose to follow. (Signed), J. K. Munro, president; Charles Querrie, secretary, Tecumseh Lacrosse Club.

TENNIS.

LOOKING FOR INTERNATIONAL MATCH.

London, Feb. 4.—The leading woman lawn tennis players of England anxiously are awaiting some news from America respecting an international contest, for which Mrs. Jacob Astor offered a costly trophy last summer when May Sutton was over in England. She was understood to be acting as a kind of ambassador for Mrs. Astor and other promoters of a suggested Anglo-American match.

Not only did she enlist the ardent sympathies of the lawn tennis public here but promises to go over to America this coming summer were made by several of the foremost women players.

Mrs. Hilyard, for several years women's champion of England with whom Miss Sutton stopped in Leicestershire, was most keen about the tour, and expressed her willingness to captain the British contingent.

A COUGH is often the forerunner of serious pulmonary afflictions, yet there is a simple cure within the reach of all in Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, an old time and widely-recognized remedy, which, if resorted to at the inception of a cold, will invariably give relief, and by overcoming the trouble, guard the system from any serious consequences. Price, 25 cents, at all dealers.

Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas

Since Miss Sutton's return to the United States, however, nothing has been heard on the side of the Atlantic of an international contest, and some of the British players are asking whether the United States National Association has thrown cold water on the attempt to create a women's Davis cup competition.

TO DISCERN and deal immediately with causes and overcome them, rather than to battle with effects after the disease has secured a lodgement, is the chief aim of the medicine man, and Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup is the result of patient study along this particular line. At the first appearance of a cold the Syrup will be found a most efficient remedy, arresting development and speedily healing the affected parts, so that the ailment disappears.

"Electricity in the atmosphere affects your system," said the doctor. "Yes,"
