CHURCH ASSOCIATION EXTREMELY HOSTILE

Church Union Favors Elimination of Phrases Offensive to Catholics—Late Lord Salisbury
Quoted in Support

LONDON, May 13.—The controversy over the accession declaration is increasing in heat, but its maximum temperature has not yet been reached. The various "Protestant" societies in the United Kingdom, the number of which is surprising, are hastily bucking on their armor, eager for the clamor and dust of the political lists.

The London council of United Protestant Societies, representing fifty-one of these associations, is holding a special meeting today to "consider the position," which is a supplement for "declaring war" against all attempts to tamper with the declaration. That there is a considerable amount of political bias in a section of the hostile thong is manifested in many directions. The chairman of the Church Association, embracing the evangelical which conservatism in the matter of religious conviction is extreme, has addressed a letter to the press attacking John Redmond as the author of the letter to the Prime Minister. He says: "John Redmond carries his dictatorship beyond the bounds of decency. The remains of our late beloved King could be laid in their coffin he has the audacity to announce that his name, Mr. Asquith is nothing less than that of a traitor, and the act of settling the foundation of the throne, shall be treated as no much waste paper and deliberately annulled on the advice of the Prime Minister. This is but a sample of the contempt for and hatred of the free institutions of this country, which are manifested by the paid agents of the priest party, whose war chest is replenished by Irish-American sympathy. Asquith, a lawyer, of Mr. Asquith's eminence, however, much he might wish a change made in the law, would necessarily recoil at the suggestion of such a flagrant act of treachery and disloyalty as Mr. Redmond dares to suggest."

The secretary of the same body seems to be impressed by the mildness of the terms of the declaration. He says that in the Scottish coronation oath, in which the sovereign swears to maintain the Presbyterian confession of faith in Scotland, the affirmations concerning the Pope and Romanism are much stronger than the English declaration. "King George has already taken this oath," adds the secretary. "The Scots are canny, and insist upon the King taking their oath, even before he meets the privy council."

The English Church union, which stands in the same relation to the Anglican section of the Church of England as the Church Association does to the evangelicals, takes a different view. The union intends to use all its influence to get the declaration reasonably amended. It holds that it would suffice if the King were to swear to protect the rights and liberties of the English church without trusting in the world theological argument. Moreover, said the union's secretary, discussing the question many people feel that the declaration is so harsh in its terms that it practically assumes that the King is not a gentleman and his word is not to be regarded. Catholics quote approvingly the utterances of British Protestant statesmen who have tried to remove what the late Lord Salisbury described as a stain on the statute book. Lord Salisbury declared that apart from the declaration being most offensive to all Catholics, the "staunch loyalty of so many Catholic soldiers in Canada, comprising about 42 per cent of the entire population of the Dominion, should exempt them from any such offensive reference."

FALLS TO DEATH

Rancher in Arrow Lake District Killed by Wagon Dropping Over Precipice

NAKUPSE, Ont., May 13.—The news that just reached Nakupse that Mr. Frank Jordan, brother of the postmaster, merchant and president of the board of trade here, N. W. Jordan, has lost his life near Edgewood, fifty miles south of Nakupse.

On Tuesday the deceased was in this town procuring supplies for the Jordan ranch at Fire Valley, leaving that day for home on the south bound train. He was driving a team to draw in his supplies to the farm. At one place the road follows a very narrow, almost perpendicular stretch, with a high embankment above and a raging creek below, which forms into a waterfall nearly two hundred feet in depth.

It seems that a small landslide had fallen down the embankment, from above, narrowing the already limited roadway, causing the hind wheels of the passing wagon to slip over the precipice below, taking with it the wagon box and the unfortunate driver into the raging torrent below.

The team with the front wheels ran along to Edgewood, where, when a search was immediately begun, and the marks of the catastrophe were plainly visible. There was absolutely no chance of saving his life, and the body is yet undiscovered.

Deceased was about 35 years old, married, and had lived in Seattle. He was well known along the Arrow lakes.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Frank W. Rollins, former governor of New Hampshire, and now a banker, with Boston offices, his wife Catherine, and his son, were charged today in the sworn statement of a customs officer with conspiring to "smuggle into the United States wearing apparel and jewelry without paying duty legally due thereon."

Mr. Rollins and his son were arrested late last afternoon before a federal commissioner and released on $2,000 bail. Neither would talk for publication.

Mrs. Rollins was so protesting that she took to her bed in a hotel immediately on landing from the Lusitania, and her presence was not required to view before the commissioner. She will answer to the charges against her as soon as she has recovered.

The Rollins were first-class passengers on the Lusitania, which arrived here today from Liverpool. They brought with them a woman's fur jacket valued at $800. The examination of their baggage had been only partly completed when Inspector Cassidy stepped upon summoned Mr. Rollins to him and said: "It is my duty at this point to advise you that anything which is dutiable and which you fail to declare may be seized and that arrest can follow any action reasonably to be construed as an attempt to smuggle."

Mr. Rollins bowed and consulted with his wife and son. When he returned he said according to the customs officers, that his wife had omitted inadvertently to declare a cheap necktie, a bracelet, three gowns, two suits and minor sundries.

Bail was furnished by a surety company, and a further hearing was set for one week from today.

Frank West Rollins was governor of New Hampshire from 1893 to 1901, and is the author of "The Ring in the Cliff."

Shortly after leaving the ground in his Antoinette monoplane, Michelin was struck by a derrick which had been overturned, and then knocked over a derrick, which struck the aviator, crushing his skull.

When the spectators saw what had happened they crowded the barriers which were built to keep the crowds from the aviation field, and rushed to the spot where the monoplane was lying.

Michelin was still in the seat of the machine. He was quickly taken to a hospital, where his skull was trepanned. He died shortly after the operation.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE

Expert and Other Testimony in Case of McLaughlin, Accused of Poisoning

WHITBY, Ont., May 13.—All the evidence in the trial of Archie McLaughlin charged with the triple murder of his wife and two young boys at Uxbridge on October 19th last, was completed by the Crown at ten tonight, with the exception of Dr. J. J. Donnan, chief coroner for the city of Toronto. His expert evidence was most convincing as to the cause of death in the case of Mrs. McLaughlin. He said that there was no question from the conditions disclosed by the postmortem examination but that she died from poisoning before exposure to smoke from the fire which partly burned the McLaughlin house.

Prof. Billings, who analyzed the organs of the deceased woman and two children found over a grain of strychnine in her stomach, besides a further quantity in the intestines. These quantities were what had not been absorbed. He said there had been a considerable amount of strychnine in the stomach.

Frank Vickers, clerk in McLaughlin's store, told of McLaughlin's purchase of strychnine on the afternoon of the day before the tragedy ten grains of strychnine, which he said he wanted for the purpose of poisoning previously purchased, which had not done its work effectively. Vickers advised him that strychnine was a poison would kill a large number of rats. McLaughlin told him to double the quantity, and so signed the poison book for the ten grains.
