That Our Correspondent Thinks—The Buwn of the New World Reformation— The Non-Intercourse Bill—Exhibition of Pictures at the Canadian Club,

New York, Feb. 3.—In reporting the do-ings of the strikers on the one hand, and the cheerful but not manifestly sincere remarks of the officers of the great coaling and carrying companies on the other, the telegrams and the city newspapers really give you a very meagre idea of the proportions or results of the ever-growing strike in this part of the world. Begrowing strike in this part of the world. Between and behind these are the mutterings of the rest of the community, more indirectly, but not less radically, involved in the affair. On the one hand there is the investing class, whose dividends are threatened; on the other the laboring class, whose daily bread is at stake. All industry is paralyzed, factories are closed, the hearts of the employers are closed, too, to the sufferings of their hands, and the distress is shocking, unpitied and unrelieved. A gentleman of my acquaintance who has a large cordage factory managed, to get a few tons of coal to give work to his people; but it was stolen by the freezing people in pocketfuls. He then obtained a boat-load at the cost of $1000; but the handlers were intimidated and it is not yet unloaded. The works are closed accordingly.

Again the conservative classes, mildly roused by George's mayoralty vote, have become alarmed, and talk of vigilance committees and Gatling guns. True, they only talk so far; but many are serious enough.

Contrasted with this is the delight of Americans generally at Dr. McGlynn's little rebellion. "The dawn of the new-world reformation," one has called it, This is, of course, rhetorio; but to us on the outside it seems to show that enthusiasm for democracy and abhorrence of absolutism—even ecclesiastical—is not incompatible with deep conservatism. All of which is trite enough; but the illustration is powerful.

"dude."

The loan exhibition of pictures at the Canadian Club is popular, though not much can be said for the pictures. Patteson's Niagara is the honored guest, and deserves study. The rapids are strongly done, though with no attempt at more than realism. They might have been painted from an instantaneous photograph. Mr. Kneeland, a distinguished lawyer, a member of the Club, brought about the exhibition and shows a brace of admirable studies of his own.

hibition and shows a brace of admirator status of his own.

The success of this show has suggested again the idea of an exhibition of Canadian pictures. I tried to interest some Toronto artists in this scheme over a year ago; but met with little encouragement. It might be different now.

Mr. Fraser has promised some of his recent work and I hear Mr. Sandham thinks well of the project.

It is proposed to publish in book form the lectures and essays delivered before the Club during the year by eminent Canadians.

The unprecedented sale of Bosche's German Syrue within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and hest remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of coughs, colds and the severest lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by physicians, as it does not dry up a cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 76 cents, large bottles.

Mr. Wyld's New Firm.

A new wholesale dry goods firm is announced. Messrs. Wyld, Grasett & Darling will within a few weeks open their mammoth establishment on the southeast corner of Bay and Wellington-streets. The new firm commence business under the most favorable auspices. Mr. Wyld's well-known skill in the selection of woollens, and his thorough knowledge of the trade generally, will be of immense advantage to the new firm. He is a dry goods man bred and born. Mr. Grasett's long experience with John Macdonald & Co. as a buyer will assure to the customers of the new firm both taste and quality in goods purchased from them. Mr. Darling, who will manage the financial department, is well known both in Montreal and Toronto as a thorough man of business, none more so. The temporary offices of the new firm are over the Bank of British North America. They expect to move into their new premises early in May, fully equipped for the fall trade.

The Great Topic of the Day.

The Great Topic of the Day.

-Is how W. E. Dobson of 159 King-street east has succeeded to excel all others in the manufacture of cigars. It is a well-known fact that he manufactures a far superior cigar to any imported or manufactured in America. All first-class comoisseurs agree that he is the best known judge of raw leaf tobacco, consequently he knows just what to buy and import, the very best that grows. He employs only first-class union workmen. You can always depend on the General Middleton and Our Brave Boys brands.

Druggists and the Liquor Law.
City druggists have been visited lately by the license inspectors, with a view of ascer-taining how they have been complying with the Liquor Act. The outcome of these visits was that at the Police Court yesterday Henry Schofield, John Wood, James Spence, Albert W. Ball, Allen Noxon, W. T. Urquhart, Lafayette Bentley, Frank Bentley and F. G. Burgess were charged with an infraction of the law by selling liquor in quantities of over six ounces without registering such sales as required by the liquor license law. Spence pleaded guilty in two cases, and was fixed $20 and costs in each. The other cases were enlarged.

Sam Jones in Boston. From the Boston Traveller, Jan. 26. When Mr. Jones, the Georgia revivalist, opened his meetings in Boston the Traveller ventured the prediction that he would suit his discourses to his hearers. As a man of good judgment, wishing to make his mission a successful one, he would naturally do this, after the eastful one, he would have a state of the missionaries of the greatest of the missionaries of the cross, St. Paul. The prediction has been the cross, St. Paul. The prediction has been but the cross, St. Paul. The prediction has been but the cross, St. Paul. The prediction has been but the cross, St. Paul. The prediction has been but the cross, St. Paul. The prediction has been but the cross of the cros the cross, St. Paul. The prediction has been verified. He has indulged in plain talk, but Bostonians can stand the truth presented in strong language, when the speaker gives such evidence of sincerity as Mr. Jones has done. Those who hear him once wish to hear him again, and his plain presentation of the Gospel has disarmed much of that prejudice which would have prevented him from holding meetings have. He has already brought home to many lukewarm professors the consciousness of neglect of duties, and there seems to be in many of the churches that true revival which precedes and prepares the way for conversions. Other agencies are also at work, and cince the week of prayer more than the usual number of evangelical churches are holding extra meetings that give evidence of a devotional spirit, and in many of them conversions.
