

ALD. BOUSTEAD STEPS OUT

THE CHAIRMAN OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE RESIGNS HIS SEAT.

A session in Municipal Councils—City Affairs brought up with a short "turn" does not believe in being called a peacemaker and even worse—who will be the next Mayor?

The defeat of the bylaws on Thursday and the resignation of Ald. Boustead, chairman of the Executive Committee, on Saturday have brought the administration of city affairs up with a round turn. And now everybody is busy forecasting the future discussing municipal reform, rising up against candidates and generally looking to a new departure in city affairs.

There is no doubt of it, that the defeat of the bylaws may be taken as a more or less explicit vote of confidence in the present administration. It is not that people are not disposed to vote money for needed civic improvements, but that they have not sufficient faith in the powers that be to entrust them with the spending of money in the direction of municipal improvements.

The increase in taxation caused by the yearly rise in the assessment, as well as the advance in the rate, has set people thinking, and the fact that a number of manufacturing enterprises have gone to Toronto Junction, and that others intend going there, while others have settled upon Mississauga, has further tended to create a feeling of uneasiness among the taxpayers of the city.

The first question that is discussed in this respect is the question of the mayor, the majority, especially since Ald. Boustead has resigned his seat in the council.

"Will Mayor Clarke be a candidate for a fourth term?" is asked, though his friends are not so ready to give the answer. Besides being mayor of the city he is also a member of the Legislature as one of its representatives, and his name is freely assumed as the successor of John Small in the House of Commons for East Toronto, it being understood that John Small is only waiting for a favorable opportunity to resign his seat and take the colosseum of Toronto.

Mr. Clarke's best friends are therefore considering whether it would not be judicious on his part to retire from the mayoralty and the Legislature, and to devote his entire attention to the business of the city.

Mr. Clarke ran for East Toronto, the feeling of Dr. Fisher, who has a claim to the succession of Mr. Small, would have to be mollified, and this can be done by making the municipal health officer, Mr. Boustead, a position for which he is now a candidate. Then Mr. James Besty, mayor and member of parliament, would have to be worked over for some time and in working very quietly but very deep down for the mayoralty again, and there is no denying the fact that through the disaffection of Mayor Clarke and partly as a stepping stone to his contesting the mayoralty, and as things look this morning, Mr. Boustead is the only candidate for the office. Mr. Boustead is a Reformer and Mr. Besty a Conservative, Mr. Boustead has been long and faithfully in the council; he is a well-known name and has the support of the water works especially by his given an extended attention.

The great bulk of the ordinary ratepayers, who are more or less dissatisfied with the present city administration, are looking about for what they call a "citizens' candidate" for mayor, a man who has hitherto been unidentified with municipal affairs, who is not a pronounced politician, who is possessed of ample means and who is not in a disposition to tackle city affairs with a view to clearing up the present municipal administration. Here are some gentlemen who are being mentioned as "citizens' candidates" for the mayoralty.

JOHN I. DAVIDSON, GEORGE GOODHAM, ROBERT J. FITZGERALD, WILLIAM JAFFRAY, JAMES H. BOSTEAD, GEORGE A. COLE, DANIEL J. COLE, GEORGE KELLY.

THE LETTER OF RESIGNATION.

A Great Surprise to Municipal Circles—What Did It Mean?

Toronto, Oct. 18, 1890. E. M. Clarke, Esq., Mayor of Toronto, City Hall, Toronto. Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 17th inst. in relation to the resignation of the Mayor of Toronto, and in reply to inform you that I have no objection to your resigning the office of Mayor of Toronto, and that I have no objection to your resigning the office of Mayor of Toronto, and that I have no objection to your resigning the office of Mayor of Toronto.

Mr. Clarke was somewhat surprised on Saturday morning when he received the above message. He expressed sorrow at the prospect of losing so valuable a colleague, but had little more to say. It has been apparent since Thursday last, when the two bylaws were defeated, that the member from James Ward was considering some serious step. The failure of the enactment to secure the necessary fund to carry out his policy was a blow which he felt keenly.

In municipal circles at least Ald. Boustead's action caused astonishment. Only half an hour before sending it in he was in conversation with Chairman Hill of the Water works, and did not mention his intention to him.

The withdrawal of Ald. Boustead will seriously complicate the municipal machine, not only is he chairman of the Executive Committee but also chairman of the joint Educational Committee in the proceedings of which he was one of the most active members. On the Waterworks Committee his experience and his extreme views, add to him in great part is due to his present resignation.

It is interesting to note that the resignation of Ald. Boustead is the first of its kind in the history of the city, and that it is the first of its kind in the history of the city, and that it is the first of its kind in the history of the city.

Woodstock, Oct. 19.—A representative of a New York paper is in town negotiating with Birehall for his autobiography. The prisoner has a very positive memory and not only is he chairman of the Executive Committee but also chairman of the joint Educational Committee in the proceedings of which he was one of the most active members.

The prisoner keeps a black cat in his cell and the cat is named "Tommy". Dr. Chamberlain, the newly appointed inspector of prisons, visited the jail yesterday.

PROBABLE FRAUD IN VIENNA AS A RESULT OF THE STRIKE.

Furious Reports Reported Along the North British Coast.—Three Sailors Belonging to the Fleet Washed Overboard and Drowned.—Final Collapse of the Australian Miners' Strike.

VIENNA, Oct. 19.—The strike of tramway employes, began to-day. The service is entirely suspended. The conductors demand an increase of pay and the other hands struck to support the conductors. The tramway stations are occupied by police, and the troops are held under arms in their barracks in readiness for any emergency.

IT WAS A WILD NIGHT.

While the Sailors Danced Their Fleet Was Driven Out to Sea.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A severe storm prevails along the north British coast. The wind blew with such fury that the British fleet lying at Scarborough was compelled to run to the north of the island. The British fleet, and 340 officers and men belonging to the Admiralty, were blown off shore. The officers to obtain some trace of the fleet, the mayor of the town and this morning when they attempted to board their vessels before they put to sea they found it impossible, owing to the heavy sea, that was running, to get aboard. The sailors were washed overboard and drowned.
