Our Public School System. tor World:—The communica . W. Phipps in The World of Friday der the heading of "Our City School em." I think has been read and many, as it has by me, and is well ed by many, as it has by me, and is well worthy of perusal. Our heavy taxation is largely attributable to our present public school system, the extravagance of which exceeds all reasonable bounds. Children should not be admitted under seven years of age, and education at the public expense should be confined to reading, writing and arithmetic—the real essentials. Under the present system of cramming with superfluous studies of non-essentials the useful and practical branches are sadly superfluons studies of hon-essetting useful and practical branches are sad acted, and when the pupils leave scho know very little that is necessary win order to fight the battle of life And still the craze goes on for what is called "higher education," at the expense of the heavily burdened taxpayers. New "studies" are being introduced from time to time in our Public duced from time to time in our Public schools which are positively useless, if not injurious, to the pupils. One of the latest fads is called "military drill," which is a perfect farce as applied in Public schools. In fact the whole system requires a thorough overhauling and remodeling. The powers of the School Board should be curtailed and restricted to reasonable limits. The introduction of free text-books may be justly termed an outrage upon the ratepayers of Toronto and totally at variance with justice and common sense. It would be just as reasonable to supply free boots and shoes or free dinners. The principle is just the same. I trust an effort will be made ere long in our Legislature to amend ito, Nov. 26, 1892. Editor World: In your issue of to-day I notice your report of remarks made by the Rev. Mr. Galbraith to his congregation in Berkeley-street Methodist Church Sunday evening, 27th inst., reflecting on the theatre and also on employers of female labor in this city ergaged in the manufacture of working mens' clothing, such as overalls and pants. Mr. O. B. Sheppard of the Grand is quite able to deal with theatrical matters, and as I am extensively engaged in manufacturing the class of clothing coming under the Rev. Doctor's ban, wish to state a few facts relating to the same. In employ all the year round some 50 to 75 hands, provide them with a comfortable work room, with sanitary conveniences as required by the Factory Act, run the sewing machines by motive power, which will produce an average of 1400 stitches per minute; every part of the gartice your report of remarks made by the stitches per minute; every part of the gar-ments furnished the operators is cut to fit, and an experienced hand with these modern appliances can make a pair of over-alls or a cotton shirt in from 15 to 20 alls or a cotton shirt in from 15 to 20 minutes, and can earn in a week of 50 hours' work from $4 to $8 per week. My employes, as far as I can learn, are as well-behaved and respectable as any other portion of the female community, and some os them attend the Berkeley-street Methodist Church and can verify the statements now made, and I consider it but justice to all parties concerned to give a positive denial made, and I consider it but justice and parties concerned to give a positive denial to the libelious statement given forth from the pulpit and elsewhere in this connection.

An East End Park, Editor World: I see by your paper that Ald. Macdonald stated that the Gooderhams would not sell their grove for an hams would not sell their grove for an eastern park and that the Alderman would would keep his eye open for another site. Allow me to suggest through The World the land behind the Leslie Nursery, south of Esstern-avenue, as a park for the East End. It has the great advantage of being on the water (Ashbridge's Bay, which is to be purified), and has trees of a good size on it and could be made a very pretty park, affording safe boating and other amusements.

All it requires is the filling up of a portion of the low land and a little diedging, which would supply the earth for the low land. If Messrs. Leslie & Son would sell this property at a reasonable figure the opportunity of purchasing ought not to be lost. I know of no place more convenient that has the advantage of a large sheet of water, and a park requires this to make it complete.

A Question for Municipal Authorities. Editor World: Under the 73rd section of pality is required to be a resident of or to live within two miles of such place. Will some one of your municipal law authority subscribers say what must be done to prevent any reeve not so qualified from sitting, and, if such a person sat, if the proceed. and, if such a person sat, if the proceedings of the council he has presided over are in any way and, if so, in what way are they, affected by his having been illegally elected?

A Question for Mr. Galbraith.
Editor World: The Rev. Mr. Galbraith stated in his sermon on Sunday night that ome ready-made clothing establishments in Toronto paid poor women from 10 to 15 cents per pair for making and lining boys' pants. Can you give me the names of the firms that do so? I won't deal with them.

The Modern Language Club of University The Modern Language Club of University College held its regular meeting in the eastern theatre room of the college yesterday afternoon, President Stevenson in the chair. The meeting was devoted to the study of Burns and his principal works. Mr. L. F. Anderson read an essay on the life of Burns, after which Mr. W. G. Armstrong, accompanied by Miss Telfer on the piano, rendered several Scotch airs on the violin. The president gave an excellent paper on Tam College and Miss Lawren read an essay. dident gave an excellent paper on Tam D'Shanter and Miss Lawson read an essay lealing with Burns' Lyrics.

"Prison Reform." He condemned the present penal laws because he declared they in no way tended to prevent the manufacture of criminals. Of the 3000 criminals in Toronto one-half were children who were not under proper guardianship. The magistrate should have power to fire the parent for neglect and order the application of the birch to the child.
