

ELLIS' 3 King St. E. Toronto.
DIAMONDS
FIFTEENTH YEAR

THREW A BOMB IN A CAFE.

Twenty Persons Wounded in Paris By an Anarchist.

SHOT AN OFFICER WHO CHASED HIM.

"The More I Killed the Better I Would Be Pleased."

The Bomb a Sardine Box Filled With Chlorine Powder and Scrap Iron—The Ceiling and Floor Rattled—The Walls Cracked—Of Four Persons Killed One So Injured That He Will Die—Five of the Twenty in the Cafe Cannot Recover.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Eden Breton, 24 years old, threw a bomb in the cafe of the Hotel Terminus at the St. Lazare railway station this evening. The bomb exploded in the middle of the room and wounded 20 persons. An instrumental concert began in the cafe, which is on the ground floor of the hotel, at 8 o'clock.

Shortly before 8 o'clock a pale, thin young man with a light pointed beard passed for a drink which he had taken at a table in the middle of the room and started to leave. When near the door he turned suddenly, drew a bomb from his coat and threw it toward a group of persons who had assembled to him. The bomb struck an electric light fixture, then fell on a marble table and exploded.

The great hall and station were rocked by the shock. The mirrors, windows and doors were blown to atoms. The ceiling and floor were rent and the walls were cracked. A dense offensive smoke filled the cafe for four minutes and hid the scene of the bomb-thrown.

When the smoke cleared away five persons were found severely wounded. One of them had a bullet in his head and died. Another had a bullet in his chest and died. A third had a bullet in his arm and died. A fourth had a bullet in his leg and died. A fifth had a bullet in his head and died.

Shot a Policeman Who Chased Him. After leaving the cafe the bomb-thrown started down the street on a run. Three policemen had just passed in an omnibus when the explosion occurred. They were going on duty, and jumped to treat the men who they saw the fugitive. The young man turned on them as they called to him to stop and fired five shots.

Policemen Poleson and Bignon, however, continued the pursuit, and with the help of Policemen Barbes and a waiter, named Tisser, overpowered and arrested the bomb-thrown. They took him to the police station in the Rue de Valenciennes, where he was held.

He was then taken to the police station in the Rue de Valenciennes, where he was held. He was then taken to the police station in the Rue de Valenciennes, where he was held.

His Prisoner Died. And the Policeman Had to Read the Funeral Service.

New York, Feb. 12.—The steamer Ena, which arrived today from Jersey, had been recently 40 buildings were destroyed by a fire believed to have been started by people dissatisfied with the Government.

Reports that it was quiet at that place at the time of departure. One of the incendiaries, who was named as the perpetrator, was sentenced to be shot, which was carried out.

The Alps Brought a Passenger United States Marshal Henry, who was to Haiti for the purpose of arresting a man named Terminus, who was said to have stolen $20,000 from Cleveland, Ohio.

At last, after a long search, the man was found. He was then taken to the police station in the Rue de Valenciennes, where he was held.

RAMMED BY EXPLOSIVE TRANSPORT. The Italian Bank With Several Hundred Troops by the Republic.

LISBON, Feb. 12.—The British steamer Iberia, from South American port, arrived here today. She was called Rio Janeiro, Feb. 28, and brings dispatches to that date.

According to these dispatches, which come from the Portuguese capital, the insurgent forces have been completely defeated. The Government troops have been victorious.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

FATAL ACCIDENT AND A TRAGEDY.

One Montrealer Whipped to Death in a Foundry—Another Cuts His Throat and Dies.

MONTREAL, Feb. 12.—St. Cuneo, one of Montreal's municipalities, had two sensational deaths today. The first occurred shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, when Daniel McPherson, an engineer employed at John Finlay's stove foundry, endeavored to remove one of the belts while the machinery was in motion. He was caught in the revolving belt and before assistance could be rendered the left shoulder was broken and his side frightfully lacerated. His injuries were so severe that he died within a few moments of being released.

The first excitement had no sooner calmed down when the news flew through the little town shortly after 9 o'clock this evening that a young man named Joseph Scott had committed suicide. Chief of Police Page found Scott lying in the cellar with his throat cut from ear to ear. The man was beyond medical skill. The father of the deceased, a respectable man, was dependent state for some time and has often threatened to take his own life.

FEEL FIFTY FEET TO DEATH. His Head Terribly Crushed and Every Bone in His Body Broken.

New York, Feb. 12.—William A. Miles, the brewer, head of the firm of William A. Miles & Co., was instantly killed today by falling from the window of the drying-room of the brewery into the yard. The yard is lagged over. Mr. Miles fell about 50 feet. His head was terribly crushed and almost every bone in his body was broken. No one witnessed the accident, and consequently nothing is known of the way it occurred. Mr. Miles was 55 years old, had been in the brewing business for many years and was very wealthy.

Met With a Serious Accident. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Princess Ena, the 6-year-old daughter of Prince Francis of Denmark and Princess Beatrice, met with a serious accident while riding in the grounds at Osborne, Isle of Wight. A groom was leading the pony on which she was seated, and the animal, which was named "Princess Ena," was pitched headforemost to the ground. She was able to walk to the stable, but soon after arriving there fell asleep and has not yet awakened. A specialist was summoned, and he has been in attendance upon her. It is feared that she has sustained serious injury to her head.

Princess Ena regained consciousness this afternoon and is improving.

HIS PRISONER DIED. And the Policeman Had to Read the Funeral Service.

New York, Feb. 12.—The steamer Ena, which arrived today from Jersey, had been recently 40 buildings were destroyed by a fire believed to have been started by people dissatisfied with the Government.

Reports that it was quiet at that place at the time of departure. One of the incendiaries, who was named as the perpetrator, was sentenced to be shot, which was carried out.

The Alps Brought a Passenger United States Marshal Henry, who was to Haiti for the purpose of arresting a man named Terminus, who was said to have stolen $20,000 from Cleveland, Ohio.

At last, after a long search, the man was found. He was then taken to the police station in the Rue de Valenciennes, where he was held.

RAMMED BY EXPLOSIVE TRANSPORT. The Italian Bank With Several Hundred Troops by the Republic.

LISBON, Feb. 12.—The British steamer Iberia, from South American port, arrived here today. She was called Rio Janeiro, Feb. 28, and brings dispatches to that date.

According to these dispatches, which come from the Portuguese capital, the insurgent forces have been completely defeated. The Government troops have been victorious.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

Admiral Meilo, who has returned from the war, has been promoted to the rank of Admiral. He is now in command of the Portuguese fleet.

There are reports that the Government has been successful in its operations. The insurgent forces have been completely defeated.

STORMS ON TWO CONTINENTS.

GALES THROUGHOUT EUROPE—BLIZZARD IN AMERICA.

Many Casualties Reported Throughout England—Loss of Life at Hamburg—Rainstorm in New York—The United States and Street Traffic Blocked—Blowing 80 Miles an Hour in Chicago.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The gale which set in in Great Britain late Saturday night continued to gain in violence during yesterday, and in the afternoon the wind was blowing with hurricane force.

Telegraphic communication has been greatly interfered with and details of the damage done are being received slowly.

Churches Destroyed. A peculiar feature of the storm was the destruction wrought among the churches. At Deddington, in Dorsetshire, a church in course of erection was entirely destroyed. The spire of St. Mary's Church at Shorebury, in Dorsetshire, was blown down. At Peterborough, County Northampton, the pinnacles of the parish church of St. John was blown over, and the church was also completely wrecked.

The Great Eastern Railway station was destroyed. The English Presbyterian Church at Holywell, Flintshire, Wales, was also among the buildings wrecked in the storm. The roof of the church was blown down, and many dwelling houses in the town were also blown down.

At Newport, in South Wales, the roofs have been blown of a number of houses.

Losses Among Shipping. It is feared that there have been many wrecks along the coast. Several vessels have gone ashore off Margate and Ramsgate, Isle of Thanet.

At Deddington, in Dorsetshire, a number of factory chimneys stacks were blown down. In several instances the falling chimneys struck the factories, causing great damage. In this town many persons were injured and scores of houses were wrecked.

Communication between London and the Continent is completely cut. A broken lifeboat with the word "Liverpool" painted on the bow has been washed ashore in Sandown.

A lifeboat that left Swansea yesterday is missing.

Two children killed by falling bricks. Hartlepool, County of Durham, which is situated on an almost insulated promontory, was exposed to the full force of the storm, and considerable damage was done to the town. Tall chimneys of dwelling houses in the town were blown down. The bricks which fell from the chimneys were falling upon the family, who were congregated in the top story. Two children were instantly killed and their parents were badly injured.

At Stockton-on-Tees, also in the County of Durham, a number of dwelling houses and shops were wrecked.

The Resolvent went ashore yesterday. The Catalina Fleet succeeded in taking off the 15 persons of the board.

The Channel Impassable. A tremendously high sea was running in the Channel, and steamers plying between England and France had to stop.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

Despatches are coming in from various places reporting the wrecking on Saturday of vessels and the loss of life.

COLLIDED IN THE STORM.

Four Men Killed, Engines and Freight Cars Wrecked.

FREMONT, Feb. 12.—In a blinding snowstorm which had been raging all morning, freight train No. 40, westbound, and eastbound light freight No. 25 on the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad collided two miles west of Bellevue about 10.30 o'clock. Both engines and several freight cars were smashed and piled up in confusion. Four men were killed.

SWEEP OVERBOARD. One of the New York's Seamen Carried to His Death by a Heavy Sea.

New York, Feb. 12.—The American steamer New York, Captain Jameson, which arrived yesterday from Southampton, during the first part of the passage had a continued wind of southeast and northwest gales with high confused seas and heavy swell. Several heavy seas boarded the vessel, doing minor damage about the decks.

One very heavy sea broke over the hurricane deck, washing overboard Robert Black, a seaman, aged 30 years. He was never seen again.

Gone Down With a Crew of 32. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 12.—The unknown steamer that foundered with all hands on October 1, 1901, near Philadelphia, last week is believed here to have been the British steamer Olympia, from London, Cuba, Feb. 1, for Philadelphia with a cargo of 220 tons of sugar for the Franklin sugar refinery. The Olympia carried a crew of 32 men besides Captain Colman and was consigned to the Erie Line Steamship Company of this city.

FREE TRADE FOR FRANCE. Deputy Roux Declares That Protection Is Ruining the Country.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—In the Chamber of Deputies today Jules Charles Roux, a well-known economist of France, a member of the Tribunal of Commerce and Chamber of Commerce of that city, made a speech in opposition to the new tariff proposals of the Government. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

Protectionism, he declared, was ruining the country. He declared that the acceptance of these proposals would lead to the destruction of French commerce and would increase the price of bread, which was already much dearer in France than in any other country.

FIGHT AGAINST THE LORDS.

"ABUSE OF HEREDITARY LEGISLATION INTOLERABLE."

A Resolution by the National Liberal Federation That the House of Lords Has Existed Too Long—A Survival of Medievalism, Says The Daily News—Rumor That Gladstone Will Go to the Country.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—After the Cabinet council was concluded today the Executive Committee of the National Liberal Federation obtained permission to put a resolution before the annual meeting of the Federation on Thursday declaring that no further makeshift meddling by the House of Lords shall be permitted, and that the work of the House shall be confined to the charter reform which the representative House is authorized to carry out. It is the intention of the Executive Committee to approve a resolution declaring that the House of Lords has existed too long—A Survival of Medievalism, Says The Daily News—Rumor That Gladstone Will Go to the Country.

DAY OF FORGIVENESS IS PAST. Even Should the Veers Repent It Is Too Late.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The meeting of the National Liberal Federation in Portsmouth assembly hall this morning was presided over by the president, said in his introductory address that he rejoiced in the recent conduct of the House of Commons in the matter of the House of Lords. He declared that the House of Lords had existed too long—A Survival of Medievalism, Says The Daily News—Rumor That Gladstone Will Go to the Country.

Land applause greeted this declaration of principles.

The Upper House a Danger to the State. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Liberal and Conservative members of the House of Commons, who are in the House of Commons, declared that the House of Lords was a danger to the State.

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."

Insulted by a Survival of Medievalism. LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Daily News, commenting on the House of Lords, remarks that "there could scarcely be a more humiliating position for a popular assembly than is the case in Great Britain with the House of Commons, baffled and insulted by a survival of medievalism."