A PATRIOTIC ADDRESS

BY THE REVEREND W. BRUCE MUN AT THE OLD FORT ANnapolis ROYAL, AUGUST 4th, 1917, ON THE THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF THE GREAT WAR

Your Worship Ladies and Gentlemen: I cannot begin my address today without making some reference to a gentlemen, who, from the beginning of this war, was associated with me upon occasions such as this

Lay the proud usurper low Tyrants fall on every blow, Liberty is our every blow, Let us do or die.

In the years to come, the people of the British Empire will thank God that they had such an enemy as Germany to face.

It is recognized already by everyone that this is the greatest calamity that the world has ever seen. If a section of Ireland in the old country, and a certain portion of Canada in the new have not responded so well for which we fight has proven a powerful stimulus, because it is the same cause which has lit up the annals of our glorious history.

Ladies and Gentlemen, there are still some people who consider it inconsistent for a minister of the gospel to preach a fighting sermon. If there be any such within the hearing of my voice, they had better not be here, because I am in a fighting mood today.

Of course we regret to chronicle the Russian debacle. Last year at this time, they were knocking at the gates of Warsaw. Today we are almost a disorganized rabble scurrying back towards the confines of Russia.

As far as British operations in the West are concerned, I am content to leave those in the hands of the God of Heaven. His mastery strategy is being conducted with the purpose of accomplishing great things, and we must wait as long as possible.

And Mrs. Foley, of Boston, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Ray. Mrs. Sarah Cook and Mrs. A. H. Gibson left on Saturday for a short visit at Plympton, Digby Co.

burden and heat of the day. Nothing we can do is good enough for those brave fellows, and this brings me to my last point. You are all aware, that a collection is being made in this town for the Y. M. C. A. work at the front
