Admitted to the French Markets.

It is a matter of some gratification to the manufacturers of OAKLAND HYDROGEN DIOXID to know that their solution is admitted to the French markets.

The extravagant claims boldly set forth by some manufacturers of pharmaceutical products are frequently not found true when the contents of the packages are examined, and the French Government has incorporated in its customs regulations a wise provision which prohibits from its markets all proprietary medicines which do not comply with the statements made on the accompanying label, and with the pharmacopœia requirements of the country where the goods are manufactured.

All imports are examined by expert chemists and those which fail to pass a rigid investigation are prohibited.

The fact that OAKLAND HYDROGEN DIOXID is admitted is equivalent to a guarantee from the French Government that the article is as represented and worthy of confidence.

If some similar regulations existed in our own country, the profession as well as the public would be protected from the assaults of unscrupulous manufacturers, and many of the conflicting clinical results so often obtained by the physician would to a great extent cease.—Medical Dial, June, 1899.
