Putrefactive Processes . .

As an antiferment, to correct disorders of digestion, and to counteract the intestinal putrefactive processes in the summer diarrhoeas of children, Listerine possesses great advantage over other antiseptics in that it may be administered freely, being non toxic, non-irritant and non escharotic : furthermore, its genial compatibility with syrups, elixirs and other standard remedies of the Materia Medica, renders it an acceptable and efficient agent in the treatment of diseases produced by the fermentation of food, the decomposition of organic matter, the endo-development of fetid gases, and the presence or attack of low forms of microzoic life.

An interesting pamphlet relating to the treatment of diseases of this character may be had upon application to the manufacturers of Listerine . . .
