THE LONDON LABORERS' STRIKE

LONDON, September 8 -The Lord Mayor of Lindon, Bishop Temple and Cardinal Mancing have written a joint letter in which they recount the negotiations conducted by them with the dock companies with a view to the sattlement of the strike. They express surprise at the strikers' repudiation of the terms agreed to by the dock companies and declare their opinion that if the men continue the strike they will forfelt the sympathy hitherto accorded them.

The strikers held another large meeting in Hyde Park to day. The proceedings were Lord Hartington, speaking at Bradford on Saturday night, said that while he did not favor a fusion of Unionists and Conservatives, he it was a mistake to suppose that he had own folly now or noreafter ought to divide it was a mistake to suppose that he had agreed to the proposal of the abitrators. He invited the strikers to declare whether or not they would accept the proposal. A loud shout of "No" went up from the crowd.

Mr. Burns, continuing, said the strike com-mittee were prepared to hold out for three weeks more, but he believed the directors of the dock companies would concede the strikers' terms before another week had passed.

Mr. Tillet visited the Lord Mayor this evening and proposed new terms, to commence in October. The Lord Mayor demurred, but promised to use his best endeavors to persuade the dock directors to agree to the terms. It is probable a compromise will soon be arranged on the basis of increased wages beginning in November.
The Lord Mayor told Mr. Tillet that he and Mr. Burns ought to accept a compromise. Tillet explained the compromise was rejected because it would have created difficulty with the wharfingers, who had already conceded sixpence.

The strike committee issued yesterday a manifesto stating that the strikers will not accept the dock companies' terms, namely, an increase of wages from January 1,1889, on condition that the men return to work to morrow.
