A Break in the Cornwall Canal Causes Collapse of Bridge

On June 23rd a large slice of the south bank was washed out into the river, and the swing bridge of the Ottawa & New York Railway, which crosses the Canal at this point, was totally wrecked, in consequence of the collapse of the pivot pier on which it rested. The break ties up navigation between the lakes and Montreal. Temporary repairs are being made with all diligence. At the time of the accident the swing bridge was parallel with the canal.
