(Mr. Butler, Australia)

The CW Committee's report for this session will record the substantial progress made so far this year in the negotiations. But it is imperative that the process of negotiation continue after the formal conclusion of the Conference session. As in previous years, we strongly support the carrying out of inter-sessional work, at the very least in the same pattern as existed last year. We cannot afford to let these negotiations falter. Useful work is being done, it must be sustained so that we can achieve the objective of a comprehensive convention as soon as possible.

The readitor of the laternation of any future for the second of the second of the second of the second of the laternational community to the use of chemical and the second of the laternational community to the interestions for the effectiveness of any future convertion banning chanted in the sectors ended of the laternational community when there is observed ended to the sectors is an interestion of the laternation of the sectors of the

The United States will continue to remind others that treation that can be violated with impunity, offer nothing but a false sames of security. That is why delegations in the Conference of Distrement must concentrate on negotiating a chemical weapone convention that is truly verifiable, in order that nations can be confident that violations will be detected. The discovered.

The United States has condemned the are of chemical waspons in the Galf var, and has called do the warried parties to put an end to the bloodshed by agreeing to end the war itself. It is in this spirit that the United States supported the rodent United Nations Security Council resolution, adopted by vapnimous vote. I believe, which, is addition to deploying the use of phemical verges, includes a call of Iran and Ivan to observe un immediate conserving a first supported towards a negotiated deticment

(beunistios)