

WOMAN'S WORLD.

4738 A CHIC LITTLE GOWN.

Here is a new idea in box pleats to form the lines in this small gown. They extend over the shoulders to the long waist line, back and front, and increase the becomingness of the dress. Two corresponding pleats cross at the front to form the base of the Pompadour yoke and finish the gathering of the full blouse front. Broad tucks adorn the bottom of the skirt after the latest mode. The yoke is made of cream all-over lace, but in a dress for general wear a plain or tucked material may be substituted. The joining of the waist and skirt may be made attractive with a soft girle of velvet or left unadorned, but neatly finished. Serge, challis, pongee, a soft silk or mail may serve as material. In the medium size the pattern calls for 4-4 yards of 36-inch material.

The New Spring Shirt Waist.

Broader shoulders characterize the first of the spring shirt waists. The smartest design for a linen shirt waist is made with three deep plaits on each shoulder, back and front. At the back the plaits taper toward the waist. The pattern provides for a high band turn-down collar, but the waist is also finished with a neckband, so that it may be worn with a stiff linen collar if preferred. The regular shirt-waist sleeve is used, finished with a straight cuff. The fastening of the waist is in front, thru the centre box plait. The stitched plaits and the broad shoulder line are smart. This is the spring the lingerie waist will be more in vogue than ever, yet the tailor-made linen waist will also be much in demand.

A Dress for the Small Girl.

Box plaits are the feature of the small dress for the small girl. The little waist has a full pointed yoke, back and front. The box plaits extend from the yoke to the belt. In the front the five-gored skirt made with box plaits to correspond with those in the waist is fastened to the waist under a pointed girle belt. The skirt has full side gores, two inverted plaits at the back, and is finished with a hem. The bishop sleeves are finished with a strapped cuff fastened with a button or coarse lace insertion may be used as the trimming to outline the yoke. Mercerized madras will be found a serviceable and pretty material for this dress, or gingham, zephyr or pique may be used. The front box plaits, the cuffs and girle belt should be trimmed with his heart button—Queen Margaret Gown in Women's Home Companion for February.

An Egg-brothery Hint.

How to put face on a circuitous contraption is a trade secret of the rancor as nearly smooth as possible, not gathered at all, although there will be night plaits and puckers necessary to make it go on.

TORONTO BOY KILLED.

Three-Year-Old Son of R. D. Stovel a Victim of Earthquake.

The 3-year-old son of Roger D. Stovel was killed in the Kingston earthquake, according to a cable received yesterday by A. W. Smith, from Mrs. Stovel, his daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Stovel and the boy were staying at the Constant Springs Hotel.

Over $100 has been contributed to the local relief fund, while a quantity of clothing has been received at the city hall.

CHINA FAMINE FEND.

In response to Dr. Lambert's appeal by cable, Beverly Jones has received the following contributions: Lillia Buchanan, $1; A. G. Toronto, $1; C. and E. Melhuish, $5; Clara, $1; Miss L. Martin, $1; Miss Macklem, $5; John Craig, $1; Mrs. C. C. Dalton, $5; Anonymous, $1; Anonymous, $1.50; A. Friend, $2; Friends, per Miss Macklem, $2; Y. S. S.

Beverly Jones writes: "I have not had time to hear from Dr. Lambert since his cable, but the conditions stated in the despatch from Vancouver by the board for the purpose of protecting a car from injury by the traveling public, or whether the object is to secure a life fender to protect life and limb, or whether the company or individual interest is paramount, and that the general public shall continue to be played battle-dore and shuttle-cock regards of life and limb."

A number of letters are submitted. The first to J. P. H. Wyse, E.E., in which he maintains that a thrust drop or rigidly constructed fender is not a life protector, but a car-fender, but a car protector similar to the cowcatcher, attached to the locomotive and designed to save a human life, the fender must protect the person, and the only way in which this can be done is by a recoil action, the principle upon which his fender is constructed.

Mr. Conway describes technically the chief character of the fender, and quotes a letter from the secretary of the board, in which he is asked to submit a plan for a second test. This he complies with, claiming that many who entered the first contest are debared by distance and expense from entering again.

TEST OF CAR FENDERS.

Quebec Inventor Complains to Premier

of Railway Board's Action.

G. O. S. Conway of Stenfield, Quebec,

writes an open letter to Premier Whitney

regarding a recent test of street

car life-saving fenders, one of which he

submitted for the approval of the Ontario

railway and municipal board. He says

it was a "double bluff" and with

in the power of the government to appoint

a railway and municipal board, and

it was also within the power of the board

to delegate its powers to others, but

the fact remains that the government

cannot divest itself of the responsibility

to the general public for the safety of the crowded streets of town and city.

Mr. Conway asks that the government demand a strict investigation of the merits or demerits of each car-fender

tested, and have the discovery made

whether a car-fender is required by the board for the purpose of protecting a car from injury by the traveling public,

or whether the object is to secure a life

fender to protect life and limb, or whether the company or individual interest is paramount, and that the general public

SOCIALISTS STRUGGLE

TO CONTROL LABORITES

Meeting of Party in Belfast This Week Will Consider Parliamentary Program.

Belfast, Jan. 22.—The Labor party,

which has to be seriously considered

politically since the unexpected success

of its candidates at the last general election, begins its seventh annual conference here on Thursday.

Chief interest centres on the amendment proposed to the constitution of the party making the organization socialist without any reservations.

Some of the unions affiliated with the party will propose that a vote on all union workingmen be taken on the proposition, it being their belief that the workingmen as a whole are not socialists. This executive will also endeavor to have the conference instruct the members of parliament as to the stand they shall take on the government's temperance bill, which, with the Irish question, is expected to occupy the attention of the commons during the coming session.

Other legislation which it is proposed to instruct the Labor members to support includes old age pensions; an eight-hour day for workers; law to stop "sweating" in the tailoring trade; adult suffrage and the equality of the sexes; establishment of national sanatoria; the substitution of arbitration for war as a preliminary to universal disarmament, and the establishment of labor courts.

A resolution will be introduced in support of a national education policy which includes state maintenance of public, scientific, physical education, complete dissociation of these reforms from poor law administration; education to be under full popular control, free and secular, from the primary school to the university and intellectual and technical education for teachers, the whole cost of the system to be met from the imperial treasury.

burn's place. Messrs. Hodgins and Nesly move into the seats held by Messrs. Fisher and Arthur. Messrs.

Ferguson and W. A. Preston take the last two seats on the speaker's right.

Allan Studholme will sit where J. L.

tawa man moves up to Mr. Kennedy's seat. Mr. Studholme having been convicted, E. B. Fraser, on his other side.

Who is to sit in Hon. G. W. Ross' seat

the Monday caucus will endeavor to
