WOODSMEN EARN $5 TO $10 A DAY CUTTING PULPWOOD

Munition Factories Not Only Places Where Big Wages are Paid, Maine Experts Earning Highest Wages Ever Known

(Bangor Commercial) Munition factories are not only the places where big money is earned. Right here in the state of Maine, first class woodsmen who can cut two or more cords of pulpwood a day are receiving from $5 to $10 a day cutting by the cord for a big paper company, the Great Northern, which has put most of its pulpwood cutting on the piecework basis.

WAGES IN THE WOODS THIS WINTER

Wages in the woods this winter will be higher than ever before, ranging from $1.40 a day for main road swamper to $2.75 a day for A1 cooks. This means that the lowest wage the woodsman will be $36.40 a month and board and the highest for men who are not wages will be $72.50. Never in the history of the woods of Maine have such wages been paid.

Men of no great industry or ability can get jobs in the woods at the lowest wages, as long as they are able to do anything at all.

The Great Northern is evidently planning to lay in a big supply of pulpwood in anticipation of a possible labor shortage, caused by the war, as it now has a considerable supply of wood.

The sensationally high wages paid to men cutting pulpwood has not been an unshared blessing.

Domination of the woods, however, was Wm. Farnum. His playing of the two roles gave the camera man great opportunity to use his art, for he pictures the two characters as in life, moving, living and both at the same time.

The French and Germans in Hard Fighting

Forces of Both Sides Succeed in Penetrating Opponents' Lines

Paris, July 26.—German assaults were renewed last night along a front of about two miles on the Alsace front from the village of Hurbelle to La Bionette. The French official statement issued this afternoon states that at the cost of five thousand losses the French were able to penetrate into certain elements of the French first line trenches.

The Germans also renewed their assaults on the French positions at Hurbelle Farm, but the attack broke down under the trench fire of the French. The principal artillery on the left bank of the River Meuse in the Verdun region was maintained with the usual violence.

TALE OF TWO CITIES IS GREAT PICTURE

Gem Presents Another Classic Feature—Dickens Readers Delighted With It

There is a treat at the Gem for readers of the Evening Times. Charles Dickens' masterpiece, "The Tale of Two Cities," which is not a few regard as the master work of the great English novelist. The picture, detailing the gripping tale of the French Revolution, was directed by a master hand, produced by Wm. Fox as one of his super deluxe offerings, and the characters are played by a notable company headed by no less a personage than Wm. Farnum in the dual role of Sidney Carton and Charles Darnay.

The story, as it came from the pen of the master writer, is closely followed, the staging and the costuming are true to time and place, the scenes in old London are deeply interesting and those during the stormy times of revolutionary days are stupendous and gripping.

One thousand persons took part in the enormous building had been placed, surrounded by a stout wall and a deep moat. Across the ditch stretched a narrow, narrow Parisian street, the people of the city captured the fortress. Then they piled into the structure and began the work of demolition.

Equally striking were the scenes in the Old Bailey, the trial of Darnay in Paris and the battle of good Miss Fross against Madame de Farge in the interests of Lucie Manette.

Domination of the woods, however, was Wm. Farnum. His playing of the two roles gave the camera man great opportunity to use his art, for he pictures the two characters as in life, moving, living and both at the same time.

MEAT STORE

At 255 Main street (opp. Adelaide street), where I hope to receive a share of your patronage. Beef, lamb and mutton are working on piece-work to our standard schedule prices and are doing fairly well, considering the short time they have been employed in this class of work.

We did not advertise for the women; they have all been recommended by reliable working men in the car department; so that we are assured of a respectable class of young women who are desirous of earning an honest living.

As these women were honestly handicapped at first getting in and out of cars and getting their skirts caught in the various obstacles in and around cars while wearing the ordinary female dress, we have secured, through our stores department, a quantity of the standard uniform overall suits for women which consists of a cap and jacket-coat with belt around the waist, and pantolon overall laced at the ankles, which makes a very neat and smart looking outfit, and remove any handicap they would otherwise have been subjected to and enable them to go about their work with the same freedom and safety as our men. These uniforms are delivered to the women and the wholesale cost charged them and deducted from their wages.

We have also been employing for some time a woman in an upholstery shop, who are occupied in sewing carpets, window blinds and seat coverings. In our also have women in our time office and store room, where they are looking after the various duties assigned to them in a very satisfactory manner.

RAILWAYS USING MUCH FEMALE HELP

Canadian Girls and Women Have Shown Skill and Ambition in Their Work

Montreal, July 26.—C.P.R. and Grand Trunk officials are looking forward to employing girls and women on a much larger scale than heretofore, owing to the more vigorous prosecution of the war, which will call for material unutilized by the voluntary system. So far as this employment has gone the women and girls have given unequalled skill and ambition to learn the work in which they have been engaged, and J. Coleman, Grand Trunk superintendent of car service, voiced the opinions of the railway executives in general, in recounting the forms of work in which the women and girls had excelled.

"We have been very fortunate in securing a good class of young and intelligent women who immediately showed skill and ambition to learn the work," said Mr. Coleman, "and who are already giving very good satisfaction at such work as staining, filling, varnishing and rubbing down ash window stops, facemouldings, dining car chairs, tables, and various other small work that is done in the varnishing room. We are also using the women for painting inside of baggage cars and bronzing fixtures and steam pipes inside passenger cars. We are also training them to rub down and polish inside of passenger cars, as we very often have hard pressing for doing this work when the painters are required for varnishing and other heavier work on the outside of cars. All our women are working on piece-work to our standard schedule prices and are doing fairly well, considering the short time they have been employed in this class of work.

We did not advertise for the women; they have all been recommended by reliable working men in the car department; so that we are assured of a respectable class of young women who are desirous of earning an honest living.

FOUGHT AT VIMY RIDGE

A Houlton letter says:—Perhaps no mother in Houlton felt any more proud than did Mrs. W. D. Nason on Monday evening when her son who has been serving in the Canadian army overseas appeared on the threshold of his home, coming, unannounced. Mr. Nason, a mere lad of twenty-one, and slight for his years, saw four months of sharp fighting at Vimy Ridge. He was wounded in the leg and from the nature of the wound the lad will eventually receive his discharge from the army. He was a member of the 115th Battalion. The Commercial correspondent in talking with him Tuesday, was pleased to learn that conditions in the hospitals were of the best. The soldiers are beautifully cared for and their wounds are attended to by competent and skillful nurses and physicians. The young man claims that the Canadians are fairly well fed and that supplies are very well distributed, although there are many comforts for which they suffer at Hoes. On being asked if the Germans were anxious to give up the reply was: "The Germans who have gone over from America to fight for the Fatherland are only too glad to give up and become prisoners. The natives here, bred and who have lived all their life in Germany know of no motto but to win out no matter how." He also said that the wounded men left on the battlefield suffered tortures for they are left unattended and in misery.

HONORS QUEEN ELISABETH

King of Italy Gives Albert's Consort a Medal for Military Valor

Paris, July 22 (delayed).—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy has presented a medal for military valor to Queen Elisabeth of Belgium, in expression of his admiration for the courage which the queen has shown since the beginning of the war. The medal was delivered to the queen by Margus Carignan, Italian minister to Belgium, and General di Wrangale, who were entertained at luncheon by the queen after the ceremony of presentation.

This incident is another refutation of the rumor which has been current since the Germans made their successful drive in Belgium, near Neuport, that the queen of the Belgians had been made prisoner by the British for having supplied information to the enemy. As a matter of fact, the king and queen of England visited the king and queen of the Belgians on July 7. Queen Elisabeth visited French wounded in a hospital in the Dunkirk district on July 14.

The rumor became so widespread that the Belgian legal authorities at Hoes decided to prosecute any one who spread it, "thus becoming unconsciously an accomplice of German manoeuvres by distributing calumnies against the Belgian sovereigns."

German propagandists are evidently using the fact that Queen Elisabeth was born a Bavarian duchess to give color to their report that she has been suspected of treachery to her adopted country.

We haven't cleaned enough local businesses

Far away from home we were cleaning up. In fact business was great with the salesmen on the road.

But at home where it was easy for us to handle a big volume, our business amounted to next to nothing. And there was no reason why our product shouldn't be as saleable right in our own town as in any other.

I found out the reason. We weren't going after it. We expected it to come in unsolicited. So I concluded that what we needed were some live wire city salesmen. But where were we to get them? Ah! A clever hunch! I want ad. in the Times-Star will find them. So we put in an ad. which cost only a trifling amount. It worked fine. I had many applicants.
