

REGATTA COURSE CHANGED TO HARBOR FROM COURTENAY BAY

Threat of Boston Braves To Pennant Contenders Looms Strongly

THOUSANDS ARE EXPECTED TO WATCH EVENTS

Championship Ball Game With Moncton Also Carded

THE regatta today will be held in the harbor and not on Courtney Bay, it was decided at a meeting of the Saint John Rowing Club Committee yesterday afternoon. Objections to the Courtney Bay course moved the committee to make this change. The races are now within easy reach of citizens and are expected to be witnessed by thousands. Three races are on the card, the Ross Cup race, the four-oared race, and the senior singles.

In addition to the regatta, sports fans in the city have also a championship ball game carded between Moncton and Saint John on the East End grounds starting at 3:30 o'clock with the regatta scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock. The Harnish will pitch for the Watermen, and it likely that Harris Wall will be the Moncton slapper. John Armstrong will be back in the line-up with the locals.

A former Saint John player is in the Moncton line-up in the person of Eddie Stirling, brother of W. E. Stirling. Eddie pitched last year here on the Saint Johns and this year has been part in several games for the Moncton team.

Graville Ring, captain of the Millidgeville crew, said members of the crew felt slighted in that they were not asked to participate in the regatta. Officials said yesterday that the events were open and no dates set, the fault rested with the Millidgeville crew. The Millidgeville crew will likely challenge the McGinnis crew if they win today.

The positions for the three races are as follows:

Ross Cup—Anthony Belyea, No. 1; Art O'Connell, Halifax, No. 2; Grenville McAvour, No. 3; Ronald Ingram, No. 4.

Four-oared crew—McGinnis, Crown No. 1; Micmacs, No. 2.

Senior Singles: O'Connell, Hilton Belyea, Jack Ward.

Bessie McKillo Takes Presque Isle Feature

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., Sept. 10.—On the closing day of the Northern Maine Fair, Bessie McKillo (210½) the community owned pacer racing over her home track, won the free-for-all race today with a time of 2:10½. Her home, while old John R. Braden kept well up, but made no fight.

The $2,000 2:11 pace was fully as much of a feature and was landed by John Williams with the home horse Floyd Direct cleaning up the sensational Fort Fairfield gelding, Pexkin. Billy Keyes came through with his campaigner Ella Watt in the 2:18 class, making something of a "come back" and surprising some of the spectators.

Mon. H. C. Russell, of Belfast, president of the Maine State, started the races.

Constructive Ideas Now Need of Amateurism In The Maritimes

PRESIDENT DOYLE'S appeal to eliminate all personalities through the newspapers in a discussion of the present amateur status and continue the issue to constructive ideas for the betterment of conditions must strike a responsive chord in the hearts of those who are honestly striving for a fair deal.

To pry open the cover and reveal a state of affairs that is disconcerting, to say the least, is never a pleasant task, but having uncovered what is rotten, there seems little need to get up on the housetops and tell the world that it is the other fellow who is all wrong.

Who will disagree with President Doyle when he says the proper place for this is at the special meeting in the form of concrete charges and proof? None, we hope.

It is enough that in such a crisis as has arisen there is need for some clear-headed thinking and acting and that no good will ever be accomplished by petty bickering among sports leaders in an effort to justify themselves before the public.

There is no need to labor the point. It must be patent to all who are sincere in their desire to help amateurism.

Full, frank, aboveboard discussion is welcomed and desired. Personalities should be avoided.

This question of amateur and professional has been a debatable subject ever since the first pre-historic man ran his race for life with the dinosaur. That, however, was a professional race, out and out. There was not much love of the game in it unless it was on the side of the dinosaur. In this case the cave man was a pro. A rich stake was at the other end-life itself.

Any man who runs for his life is not an amateur.

The extinct mesozoic animal (we borrowed this description from Mr. Webster) must have felt free and happy in that great world with no bothersome M. P. B. affidavits to take and no starter's pistol to worry him. It was just a free happy-go-lucky contest from his viewpoint with the winner taking what he could get.

HE never lived in any dread of bullets announcing his suspension. That came later when the bulletins took the form of bulletins. They rushed him just as amateur bulletins run many a good athlete today.

What we started out to say was this is a vexed question and must have caused considerable debate among the cave camps just as it causes much battling of words at annual amateur meetings.

After man became proficient with the slingshot and other gentle weapons of the dinosaur ceased to trouble the boys who played in the Pre-Historic League. They got together and formed a union with everybody working overtime.

The moral is somewhat plain.

They took the professional element out of the races by turning the tables. It was no longer a race for life.

It developed into a good old-fashioned, free-for-all. Some critics are kind enough to say that there has not been much improvement since then.

We can all be friendly with ourselves and others in this matter. It is by no means a hopeless case and if the present is a tolerant spirit, there is nothing under the sun can prevent their solution.

You can't beat the gang that works as a unit.

It would surprise some bitter critics to reverse the outlook and look on the good side.

How about starting right now. Is it such a hard thing to overcome the small things a desire to make things right where to overlook?

This is a big job. It demands men big enough and fearless enough to take off their coats, roll up their shirt sleeves and get down to business.

TUNNEY REPORTED IN SPLENDID SHAPE

Challenger Rounding Into Form For Battle With Champion on Sept. 23

STRONDSBERG, Pa., Sept. 11.—Among those who watched Gene Tunney at work today was Bill Gibson, his manager, who pointed with considerable pride at Gene's big shoulder spread and the development of his arms and body.

"When Gene came out of the army, Gibson remarked, 'he weighed just 168 pounds. Today he is just twenty pounds heavier and tonight he has put it all on by long, hard training outdoors for the battle he is to fight Sept. 23.'

Gibson also announced with great cheer that Tex Rickard now had a million, one hundred thousand dollars banked from the receipts that have already been paid in.

"There won't be a ticket left except the cheaper seats a week from today," Gibson said, "and on the night of the fight I believe there will be at least 100,000 people turned away. It will be the biggest gathering that ever saw a fight and the biggest crowd, side by side, that ever gathered for a sporting show in the United States. I might say the world, but the United States is enough ground to cover."

Tunney looked to be in the same fine condition through his six rounds.

BRYAN DOWNEY LIVENS MATTERS

Bryan Downey roughed the scrummage up and this was what Gene wanted. Downey is the rough, tearing in type although no Dempsey in any way. On Tuesday and Wednesday before the contest comes off, he will do only light bag punching and limbering up. His main idea now is not to go stale and stumble into a slump. This has been done more than once before.

The challenger believes he is ready to enter the ring now at an hour's notice, so he and Lou Fink, the trainer in charge, are working for a keen edge at the main moment.

"It is absolutely necessary," he said, "to be mentally right as well as physically keen. I have fought before when I was tired before the first round was over. On the night of this fight I want to be keen to go and not worn down through over training."

Gene can still use a bit more speed. He isn't slow, but he has to face one of the fastest heavyweights in ring history and speed will be a big factor in this battle. Tunney will need all the speed he can find in order to have anything like an even shot.

BROKE UP WITH KEARNS TO KEEP FAMILY PEACE

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Jack Dempsey was quoted yesterday as having split with Max Baer, because the heavyweight champion's wife, the former Estelle Taylor, could not get along with his erstwhile manager.

In an affidavit filed by counsel for Baer, the latter's suit for a third of a million dollars against Dempsey, Dan McKittrick, well known boxing promoter, declared the champion told him the break was necessary "to keep peace in my family."

Boxing Promoter in Affidavit Says Dempsey Told Him This

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Self confidence and ring generalship are the prime requisites of a pugilist champion, in the opinion of Jack Dempsey. Puncturing strength and physical conditions are, of course, necessities, but mastery of mind over an opponent wins many battles that mere punches and shiftness of foot would lose.

The champion delivered himself of this opinion after his workout yesterday in reply to questioning as to what method of battle he would employ against Gene Tunney in their title fight in Philadelphia, Sept. 23. Then the champion made a startling statement: "I always fight the other fellow's way," he said. "I figure if I'm champion I ought to be good enough to match any style of fighting that a pugilist can bring to the ring."

He said he would not be a pugilist in each fight, some clever fellows would be able to follow him to points in that style and beat me. And there are, of course, weak points in any manner of fighting. Therefore, I always let the other fellow start something and I try my best to finish it.

Last night Dempsey, in a moment of gentleness, sent in a message of goodwill to Tunney. In his message the pugilist said he hoped Tunney was training for the fight, assured the champion that he would be in excellent condition for the fight, assured the champion that he would be in excellent condition for the fight, assured the champion that he would be in excellent condition for the fight.

U. S. TENNIS TEAM RETAINS DAVIS CUP

Williams and Richards Clinch Series by Defeating French Pair

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—For the seventh consecutive year and the tenth time in the history of Davis Cup competition the United States has established her world's supremacy at tennis. The defense of the historic trophy was settled today as decisively as it was begun when the United States doubles combination of Richard N. Williams and Vincent Richards smashed their way to triumph over France's pair, Jacques Brugnon and Henri Cochet, in a sparkling three-set tussle, decided by scores of 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

This was the third straight victory for the United States over France, whose bright hopes, as the survivor of 24 original national challengers, have been blasted for the second year in a row. Coupled with the convincing triumph of "Big Bill" Tilden over Jean Borotra and "Little Bill" Johnston, the decision gave the United States the three points necessary to settle the challenge round series on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club.

The formality of getting a license for the challenger.

All the seconds and handlers who will be in both corners will also receive their permits and other details of the bout will be discussed.

Dempsey will resume his training at the Kennel Club racetrack tomorrow afternoon and Tommy Loughran, the light heavyweight from Philadelphia, will be one of his new sparring partners. Loughran arrived this afternoon with his manager, Joe Smith, and it was expected that the details concerning Loughran's engagement to spar with the champion would be settled before tomorrow.

Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, also is expected tomorrow and if he arrives in time he will go in the ring against the champion. The three days' lay-off by the champion has made him hungry to get into the ring. Canvas walls have been made for three sides of the ring at the dog track as a windshield when Dempsey is working out in bad weather. He will take no chances whatever of contracting a cold.

Dempsey expects to "work" steadily for the next ten days. He may alternate his sparring partners using the light ones one day and the heavy ones the next. He will probably work Friday, Saturday and Sunday and then if he feels that he is getting overworked he may lay off again for a day or so. The strenuous work will be revived again tomorrow.

A man called at Kerry Cottage this morning when Dempsey was absent. He wanted to see the champion and was told by the attendant that he was not in. The man was John L. Sullivan in his 75th year, 34 years ago. The stranger said he was an admirer of the champion and wanted to see him. He was told that he would see him tomorrow. He did not leave his name.

WATCHES BATHING BEAUTIES

Although Dempsey had announced that he would not come to the cottage today to see the beauty pageant on the boardwalk, he changed his mind and was at the Ambassador Hotel this afternoon watching the spectacle pass.

The champion went out for a three-mile walk this morning, but it was nothing more than strolling, and afterward he went fishing with Mike Trant. Dempsey caught a fish which was two feet long, but just what kind of a fish it was no one connected with the Dempsey camp seemed to know. "We are not in the fish business," they said. "It is only a diversion for the camp."

The question of the referee for the big fight just now is absorbing the interest of the champ and his handlers. It is understood that Dempsey has submitted a list of six Pennsylvania referees to Frank Weiner, chairman of the Boxing Commission. The names include Frank McCracken, Pop O'Brien, Tommy Reilly, Arthur Nolan and two others whose names have not been divulged.

Both Dempsey and Tunney have received assurances from Frank Weiner that they will get a square deal from the Pennsylvania commission on the question of a referee. The boxers are anxious to have a strong man in the ring to pull them apart if necessary, and one who has a technical knowledge of ring rules.

RULES ONLY IN DEADLOCK

Under the rules of Pennsylvania the referee is not called upon to make a decision only in case of a deadlock between the two judges. In case the judges disagree the referee is the sole judge.

The referee question will probably be one of the topics discussed at a meeting which will be held in Philadelphia at a meeting of the boxing commission and the managers of the two boxers. At this meeting also it is also expected that Billy Gibson, manager of Tunney, will go through

"Honey Boy" Bill

HUB NINE HANDS CARDS SETBACK BY 11-3 SCORE

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Boston Braves, who knocked the New York Giants out of the National League pennant in the closing stages of the 1925 baseball season, threaten to treat St. Louis likewise in the present scramble. The Cards lead today is but 2½ games, with Cincinnati still second and Pittsburgh third, three apart.

The Braves, languishing at the tail end of the circuit, were directly responsible yesterday for the Cards' half game loss to the Cincinnati Reds, and the Pirates, who spent the day in a futile effort to solve the second place problem decisively. The Braves smote St. Louis lustily, 11 to 3, while Cincinnati and Pittsburgh won games from each other by the same score, 9 to 2.

The threat the Braves offer to the three contenders can hardly be minimized, as all three leaders must meet them shortly. Boston has a habit of taking copious defeats in their foreign tours, only to turn upon invaders of their home park, with dire results to pennant aspirations. The Cards have three more games with the Hubmen, Cincinnati two and the Pirates three.

In home games played against this trio this season, just half, or 12 out of 24 battles, have gone the Boston way. It was the same Boston team that proved hardest for Pittsburgh to defeat last season, when the world champions were cruising pennant-ward.

Philadelphia embated Boston, rising to smite the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 4, and break Guy Bush's record of eight straight victories. The defeat pushed the Bruins three games below third place.

Heavy silence shrouded the leaders of the American League, with St. Louis halting the six game winning streak of the Chicago White Sox 5 to 4.

U. S. TEAM WINS AND CLINCHES DAVIS CUP

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—The United States today clinched possession of the Davis Cup, tennis championship trophy, for the seventh straight year, when her doubles team of Richard N. Williams and Vincent Richards defeated the French pair, Jacques Brugnon and Henri Cochet, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.
