The sisters are Mrs. Harry Ring, Mrs. Shubert Carvell of West St. John, and Miss Violet, at home. The funeral will be on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, daylight time, from her late residence.

TYPHOID CASES.
It was announced at the Board of Health this morning that since July 1, seventeen cases of typhoid have been reported in St. John City and County and one case came in today, making a total of eighteen. This also includes hospital cases reported to the board from the city and county. When each report is received the medical officer from the board visit the patient and premises to find out the source of the case. In doing this the name of the milk vendor is taken and the matter thoroughly investigated in order to discover the cause of the outbreak of the disease.

MILITARY CHANGES.
The dispersal station at the armories, a branch of the casualty company of the district depot, which was established for the purpose of disposing of men who have come from overseas, has been closed, and the work is now being carried on by the casualty company of the district depot. The officers and men employed there are being disposed of in due course. Captain R. A. Major, who was employed in the station, has been struck off the strength and it is understood that he will be adjutant of the 22nd Regiment permanently. Lieutenant L. McC. Ritchie, who was also employed there, was struck off the strength and has been appointed to the department of soldiers civil re-establishment, in Fredericton.

COUNTY COURT.
The case of Glenard vs. Carleton was resumed this morning in the St. John county court. His Honor Judge Armstrong presiding. This is a writ of replevin served on the defendant on June 22, 1919, for the recovery of a box of tools alleged to have been illegally detained on the defendant's premises. The defendant, James Carleton, merchant, counter-claims damages for a breach of contract entered into by the plaintiff for building an extension to his store on the corner of Brindley and Water streets. The defendant contends that on May 17, 1919, the roof of his building was not finished and lacked cementing that a drip strip ordered by the defendant had been put up and then torn down and that certain curtains had been damaged by the plaintiff's negligence. The defendant occupied the store all morning. The case for the plaintiff will open this afternoon and several witnesses will be heard. J. Teed is for the plaintiff and D. Mullen, K. C., for the defendant.

THROUGH ST. JOHN ON THE WAY HOME

Report That 100,000 Chinese Coolies Will Go Through Here On Way From War Zone

It is understood that the Chinese labor corps, which number about 100,000 coolies, and were transported from China through Canada, embarking at Halifax during the war, will be repatriated back to their homes through Canada, landing at Halifax and going over the Canadian Pacific Railway to British Columbia, where they will embark for China. These men, who passed through St. John, caused large numbers of spectators to meet the train to get a glimpse of the Oriental men who were going to France to help in any way they could in the light against Prussian militarism. It has been remarked by men who have been overseas that these coolies always went about their several tasks with a smiling face and were cheerful and good-natured under all conditions.

THE MARTELLO HOTEL TO BE FOR ORPHANS

Temporary Home There is Urged
By P. O. Home Directorate

Ready Soon For Reception of Parentless Children—Three-
Story Building With Thirty
Rooms—A Good Arrangement

It was announced today that the Martello Hotel, so called, situated on the northerly side of Queen Square, West St. John, had been leased by the Protestant Orphans' Home directorate as a temporary hospice for the extension of the British street institution and its work and that with some renovations and minor carpentry changes, the large building would be made ready in a short space of time for the reception of parentless children.

This decision was practically arrived at at a meeting held on last Thursday afternoon in the Home, Britain street, at which C. H. Peters, vice president in the absence from the city of Theodore Estabrooks, president. There was a large attendance of lady and gentlemen directors. David Hipwell, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, and others reported on the inspection of the Martello Hotel property as a citizens' committee and the directors were pleased with their finding.

It was said that the hotel, which is a three-story building, contained more than thirty rooms of various sizes and nicely adapted to the uses to which they might be put as an orphanage. During the occupation of the premises by the military the government had improved them greatly. The heating plant was found to be in excellent condition and ample for the coldest weather. The structural condition of the house was sound and in good repair. The roof was tight, the plumbing good. There are three bathrooms in the hotel, numerous large rooms for recreation and school purposes and roundabout the building grass plots to the extent of hundreds of feet belong to the equipment. Across the street Queen Square affords further playground.

In fact the Martello Hotel which the government leases for $800 a year and the insurance upkeep on a fire-year basis is wonderfully suited to the needs of the Protestant Orphan's Home at this present juncture and when it is opened for this purpose a bright, clean, sunshiny abode will welcome the little ones. There is some suggestion of placing boys in one institution and the girls in another within the West Side building is opened but this has not been decided.

The taking over of the Martello Hotel as a means of meeting the need of an orphanage accommodation was not done before a highly competent committee of citizens' and orphanage directors had thoroughly examined the premises. The gentlemen included Theodore Estabrooks, Henry Rankine, Judge Forbes, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, David Hipwell, William Campbell, C. H. Peters and several ladies. The building was examined by builders and outfitters and in a general way the leasing of it was urged as a highly suitable acquisition.

Mr. Estabrooks Speaks of It.
Speaking of the matter on the long-distance telephone this forenoon, President Theodore Estabrooks said that he felt perfectly satisfied with the bargain made as the building had been greatly improved of late by the government and the location was healthy and convenient. Several other properties had been examined and enquired into but they did not compare with the premises selected, some being inferior, others inconveniently placed and some too expensive. To meet the urgent needs of the hour he urged the signing of the lease, concurred in this view, S. E. Elkin, W. P. and R. W. Wignore, M. P., were of vital assistance to the committee in making the bargain with the government.

While the West Side building is of course too large for the present overflow of the orphanage it is a happy fact that its spacious rooms will accommodate a large number of little ones and put a stop to the oft-heard remark that New Brunswick has no further institutional accommodations for its Protestant parentless boys and girls. In fact it is thought that all New Brunswick will be taken care of nicely with the addition of the Martello Hotel to the orphanage plant and thus bridge a difficulty and allay a constant worry until such time as the larger and more comprehensive scheme of a big central and assembled institution can be carried out by the people of the province.

It is impossible for numerous reasons to contemplate the erection of a large new orphanage at this time. The matter has been gone into thoroughly by people of a big central and assembled institution can be carried out by the people of the province. To Help You Secure Right Results at Least Cost

Everett's is a home furnishing institution rather than a mere furniture store.

It is our mission to furnish homes—to create environment, and not to merely sell furniture.

In this sense the service of this store is scarcely subject to competition, for it reflects a sincerely worthy purpose to help you secure right results at least cost by giving you the co-operation of men specially trained in the art of home beautifying.

This co-operation adds nothing to the cost and means much in results. It is extended with the same cordiality whether your home is modest or pretentious and whether your needs are limited or otherwise.

All our furniture selections are personally made with the same deliberate thought and care you would exercise in choosing an individual piece for your home. We invite value comparisons.
