Don't let your Cough reach the danger stage use Shiloh's Cure now—it banishes Coughs—Cures Throat troubles

Some people who contract a cold are prone to say "it's not serious, I'll let it wear off." That's an unsafe attitude to take.

KEY SHILOH'S CURE IN TIME

One of the children goes about coughing—"Oh, Willie is pretty strong. I'll keep him home a day or so and the cough will go." Perhaps it will. Perhaps it won't.

THE FAMILY FRIEND FOR 40 YEARS—SHILOH'S CURE

SPENT $657,000 FOR JUNKETING

Charge Against U. S. Immigration Commission—Congress Refuses Another Vote of $125,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—By cutting of a deficiency appropriation of $125,000 for the National Immigration Commission, the House today left its support to several members, led by Representative Macon of Arkansas, who denounced the commission and its work and threatened it with immediate extinction.

Unless friends of the commission succeed in the item restored in the urgent deficiency bill in the Senate, it will be compelled to suspend work for lack of funds. The commission asked for $125,000 appropriation which it needed to wind up its task.

The commission has brought out a number of interesting reports dealing with conditions on immigrant-carrying ships and the lives of aliens after their arrival in this country. Several other reports on a number of allied subjects are in course of preparation.

Senator Dillingham of Vermont, is chairman of the commission and Senator Lodge is one of the members.

Mr. Macon made a scathing attack on the commission, charging that the members went on a junketing expedition abroad, spent $657,000 and had accomplished practically nothing.

Mr. Macon asserted that P. T. Barnum, one of the commissioners, who is also professor of political economy and politics at Cornell University, devoted the first part of each week to Cornell, an institution which he characterized as "playing politics all the time." He said that Wm. R. Wheeler, who is also secretary of the Merchants Shippers Association of San Francisco, drawing $10,000 a year from the association and $7,500 as a member of the commission, regarded the latter office as a political sinecure.

"I am advised," said Mr. Macon, "that this commission went abroad during the summer of 1907, it sailed May 13 and returned September 17, and that no report of the trip has ever been published. It seems the trip was a pleasure junket for most of the members. The commission made no progress until forced to do so by the late Senator Latham of South Carolina."

CIVIC FEDERATION AND LABOR UNIONS

John Mitchell Makes a Strong Plea for Support—$5,000 for Iron Strikers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 24.—The part played by the National Civic Federation in the industrial world was in question today in the convention of the United Mine Workers of North America, John Mitchell, formerly president of the mine workers' organization and now in charge of the trades agreement department of the Civic Federation, made a plea for the federation and pointed out in its favor that the leaders of the National Manufacturers Association opposed the federation "as a labor trust conspiracy."

Mr. Mitchell asked the miners not to be prejudiced against the Civic Federation, because President Lewis of the United Mine Workers had joined the federation until he was better satisfied of its purpose. Mr. Mitchell was welcomed with cheers by the delegation.

A motion to appropriate $5,000 from the mine workers' treasury for the assistance of the Iron, Steel and Tin Workers was referred to a committee.

It is said to be the purpose of the packers to lay in a big supply of live stock should the market prices fall and farmers and ranch-owners may stop shipping of the boycott affect prices.

RUBBERS AND ETERNAL VIGILANCE NECESSARY

For Workmen on the Ice Palace—Contractor Has Spent Many Sleepless Nights Keeping the Men at Work.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—A pile of glistering blocks of ice, soft in color, and merged into the lowering mist—the ice palace last night under the rain.

Gasoline lamps picked spots of light in the blue curtain, and showed two men bending over a blue-print of the structure. Badly blistered and crumpled by the rain the print was being torn and stretched to show the contours of the edifice.

Suddenly one of the contractors—for both the chiefs were on the job—let go the print, ran around one of the small towers and disappeared from view. The man with a small axe chopping the snow-frosting of a large block of ice with an automatic action which suggested extreme weariness and overwhelming desire for his downy bed, raised his voice in a loud snuff.

"What is all the excitement about?" asked a Herald reporter.

"Don't die!" exclaimed one of the contractors, "we are having great trouble. All night long we have to walk round and round this building like guards in a prison. We keep our men from running to their wives and homes. I am just like I was drunk for a long time. I did not sleep for all this week, and if I go home we will not see ten men at work on this place tomorrow morning."

The other guard returned, picked his way over blocks of ice, and with a worried smile, said to studying the blue-print again, while his partner was gesticulating in showing the progress made.

DEMAND RUBBERS

"All night long," he went on, "we have big trouble. My partner and I have to run about, jump blocks and dodge in and out, to head off laborers who do not want to keep at work. To-day we had about seventy-five men at work and they promised to stay all night. Ten men came to me when it was getting dark and said that as they had no rubbers, and it was not safe to work on the slippery towers, I will buy you rubbers tomorrow, I promise, and tonight to keep them from going, I bought them some which cost $11. I pay them good wages, thirty-five cents an hour for masons, and twenty-five cents an hour for laborers, and they can work all around the clock if they want to. I wish they would."

During the protracted he was keeping his guard wandering from spot to spot, behind half-finished walls, detached towers and high in the sky, where, on an incomplete scaffold, two derricks were ready to lift the ice for the central part of the building. Now and then, with apologies, he would dodge into some of the towers to get the rubber and when he returned he would be heard. There is a crying need for a properly organized Ice Palace, the pleasure of Montrealers anticipating the lighting up of the Ice Palace on Thursday evening next. It is more securely assured if a detachment of local militia were loaned to do sentry go.

VERY POOR ICE SUPPLIED

"All the same," continued the boss as he emerged with a smile on his face, which spelled his success in keeping a sleepy man at the post for a few hours more. "I think we will have it done on time. When it will be lighted up I doubt if the structure will be there."

PRESIDENT'S RESIGNATION STARTED RUN ON BANK

Canadians Chief Stockholders of Mexican Institutions—Is solvent.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Jan. 24.—A run on the United States Banking Company of this city started at midnight and closed today. Twenty accounts aggregating 200,000 pesos were withdrawn. Officials of the bank declare the institution is solvent.

The run started when it became known that the president of the bank, who had resigned, depositors were paid in full, as fast as checks were presented. It is rumored tonight that the run will be resumed tomorrow.

The National Bank of Mexico and the Bank of Montreal have placed James Forsyth, assistant manager of the Mexican branch of the Bank of Montreal, in charge of the affairs of the United States Banking Company. Most of the stock of the latter institution is held by Canadians. Mr. Ham, a Canadian, has transferred his fortune of 2,500,000 pesos to the bank to prevent its closing. He is now in a sanatorium suffering from overwork.

The United States Banking Company is capitalized at 2,000,000 pesos, with deposits of $8,000,000 pesos.

AGAIN BLOCK CARTER BILL

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—The Carter bill, which proposes to close saloons at ten o'clock on week day evenings with the exception of Saturday, when they are to close at seven o'clock, was blocked again by its opponents. A special meeting of the city council had been called for three o'clock for the purpose of dealing with it, but when that hour arrived a quorum of the aldermen was lacking. Three aldermen then signed the book, blocking the holding of the meeting.

THREE AND SEA.

"By the way, what is the tree most nearly related to the sea?"

"The beech, of course."

"Are you sure? Isn't the bay tree nearer?"—London Scraps.

will be entirely complete, for the trouble with the workmen is not the only one. The first ice we got from Black River was poor stuff, not so thick as that now coming from Verdun, and half of it was snow. The men have to cut half of it away and use it for the smaller work.

"At first everything went wrong. As you say, we erected a staging from which to unload the blocks of ice which came at a long string of cars and went by flat car. This was impossible, for when a car load would stop at the siding the regular car service would be interrupted, and I had contractors waving fare boxes in my face, and saying nasty things all day long."

- NOISE OF MANY GONGS

"The work would go on well some days, and I would dream that it would soon be finished. But the gong of the Black River car would come across the fields, and soon there were lots of gongs making a noise, and I would look at a long string of cars and very hungry passengers. Use the staging? I thought to myself. I had to call my men from the highest towers often to pull off the blocks from the car and let them slide down the embankment, where they again had to be hauled to where we wanted them. Now this work is being done by team and today we got thirty-eight tons of good thick, clear ice. But the men, the men, they are the bother.

"In the rain it is slippery, and we have families. There is sickness at home, oh they have much invention. All thought the night my partner and I walk, walk, walk until we are giddy. The figures of the two men being obliterated by the mist as they disappear from the Esplanade Avenue caused an interruption in the conversation. Truly, as he suggested, this morning may have been less than ten men, on an all-round continuous job."

Clever Work of Wagon Pickpocket—Did Not Get Away With It

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Warner M. van Norden, president of the van Norden Trust Company, is $28,000 poorer in pocket and corresponding wiser in judgment of when to be polite but cautious.

On Wednesday night Mr. van Norden went to the theatre and stopped at the Waldorf after the play. His wallet, in the pocket of his dress coat, contained $28,000 in $1,000 bills and $800 in four $100 bills and one $500 bill. As he stood before the hotel hesitating, a well-dressed woman passed him and dropped her hand-bag. Mr. van Norden stooped and picked it up. Then a second woman stumbled on his feet and in regaining her balance, threw her arms about his neck. There was a moment of confusion, many apologies and then all three went their several ways.

When Mr. van Norden examined his pocket-book next morning he found the twenty-eight $1,000 bills were gone. He reported the robbery to the police instantly and two arrests followed to day. MAUDIE FANCIED PHYSICAL MUSIC

Got Ideas From Greek Vases and Statuary

A Native of Toronto, Miss Allan Went Abroad to Study the Piano But Became Enamored With Dancing

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Maud Allan, the American girl who has been dancing for the past two years at the Palace Music Hall in London, arrived on the steamer Lusitania, bringing along several trunkfuls of her wardrobe of chiffon and some new views on the subject of a Salome dance. Miss Allan has never appeared publicly in this country, which she left fourteen years ago to study the piano at the Hoch Schule in Berlin. It was in 1902, however, that she decided to abandon a career as a pianist, which was then very much in the air.

EXPRESSIVE OF MUSIC

"I never took a lesson from Isadora Duncan or anybody else," she said yesterday. "My inspiration came altogether from the study of the Greek vases and statuary and from my own ideas as to the way to express physically what music meant to me. I began in Vienna in 1893 at the time Miss Dupon was beginning in Berlin, and it is impossible that I should have imitated her or anybody else."

Miss Allan is not tall, and her figure is slender. Her speech is a combination of a western American accent with a superlayer of broad English "a's." She is a native of Toronto, although her childhood was passed in California.

"It is not by my dancing as Salome alone that I have met with success," Miss Allan declared. "For I have several matinees in London just to test that question, and the houses were just as large as at any other time. And I do not to be described as a Salome dancer. My dance is called 'The Vision of Salome,' and refers to the Biblical sentence, with no connection with Oscar Wilde's poem. My conception of Salome as a very young girl, possibly not more than 12. She is hidden by her mother to dance before Herod in order that she may ask for the head of John and thus cause his death. She is quite innocent of what she does, and delights in pleasing the king by her dancing, and after she has finished asks for the head of her mother, her mother and is carried back with her ladies to the rooms from which she was called to the banquet hall."

WILL GIVE UP DANCING.

"Then suddenly she grows thoughtful. Why had she been brought there to dance before her mother's death? The prophet whom she had never seen before. As she thinks of what has passed, she is overcome by a sense of foreboding. She feels that she is being deceived by the Oriental fashion comes to her cheek and then her lips in pardon. Then when she dances she is full of nervousness, headache, irritability, dizziness, swollen ankles, tired, aching limbs and frequent urinating at night. The reader, old or young, may take this preparation with the certain knowledge that there is probably nothing anywhere which will do so much good for the kidneys and besides it is safe and cheap to take regularly until all trouble ceases. Mix fluid extract Buchu 1 oz., compound fluid balsam 1 oz., compound fluid sassafras 1 oz., compound fluid opoponax 1 oz. Take a teaspoonful before or after meals and one when retiring."

Miss Allan never danced a child any more than children ordinarily do, and said that the only call she ever heard was to the piano.

"My mother's voice calling me to come in and practice was almost the only call I heard in my childhood," said Miss Allan, "and I cannot remember that I ever dared to disobey that. Yet I am sorry that I have my music, for I am going to give up dancing for other plans that I have. In this way I think one goes on to what one's ultimate destiny will be."

Her Daughter Took Very Sick As Result Of Catching Cold.

Mrs. Dennis Delaney, Friar's Head N.S., writes: "At the close of the year 1907, our youngest daughter, five years old, caught a cold, which resulted in a very severe attack of whooping cough. She became very weak and could not move around at all. We consulted doctors and gave her various kinds of medicine but they did not seem to relieve her any. On the advice of a friend I procured a bottle of your valuable remedy, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using the first bottle noticeable improvement was the result and after using three bottles she was entirely cured. I can testify that it is through your valuable remedy that she regained her strength and would advise every mother having young ones similarly afflicted to obtain your valuable remedy. For myself I would not be without a bottle in the house."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree combined with Wild Cherry bark and other pectoral remedies. It has stood the test for many years, and is now more generally used than ever. Price 25 cents at all dealers. Manufactured only by The T. Millers Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MOTHER GOOSE DECIDES IT.

A Most Learned Judge Confounded by Romulus vs. Remulus.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—"What's your name?" asked Magistrate House of a little old negro who complained in the Tombs court that some boys, and a negro who came with him had "perserved" him.

"Who, me? My name's Romulus."

"And what's yours?" the magistrate asked the other.

"Who me? My name's Remulus."

"Romulus and Remulus? Brothers?"

"Yassuh," said Remulus. "I was standing cleaning my harness (I wasn't spelling the sidewalk), and he came and perserved me."

CROUP

THERE IS NOTHING that strikes terror to the hearts of parents more than to be awakened in the night by the ringing cough which accompanies an attack of croup. The child may retire with nothing but a slight cold and a few hours later the family be aroused by the ominous symptoms. Every home where there are small children should be prepared for these sudden attacks, as prompt treatment is necessary. Do not experiment with remedies of doubtful value, but get that has been in use for nearly forty years and never known to fail.

Mr. Homer Krohn, of Lisbon, Iowa, in a letter to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, praises this medicine for what it has done for his children. He says: "It has not only saved them once but many a time. Only two weeks ago my boy had the croup so bad in the night that had it not been for having a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house he would have choked to death. It is a medicine that no one should be without at any time." It is pleasant to take and many children like it.

Attacks of croup are most likely to occur during the early winter months, and every family with young children should be prepared for it. Keep a bottle of CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY in your home. It only costs a quarter, large size 50 cents. Your druggist sells it.
