Cantata "Joseph" Presented-Historical Society to Investigate the Old Fort Recently Discovered.

CHATHAM, N. B., Nov. 23.-We are having exceptionally fine weather, just cold enough to give the impression that autumn is here, but almost fine enough during the day to remind one of April. The river is still free of ice, except little drifted along the south shore. Nearly all the small craft have been tied up, but the ferry boats between Newcastle and Chatham are still upon the route. The down-river boat has been discontinued and the light-ship has been brought into winter quarters. The pilots have about ended their season's work, and the buoys are again

eacefully lying upon the custom house wharf.
Considerable quantities of smelts are being caught by hook and line, gillnets and otherwise. They are of fine quality and command a ready sale. The bag-net season will open on Dec. 1st. It is a pity that the authorities at Ottawa could not arrange to have fishing industry—poles in process of preparation, shantles being built, baraprons enquired after, sleds and other appliances, such as stoves, lanterns, is a great ready-money industry, and vailable.
