JESUS COMFORTING HIS DISCIPLES.

GOLDEN TEXT.

Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.—John 14: 1.

I. COMFORT THROUGH FAITH IN THE SON OF GOD. 1. Let not your heart be troubled. Jesus says that his disciples were troubled (1) by the treachery of one of their number; (2) by the foretold fall of another; (3) by the number and intense hatred of their enemies; (4) by the knowledge that soon their Master would be taken away; (5) by their disappointment that the kingdom of God was not set up in the open and glorious way they expected; (6) by their dread of the unknown future.

II. COMFORT THROUGH FAITH IN A HEAVENLY HOME. 2. In my Father's house. Heaven, his home, where he speaks of a dwelling, where he shows all the qualities of a home, the place from which the only begotten Son came to this earth.

III. COMFORT THROUGH THE PROMISE TO ANSWER PRAYER. 13. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do. For analogous passages in the Bible are: Gen. 22: 17; Deut. 32: 29; Ps. 34: 15; 37: 4; Jer. 29: 12, 13; Joel 2: 32; Matt. 7: 7, 8; Mark 11: 24; John 15: 16; 16: 23; James 1: 5; 1 John 3: 22; 5: 14, 15.

from the Son. Words... works These are taken as correlative and coextensive here, all the working of the Lord Jesus being a speaking, a revealing of the Father. The words and the works of Christ are pointed out as the two proofs of his union with the Father, the former appealing to the spiritual consciousness, the latter to the intellect.

What Disease is this that is Coming Upon Us?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the morning has a taste especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable, and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become constive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste; the digestive system is deranged; the taste is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision is impaired; spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., but none of them have succeeded. The treatment has been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach as well; for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is) all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time. There are many cases of this disease in this class of complaint, giving almost immediate relief. The following letters from chemists of standing in the community where they live show in what estimation this disease is held by the people. I can confidently recommend it to all who may be suffering from liver or stomach complaints, having the testimony of many cases of cure from their own experience. The following is a true statement of the nature of this disease. The sale is increasing wonderfully.

John Archer, Hartmill, near Sheffield:—I can confidently recommend it to all who may be suffering from liver or stomach complaints, having the testimony of many cases of cure from their own experience. The following is a true statement of the nature of this disease. The sale is increasing wonderfully.

Geo. A. Webb, 147, York Street, Belfast:—I have had a large quantity, and the parties have testified to its being what you represent it to be.

J. S. Metcalf, 55, Highgate, Kendall:—I have always great pleasure in recommending the urative Syrup, for I have never known a case in which it has not relieved or cured, and I have sold many gross.

Robt. G. Gould, 27, High Street, Andover:—I have always taken a great interest in your medicines and I have recommended them, as I have found numerous cases of cure from their own experience. The following is a true statement of the nature of this disease. The sale is increasing wonderfully.
