Show Time!

In a little over 48 hours from now, the well-worn curtain at Teachers' College will go up and the 1959 Red 'n' Black Revue will be underway. A year ago saw the Senior Class extravaganza staged in the first term for the first time in its history and the result was extremely pleasing. Originality keyed the Revue with the emphasis on musical numbers and sophisticated songs.

Now, a year later, we wait and anticipate as the 13th annual is run through its final dress rehearsals. After financial difficulties earlier on, the show has progressed steadily through three weeks of rehearsals. The only questions which remain to be answered are those which lie in the minds of you, the potential audience.

There is only one way those questions may be answered: Go and see the show.

If . . .

(Dr. Sidney Smith in Torontoensis)

If you choose to work, you will succeed; if you don't, you will fail. If you neglect your work, you will dislike it; if you do it well, you will enjoy it. If you join little cliques, you will be self-satisfied, if you make friends widely, you will be interesting. If you gossip, you will be slandered; if you mind your own business, you will be liked. If you act like a boor, you will be despised; if you act like a human being, you will be respected. If you spurn wisdom, wise people will spurn you; if you seek wisdom, they will seek you. If you adopt a pose of boredom, you will be a bore; if you show vitality, you will be alive. If you spend your free time playing bridge, you will be a good bridge player; if you spend it in reading, discussing and thinking of things that matter, you will be an educated person.

If your goal is social prestige, your life will be empty; if your goal is to serve society, your life will be full. If your goal is to live fully, you will be free to live. If you are conceited about how much you know, you will be stupid; if you are humble about how much you do not know, you will be wise. If you try throughout life's journey to recall and enlarge what you have learned of the cultural and intellectual and spiritual heritage of the past, so as to stand on the giant's shoulders and see further, "to follow knowledge, like the sinking star, beyond the utmost bounds of human thought," you will travel joyfully. You will never arrive at your goal—you will never know all that you try to know—but in trying you will become what you could never otherwise have been, and the world will be a better place by virtue of your quest.

Letters to the Editor

"Ignorance, Mr. Fairbairn"
 Sir: With respect to a recent column entitled The Hotbed by Dave Fairbairn, we wish to take issue with his pronouncement that "ignorance is not a fact before the law". His column, we submit, is a prime example that ignorance is a fact whether before the law or not.

UNB Hilltoppers

Sir: I read with much disgust your reply to Mr. Jack Riley. I happened to read his column and I feel that he made much more sense than your weak attempt to make him look foolish. You proudly state "the Brunswickan has been responsible for most of the (team) names (at UNB)". Now we have finally learned who the idiot was that tagged school teams with names like "Bloomers", "Raiders", "Beavers", etc. Why not grow up like other universities and call

Oh! The Jones Boys

Beset

With a threat

They'll smash the chimes and stop the clock

If the girls come in for good and the boys go out en bloc.

The Jones Boys kicked out so that the Jones Girls can move in . . . such has been a rumor which has raised controversy in recent Brunswickans. Actually, basis for this controversy doesn't exist. As everyone knows, some co-eds have taken up residence there for some time now. So all that is necessary is to throw out the men.

However, if the men do go, so will all the rowdy traditions—for women, we know, are the . . . weaker sex. Pool parties would disappear because there's nothing women fight about that can't be settled by a saucer of milk. Scottie, LBR janitor since the fall of Québec, would no longer be able to earn his living from empty beer bottles . . . co-eds drink spirits. Sadder still, if women came in they would probably bring dancing into the Residence formal.

Further, with LBR femininely quiet, there would be no centre of healthy disturbance left on campus — other than Hothead. Finally, we know co-eds wouldn't want permanent residence in our hallowed halls. Mainly because an LBR toilette is insufficient for any woman to paint herself up enough to deceive unsuspecting males. A washroom consisting of two cracked mirrors, four basins with eight taps running ice-cold water and two showers issuing forth only scalding steam, would defeat any feminine strategy.

But if the girls did move in, at least the oldest tradition of all would survive . . . an athletic one. When the boys left, they'd take their room keys with them. And they'd be right back to play Chesterfield rugby . . . under Canadian rather than International rules.

all our teams by the same name. A suggestion would be "Hilltoppers".

As it stands now, the names of our teams look cheap, phoney, and inept. This follows since it was the Brunswickan that thought of them. Why not take a leaf from the book of Jack Riley? At least he is thinking.

You could use someone on your staff who does.
