

cluding charter, warrants, membership cards, etc.

Upon receipt of charter proceed to elect officers as laid down in Article II. of the party Constitution. At each business meeting follow out the order of business as laid down in Article VI.

It would be well to devote the first business meetings of the Local to becoming thoroughly familiar with all of the provisions of the party Constitution, platform, etc. When this is well in hand the work of spreading the propaganda by holding public meetings, circulating literature and other means should be taken up.

A Local, from its inception, should train itself to attend as closely as possible to such work as legitimately belongs to it. It should learn to be accurate and methodical in keeping its records, both financial and otherwise, in making reports to the party committees and in attending to correspondence. It should be strict in requiring its officers to give close attention to their duties; it should give close attention and scrutiny to all reports made by the Dominion or Provincial Executive Committees, thus keeping closely in touch with and well informed in regard to all party work.

Locals should realize that a continually increasing volume of work is falling upon the Executive Committee of the party, a burden which they will make easier if they refrain from fault-finding, suspicion and distrust. A measure of confidence must of necessity be placed in officials, and it is but fair to assume that they will attend to their duties and carry out their instructions as closely and completely as possible under the circumstances surrounding them.

It can not be too strongly impressed upon Locals and party members that energy expended in
