MR. BORDEN BACK IN THE HOUSE.

The return by acclamation of Mr. B. L. Borden, Conservative leader, will be a subject of congratulation among Conservatives generally. He had many safe Ontario seats offered him, and accepted that of Mr. Kidd in Carleton, a constituency which goes Tory by six or seven hundred majority.

The affair constitutes quite a picturesque incident in the political history of Canada. In no general contest Mr. Borden not only failed to carry his own seat in Nova Scotia, but in addition, that province elected a solid phalanx of eighteen Reformers. That under such circumstances the Conservatives should at once have taken steps to secure him a place in the House, not only speaks volumes for his own personal popularity, but also for the party loyalty. The spectacle is certainly a direct contrast to the treatment of Hon. A. Mackenzie, and Hon. Edward Blake, who when they met with reverses as Liberal leaders, were very promptly side-tracked by their associates.

Mr. Borden returns to the head of the Opposition forces on the distinct understanding that he is to have an absolutely free hand, and although his following only totals 75 out of 214 seats, there can be no doubt that he and his colleagues will put up a good and an aggressive fight on behalf of the national principles they espouse. Without any question, if his health is spared, Mr. Borden will, in the not very distant future, become the premier of this Dominion.

ASHES ON STREET

"There will be no more kicking against ashes on the street," remarked Chief Holmes this morning, "and Colonel Sam Holmes can have them all taken off. Personally, I think that the ashes are a good thing for the street. If the people would only put them on the side of the road, and get out of the gutter when the snow is on the ground, then there would be no complaints. But people will persist in putting the ashes in the middle of the road when the snow is on the ground, thus spoiling the sleighing, and it is no wonder that the people object. When there is no snow then the middle of the road is the place for the ashes. Charlie Baxter fixed up a piece of road over the creek last year and it is the best of the unpaved streets ever there. Then look at the way M. H. Stevens has fixed up the streets around his mill with cinders. If the people will not exercise judgment in the disposal of their ashes, there is no recourse for the police but to enforce the by-law. It will be done."

ORANGEMEN MET

The annual meeting of the L. O. L. County Lodge, of South Kent, met on Tuesday, Feb. 7th, in the Orange Hall, King St. All the primary lodges in the county were well represented and an enthusiastic session was held. Very gratifying reports were given by each primary lodge in the county.

It was unanimously decided to celebrate the coming 12th of July with the brethren of North Kent, at Wallaceburg.

The next annual county meeting is to be held in the city of Chatham, and the semi-annual to meet at the call of the Worshipful County Master.

After a large amount of business had been transacted, the W. C. M., Bro. Wesley Sussex, vacated the chair, and called on P. C. M. Bro. Alex. Longmore to preside, and the election and installation of officers for 1905 resulted as follows:—

W. C. M.—Wesley Sussex, Bothwell.
D. C. M.—Duncan Campbell, Chatham.

Chap.—Wm. Simpson, Ridgeway.
Sec. Sec.—Wesley Saw, Chatham.
Treas.—B. Bothroyd, Thamesville.
Fin. Sec.—W. A. Gallagher, Chatham.

D. of O.—A. F. Stephens, Chatham.
Lect.—Howard Bloom, Blenheim.
Dept. Lect.—Thos. Jenkins, Glenwood.

The officers being duly installed were called upon for short addresses, and each responded in a few well chosen remarks, after which the county lodge was duly closed.

A BROAD STATEMENT.

This announcement is made without any qualifications, Hem-Roid is the one preparation in the world that guarantees it.

YOUR MIRROR TELLS THE TRUTH

If your mirror tells you that your face is losing its roundness, the eyes their lustre and the cheeks their glow, don't blame the mirror. You are losing flesh—there's a waste somewhere. Try the scales. You don't tip the beam at the point you did formerly. It's several notches back. Try on last year's clothing. Doesn't fit so snugly, perhaps. These are all evidences that you need Scott's Emulsion because you need more flesh. Nothing picks up lost flesh or stops wasting like

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Losing flesh may be all right for people who are overweight, but the average person can spare little and retain the even balance of health. If your body is in need of more flesh, try Scott's Emulsion. If there are any evidences of wasting, try Scott's Emulsion. It will put you back in normal condition and restore your lost weight so quickly that you will wonder why you didn't try it before.

SACHEL OF THE SATELLITE

And again I see the B. Mistake queering the market.

This fashion plate City Council of ours will go on record.

We couldn't let you go, Dick. You've just got to stay.

Ross was urged to go, but Chief Pritchard has been urged to stay.

Market Builder John Edmondson was up against it Monday night.

I'm thinking I'd advise some of the Chatham saloons to comply with the law.

How do you like the Cabinet I picked out for the Hon. J. C. Whitney?

I've been wondering if the price of liquor licenses were raised, would the hotel men see the raise.

That grip that Ross is packing must be about the size of Noah's Ark.—Hamilton Spectator.

I wonder if the Grit office holders will be able to hold on with their teeth like G. W. Ross did?

The Chatham City Council is determined not to cut down the opportunities of securing booze.

You notice that the Council pays a whole lot of attention to the Banner arguments in regard to the market.

I hope that the hotel licenses aren't raised. They tell me that you only get a small beer for five cents now as it is.

Ald. Bell is wondering how some of his brother aldermen know so much about the hotels. No, I can't enlighten him.

The Property committee has ordered a bigger envelope for use in connection with Chief Pritchard's salary on pay day.

The aldermen were all dressed up in their Sunday-go-to-meetings Monday evening. No doubt this was a tribute to the many ladies present.

The Earl of Warwick, some time deceased, was known as a king maker, but I'm only an ordinary cabinet maker. Every man to his trade.

It was real mean of me and the Hon. J. C. Whitney to disappoint the B. Mistake by leaving Ganey and Beattie Nesbitt out of the Cabinet.

Colonel Sam Holmes says that he doesn't know what happened to anyone else in the matter of licenses, but he does know what happened to him.

Some of those school trustees are worrying about the heat problem. A hundred years from now they may be worrying over the same problem.

Everything is all right in its place, but only there. A sleeper is a very necessary piece of railroad furniture, but it is absolutely useless in a church.

I don't see how the aldermen could say that they didn't understand the market plans. Here the Banner has been "explaining" all about it for over two months.

WHAT IS A STAR BOARDER?

I heard two fellows arguing the other day. One said that a star boarder was the boarder par excellence. The other fellow contended that it was the boarder who lived on his nerve. The first had the original meaning, but I am afraid that in star boarder there is another example of a good phrase gone wrong, and the last given meaning is the one that sticks.

WILL INTEREST EVERYBODY

Or at Least Everyone Who Suffers From Cataract.

Cataract in its various forms is a national disease, and the fact that nearly every body suffers from it, more or less leads many to neglect its proper treatment.

Nasal cataract is a common cause of headaches, destroys sense of smell and if neglected reaches the throat, causing impairment and sometimes total loss of voice. Bronchial cataract leads easily to consumption. Cataract of stomach and liver are very serious and obstinate troubles, while it is now generally admitted that cataract is the most common of all causes of deafness.

All of the more serious forms of cataract begin with nasal cataract, the local symptoms, being a profuse discharge, stoppage of nostrils, irritation and frequent clearing of the throat, sneezing, coughing and gagging.

The old style of treatment with douches, inhalers, sprays, salves, etc., simply give temporary relief and everyone who has used any of them knows how useless they are and their inconvenience is such that very few have the time or patience to continue their use.

A radical cure of cataract can only be obtained from a treatment which removes the cataractal taint from the blood because no one will now dispute that Cataract is a constitutional or blood disease, and local applications can have no effect except to temporarily relieve local symptoms.

A new remedy which has been remarkably successful in curing cataract is a pleasant tasting tablet which is taken internally and acts upon the blood and mucous membranes.

It is composed of antiseptic remedies like Red Gum, Blood Root and similar cleansing specifics which eliminate the cataractal poison from the system.

The tablets being pleasant to the taste are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach the throat, trachea and finally the stomach and entire alimentary canal. They are sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Stuart's Cataract Tablets.

If desired, when there is much stoppage of the nose, the tablets may be dissolved in warm water and used as a douche in addition to internal use, but a douche is not at all necessary. A few dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. Dr. Ainslie says: "The regular daily use of Stuart's Cataract Tablets taken internally will cure the whole cataractal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche or an inhaler."

They seem to give a healthy tone to the whole mucous membrane and it is really remarkable how soon they will clear the head and throat of the unnatural and poisonous cataractal secretion. Stuart's Cataract Tablets is undoubtedly the safest, most palatable and certainly the most efficient and convenient remedy for any form of cataract.

Tom Groves two years ago took a picture of G. W. Ross over to the police station and hung it up on the door in the men's room. He said if Ross won it could stay there. It stayed. To-day he put a black border round the picture and turned the face to the wall.

John Poile, the popular cobbler in Somerville's shoe store, pointed out to a Planet reporter this morning that several of the Maple City teamsters have been breaking the law all winter by neglecting to have bells attached to their sleighs. It is strictly against the law for teamsters to drive along the streets without bells to warn pedestrians of their approach and the matter certainly should be looked after, as serious accidents are apt to occur. The offending teamsters should take the kindly hint to themselves.

Ald. Ainsworth and Mr. Filby are engaged fixing up the old house on Stanley avenue adjoining ex-Ald. George Gordon Martin's property. The structure was once an hotel. It then stood where the Taylor flour mill now stands. That was in the early days of Chatham. Tom Burke was the landlord and his hostelry was the headquarters for all the farmers. He afterwards built the brick hotel now known as the Park House. The frame building was occupied as a dwelling house for some years by a relative of the late Wm. Gray. One of the children in the family had five fingers and six toes and was quite the wonder of the other children. Later the building was moved to Stanley avenue and of late has been used as a dwelling house. Ald. Ainsworth says that there is no doubt of the age of the house, as nearly all the timbers and joists are black walnut.
