

GOSSIP.

The next regular annual meeting of the American Shropshire Registry Association will be held, as required by law, at La Fayette, Indiana, at the office of the Association, on Tuesday, November 29, 1910, at 4 o'clock sharp. This is the week of the International Stock Show in Chicago.

AN ANACHRONISM.

When some celebrated pictures of Adam and Eve were seen on exhibition, Mr. McNab was taken to see them. "I think no great things of the painter," said the gardener, "why, man, tempting Adam with a pipin of a variety that wasna known until about twenty years ago!"

Mr. D. Brown, Iona, Ont., whose sale of Oxford Down sheep, and steers, was held October 20th, reports a successful sale, the steers bringing over 5 cents a pound, and the top of the sheep bringing twenty-one dollars. Byron Robertson, Wheatley, Ont., bought 10 ewe lambs, 4 yearlings and 18 aged ewes. Geo. Miner, Union, Ont., took 6 yearling ewes, and Peter Campbell, Lawrence, 5 aged ewes.

A valuable Jersey cow belonging to Judge Edmund Waddill, of the United States District Court, strayed away from the judge's summer home near the State fair grounds at Richmond, Va., and was discovered by one of the fair attendants who thought the cow was an exhibit. He placed her in the proper place for cows of her class, and she was awarded a red ribbon. It was not learned that the cow was a stray animal until Judge Waddill's advertisement was seen in the newspapers.

SIR HORACE PLUNKET ON RURAL EDUCATION.

Sir Horace Plunket, of Ireland, is one of the foremost thinkers of the world on matters that pertain to the welfare of the farm and the farmer. Here is what he thinks about rural education:

"Yet, the education given to the country children has been invented for them in the town, and it not only bears no relation to the life they are to lead, but actually attracts them toward a town career. I am aware that I am here on ground where angels, even if specialized in pedagogy, may well fear to tread. Upon the principles of a sound agricultural education, pedagogues are in a normally violent state of disagreement with each other. But whatever compromise between general education and technical instruction be adopted, the resulting reform that is needed has two sides. We want two changes in the rural mind—not omitting the rural teacher's mind. First, the interest which the physical environment of the farmer provides to followers of almost every branch of science must be communicated to the agricultural classes according to their capacities. Second, that intimacy with and affection for nature, to which Wordsworth has given the highest expression, must in some way be engendered in rural mind. In this way alone will the countryman come to realize the beauty of the life around him, as through the teaching of science he will learn to realize its truth."

HOW THE "SANDWICH" ORIGINATED.

It was Lord Spencer's uncle, the third Earl of Sandwich, who added a word to the language in consequence of a wager, says The London Daily Chronicle. The bet was that, by cutting off the tail part of his overcoat, he could bring into fashion overcoats so short that the skirts of the undergarment would show beneath. He won the bet, and "Spencer" became the name of both of that garment, and of the party who afterwards constructed in its honor. The peerage has added more names to the terminology of costume. Everybody knows "Wellingtons." The lillycock hat is said by some to have been named after the Duke of Devonshire, Earl of Leicester. But none of these names is in the sphere of clothes. It is said that the Earl of Sandwich devised the sandwich as a device to enable him to dine without leaving his desk.

Unless you treat your ailments in the right way, you can't expect to cure them. We'll buy a 50-cent bottle of Psychine (pronounced Si-keen) from your druggist and give it to you free to show you how effective is the right way.

It's not so long ago that the doctors bled a man to make him strong.

"Stuff a cold and starve a fever" is miles behind our to-day's knowledge of curative science, yet our fathers had it preached to them time and again.

You may not know it, but to-day there are just as ineffective methods of cure being preached and practised.

All because most people do not know the real cause of disease.

There are two kinds of corpuscles in the blood—red and white.

The red corpuscles contain nutrition, the white destroy disease germs.

If for any cause the white corpuscles become depleted and are not sufficiently strong to destroy the germs of disease, then disease controls the body.

That's the cause of disease.

Years ago certain herbs were found to cure disease.

They didn't know how or why in those days, they do to-day.

And it's because these herbs build up the white corpuscles.

These herbs are contained in Psychine—they're responsible for the great results obtained from Psychine a third of a century ago.

The Full Percentage of Cream

Getting the full percentage of cream from milk depends as much upon the oil used to lubricate the separator as upon the separator itself. Gummy oil will cut the fine bearings of your machine, spoil its balance and waste good cream in the skim-milk pail.

STANDARD Hand Separator Oil

never gums, never rusts, never corrodes. It feeds freely into the closest bearings and insures the perfect lubrication that is essential to the free spinning of the bowl and the complete separation of cream from milk. It lessens the driving effort and lengthens the life of your separator.
