A Short Sketch of the Order.

A Short Sketch of the Order.

The Catholic Order of Foresters was organized in Chicago in 1883 by a few ardent spirits who thought they saw the necessity of such an organization which would combine both sick benefits and insurance. Rev. Father Ryan, St. Michael's cathedral, Toronto, was one of the prime movers at that time, he being then in Chicago.

The order has grown steadily since that time, having increased in the year 1896 by over 16,500 members, and since January 1, 1897, by 4,000. During the month of March, 19 new courts were added to the order, which now numbers upwards of 4,000 members in Ontario, with 69 courts. In the Province of Quebec we have nearly 150 courts, with 9,000 members:

The order was organized in Ontario in the city of Kingston over six years ago.

The order has now 689 courts scattered over eleven States and provinces.

We are governed by a supreme court, election bi-annually, whose officers are elected by the delegates of the different States and provinces elected annually at the State and Provincial Convention.

The committee having charge of the annual communion reported that all arrangements were completed and that the members of St. Joseph, Sacred Heart and St. Leo Courts would receive Holy Communion in St. Patrick's Church on Sunday, May 2, at 9 o'clock Mass. The quarterly reports of the Financial Secretary and Treasurer were read. The Finances of the court are in an excellent condition. The committee was appointed to arrange for an excursion during the Summer.

ne last regular meeting of times Branch was held in their hall, 165 Farley avenue, last Tuesday evening. The meeting was a decided success, about one hundred members being present.

After considerable important business had been transacted, Rev. Father Dollard, of St. Helen's, parish, was called upon for a few remarks. The Rev. Father replied in his usual manner. Among the many good things he said he was glad to see so many Catholic young men banded together for the grand course of total abstinence. Success in this nineteenth century depended upon the actions, and habits of a man. If he cultivates the evil habit of intemperance in early life he will ultimately ruin good prospects of becoming successful in future years. He exhorted all the members to continue in the good work. They were on the safer side of becoming successful in their respective callings, by remaining members of the League than those men who would not give up the pleasures of the flowing bowl.

After Father Dollard come the Spiritual Director (Rev. Father Wm. McCann). He congratulated the Branch on the grand showing they made on Easter Sunday. Both in the morning at Communion and in the evening at the reception of new members they had done credit to themselves and to the League by turning out in such large numbers. He was proud of them, and hoped they would continue as they had done in the past. He referred to the aims and objects of the society, and in a very forceful manner showed the good accomplished through being a member of the League. Through frequent contact with the sacrarents they received very great assistance in becoming better Catholics and better citizens.

Sengs, recitations, etc., were liberally given by the members, among whom were Bros., Murray, Whelan, C. Frazer and Father Dollard.

The last number on the programme was a debate on the question "That prohibition would be for the benefit of the country." The debate proved very interesting, and drew forth arguments showing that St. Marry's Branch is not in the background for spe

A bazaar and fancy fair took place last week at Freelton in aid of the church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. The Leo Literary Society and some friends from Hamilton gave an entertainment at Freelton one evening during the fair. Owing to the energy of Father Murphy, and those who assisted him, the bazaar was a great financial success.

A mission was opened this week at Dundas by Rev. Father Doherty, S. J., of Guelph, and Father Devlin, S. J., of Montreal.

The Leo Literary Society and the St. Patrick's Literary Society both gave successful entertainments during Easter week to crowded houses.

At the religious reception and profession at Loretto Abbey, Toronto, on April 22, Miss Doherty, of Hamilton, received the veil. Her name in religion will be Sister M. Borromeo. Sister M. Jerome (nee Miss Alice Cogan, of Lindsay), who is now connected with Loretto Academy, Hamilton, was amongst the number of those who made the solemn vows in religion. Fathers Hinchey, Slavin, Burke and Holden, of this diocese, were present during the impressive ceremony.

MICHAEL SULLIVAN, POINT EDWARD Michael Sullivan, Point Edward.

Michael Sullivan, late cashier of the Grand Trunk, Point Edward, died at 11 o'clock, Monday night, after a few days' illness. He
good health, but was suddenly seized with an illness from which he never rallied. Deceased was born thirty-eight years ago in the town of St. Marys, of Irish parentage.
His family removed to Point Edward when he was quite young. He shortly after entered the employment of the Grand Trunk, and has been in the company's service for twentyfive years, having for the past year discharged the responsible duties of cashier, a

Mr. Sullivan was united in marriage several years ago to Mis Horkins of Campbellford, who survives him Horkins of Campbelliord, who survives him. Deceased was of a generous and genial disposition, and had a host of warm personal riends. In politics he was a strong adherent and supporter of the Reform party, among whom he possessed much influence, and during elections was one of the best workers in the Reform ranks; but while an ardent and energetic worker for his party, he was not a bitter and offensive partisac, and always enjoyed the friendship and respect of his political opponents. At the time of his death Mr. Sullivan was president of the Reform Association at Point Edward—a position he had held for many years. Deceased was a prominent member of the Catholic Church. Much sympathy is felt for the widow, orphan and relatives in their deep bereavement.

The tuneral of the late M. Sullivan took place from the residence Thursday, at 9:30 a. m., and was one of the most numerously-attended ever held in Point Edward, they being over sixty carriages lining up in the procession.

Among the floral offerings deposited on the casket was a beautiful wreath which was sent by the Reform Club of Point Edward as a tribute of respect to the memory of deceased, who had been their honored chairman. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Jas. Mara, Wm. McCleister, John Mahony, Geo. Ingersoll, J. B. Laurie and Frank Clement. After the remains had been viewed by friends and acquaintances the procession proceeded to the Catholic church in Sarnia, which was already crowded by the congregation. At the church High Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. D. P. Coyle, of Port Huron. JAMES HANRAHAN, ADJALA.

Died, at Adjala, on April 15, James Han-rahan, aged seventy-nine years and four months.

Deceased, was born in Kilkenny, Ireland, Jan. 6, 1818, and emigrated to New York when nineteen years of age. He resided in New York for four years, when he came to Adjala and settled on the farm on which he died, having lived upon it for over fity-six years. By his death Adjala has lost one of its oldest pioneers, and one of its noblest-hearted Irishmen. His charity knew no bounds and his purse was always open to the poor. The esteem in which he was held was demonstrated by the large cortege that followed his remains to the cemetery. He leaves a wife, five sons and three daughters to mourn the loss of a beloved husband and father. The pall-bearers were four of his sons—Thomas, James, John and Joseph—his son in law—John Ellard—and his brother-in-law—Robert McKenna. Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Kiernan, after which the remains were laid to rest in St. James' cemetery, Adjala. Requiescat in pace. Deceased, was born in Kilkenny, Ireland

Angus McIntyre, Brantford.

Daily Expositor, April 20, — Angus McIntyre, from some years engineer at the street railway power house, died this morning at 9 o'clock after a short illness. Deceased was on duty as usual Wednesday night, but on Thursday was attacked with pneumonia, which seemed to give way to prompt treatment, and he was apparently progressing fast towards recovery. Pleurisy developed, however, from which he suffered severely last night, dying this morning as stated. Mr. McIntyre was well-known to many in Brantford, having lived here nearly all his life. He was about fifty years of age, and has been a member of the C. M. B. A. for a number of years. A widow and five young children survive him. The funeral will take place on Thursday morning to the Catholic cemetery.

Daily Courier, April 22.—The funeral of the late Angus McIntyre took place at 8:30 this morning from his late home on Park avenue and was attended by a large number of citizens. About forty members of the C. M. B. A., wearing mourning badges, preceeded the hearse, and the street railway service, sent a large foral anchor inscribed "B. S. R. employees" which was laid on the coffin. Mr. McIntyre was a faithful, earnest, Godfearing man, whose duty to his fellows and his family was above all other considerations with him, and whose widow and young children will sorely miss his loving guidance. Rev. Father Feeney also read the burial service at the grave. The pall bearers were Messrs John Conley, Rodger McKinnon, Wm. E. Dunn, Jas. McGregor, R. M. Simon and Joseph Maxwell.

May his soul rest in peace!

Death has deprived our esteemed townsman, Mr. John Cummins, of the Government workshops, Cornwall canal, of his life's part ner. Mrs. John Cummins was the daughter of the late Mr. Henry McArdle, for some years a resident of Cornwall, and was most tenderly nursed through her illness by her fond mother, assisted by kind friends and neighbors, who loved her for her many good qualities of mind and heart, and who will teel their loss keenly. To her husband and mother, the sympathy of the community was made quite manifest by the very large number who followed the remains to St. Columban's church and cemetery.

MISS SARAH A. GLEESON, FLETCHER. The many friends of Miss Sarah A. Gleeson, of Fletcher, Ont., will regret to learn of her death, which occurred on Thursday, the 15th ult., at the residence of her brother Michael, after a long illness. Deceased was a born within a mile of this place, and was a daughter of the late Thomas Gleeson. Possessing an amiable and cheerful disposition she justly enjoyed a full measure of popularity. She was a devoted member of the Catholic Church, always remembering and faithfully practising her religion. She was very much esteemed by all classes of the community, and in return she extended the hand of fellowship to each and all regardless of the shrine at which they knelt. The funeral, which was largely attended, proceeded from her brother's residence to St. Patrick's cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Father Beaubien.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

A very pleasant and interesting affair took place at Ingersoll on Thursday evening of last week. The members of the choir of the church of the Sacred Heart, aided and abetted by the reverend pastor, Father Condity, had concected a conspiracy. The abetted by the reverend pastor, Father Con-nolly, had concocted a conspiracy. The victim of their machinations was the very efficient and popular organist, Miss Minnie Keating. The choir, accompanied by Father Connolly, assembled at her home and pre-sented her with an address and a beautiful gold ring, set with a diamond and two opals. The following is a copy of the address, which was read by Miss Belle McDonald:

College, whose long experience as an educate or enabled him to dwell at length, in a most earnest and enthusiastic manner, on the duties and obligations of the religious teacher. Rev. Dr. Teety urged upon his hearers the vital necessity of keeping before their minds the one great thought—that they were religious teachers. In science they must keep abreast of the times. Mathematics, literature, languages—in all, proficiency must be attained, but all must be subordinate to the great end—the moral culture, the soul-training of the child.

During the course of the convention, lectures on Psychology and Literature were given by Dr. McLellan, Principal of the Normal College, Toronto, in his usual scholarly and attractive style. Literature, he maintained, when taught by those who had soul to appreciate and to interpret the thoughts of the poet, might be made an instrument in the development of all that is pure and beautiful and true. The old-time method of making literature but a means of imparting facts in philology and grammar, he condemned, and spoke with enthusiasm of the work that neight be done to develop the moral nature of the child, if teachers themselves would but enter into the spirit of the poet and realize the great underlying truth to be found in every peem worthy of the name.

Mr. Murray, of the Model School, Toronto, was read by Miss Bellé McDonald:

Dear Miss Keating.—We are assembled here this evening for a purpose dear to our hearts, that of giving expression to sentiments long felt of gratitude and affection, for one who has endeared herself to us through long years by her unwearying patience, loving kindness and amiable condescension. We wish to prove the sincerity of our words by this token, trifling though it be in comparison with what our hearts would offer. To Rev. Father Connoly, whose zeal for God's glory is well-known and whose refined taste in the selection of sacred music is acknowledged by connoisseurs, is due our thanks for his generous co-operation with us in presenting this offering, thus approving his high appreciation of your services, and here we might say that not alone our devoted pastor and we members of the choir are in admiration of your success as organist, the congregation at large are unanimous in praising and thanking you. By your gentle forbearance and angelic swestness, dear Miss Keating, you render our task of learning to sing the praises of God an easy and attractive one and Jehange it into a pleasure. We feel justly proud of the great musical talent with which God has gifted you for His honor and glory and feel your unparalleled success as an organist, our own. In playing the organ and singing the divine praises you have everkept for your motto. "To the greater honor and glory of God," and herein lies the secret of your success. Now, dear Miss Keating, we beg you to accept this ring, meet emblem of the union which exists between us. That this union may be cemented by time and grow stronger with each returning year is the fervent, earnest prayer of your friends of the choir of the Church of the Sacred Heart.

The presentation was made by Mr. John O'Mara. The young lady was taken completely by surprise, and could barely falter a reply. This evidence of good will and appreciation affected her deeply. TEACHERS' CONVENTION IN great underlying truth to be found in every poem worthy of the name.

Mr. Murray, of the Medel School, Toronto, illustrated his method of teaching Oral Read-ing, in which he showed that reading is not imitation—that children can be taught to give proper emphasis and inflection to their reading, by a judicious questioning on the subject matter to be read. Miss Ross, of the same school, outlined a two years' course in phonic reading, taught a desson illustrative of the application of its principles, and gay her experience of nature study in the primary class. Inspector Prendergast considered the class. Inspector Prendergast considered the subject of Canadian history, warmly advocating, on the part of the teachers, a more extensive reading of works bearing on the subject to make its teaching more effective. Mr. Casselman, of the Normal School, dealt for some time, in a most interesting manner, with the principles of vertical writing and model drawing. Mr. Houston, director of Teachers' Institutes, gave his views on the teaching of composition and the peculiarities of the English sentence.

Mr. J. F. White, Inspector of Separate schools was present throughout the lectures

TORON TO.

The Easter vacation being devoted to convention purposes by the teaching faculty of the Province generally, the Sisters of St. Joseph of the archdiocese of Toronto, ever anxious to forward the interests of education and to maintain the high reputation to which as educators they have attained, decided to hold their annual convention at the particularly specified time.

On Tuesday morning about ninety teachers assembled in the spacious hall of St. Joseph's Academy, St. Alban's street. The opening address was ably delivered by Rev. Dr. Teefy, C. S. B., Superior of St. Michael's College, whose long experience as an educator enabled him to dwell at length, in a most earnest and enthusiastic manner, on the TORONTO.
