CHRISTIANITY AND TAXATION

Christianity teaches us that all men are brethren; that their true interests are harmonious, not antagonistic. It gives as the golden rule of life, that we should do to others as we would have others do to us. But out of the system of taxing the products and processes of labor, and out of its effects in increasing the price of what some have to sell and others must buy, has grown the theory of "Protection," which denies this gospel, which holds Christ ignorant of political economy and proclaims laws of national wellbeing utterly at variance with His teaching. This theory sanctifies national hatreds; it inculcates a universal war of hostile tariffs; it teaches peoples that their prosperity lies in imposing on the productions of other peoples restrictions they do not wish imposed on their own; and instead of the Christian doctrine of man's brotherhood it makes injury of foreigners a civic virtue.
