A WEAK ATTACK, INDEED.

When men do not care to meet face to face they adopt the safe method of going around the corner and discussing matters in a personal way.

Our editorial contemporary culture this habit of side-stepping what he cannot refute and indulging in means of his own particular brand of riposte and selfishness.

Referring to a letter which the Mayor asked to have published, reviewing the railway situation, and showing the inaccuracy of newspaper policy which treats other people's opinions to suit its own, the editor of The Standard prefers to discuss and insinuate rather than to debate matters on their merits.

We take the position that he as a public spirited citizen, interested in the promotion of the city, is entirely justified in conferring informally with Sir Adam Beck, Mr. Hanna or anyone else for railway improvements.

In the second place, Mr. Burgoyne knows quite well that the proposed terminal did not cost the city $100,000. The Railway and Industrial Committee spent sometime one evening endeavoring to calculate the cost and came to the conclusion that $50,000 was a fair figure.

ing of the N. S. and T. position in this city and would make it more difficult for the Hydro to acquire. If Editor Burgoyne were a gentleman he would retract what is obviously a falsehood.

We would ask Mr. Burgoyne if there is anything sinister in any member of a Council trying to negotiate for railway or industrial improvements, particularly when he is dealing with men who are trustees of our own publicly owned enterprises?

We would ask him also why he, as plain Mr. Burgoyne, is entitled to speak on behalf of the City of St. Catharines and if he has ever been selected as the confidential agent and reporter of what transpires locally?

of our contemporary's editorial a single fact or argument to prove that the extensions of the N. S. and T. in this city would justify the acquisition of the N. S. and T. by the Hydro.

Minister Says U. S. Students in Paris in Great Moral Danger

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Stentorian warning against the evil influences besetting the path of American students in Paris was sounded in Evanston by the Rev. Saney Fisher, assistant pastor of the American church in the French capital.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound."

Hospital for Sick Children TORONTO

Upkeep of Big Charity Requires Fifty Cents a Minute.

The 44th annual report of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, shows a notable advance in every department of its service to the suffering and crippled youngsters of this province.

The daily average of cot patients has increased during the year from 192 to 223, including children from practically every county in Ontario.

The income which must be forthcoming to finance this absolutely essential work figures out at seven hundred dollars a day; and as there is no endowment fund, all but a fraction of that amount has to be derived from individual benevolence.

For churches, societies, lodges, etc., who have more ample funds wherewith to assist the youngsters to a fair start in life, the naming of cots is suggested.

Literature, illustrative of all branches of the past year's work, together with any other information desired, will be gladly furnished on application to the Secretary, the Hospital for Sick Children, Colborne street, Toronto. Contributions should also be addressed to the secretary.

FROM CITY TO FARM

- (1) Gold Coin Potatoes grown from hand-selected tubers, and Marquis Wheat plot growing from hand-selected heads, on Rosehurst Farm, Cayley, Alberta.
(2) J. W. Lucas, an Eastern Canadian city boy, now owner of this Western Farm.
(3) Some of his Porkers.
(4) Grade Percheron Horses, used by Mr. Lucas on his Rosehurst Farm.

We are continually hearing about the farm boy who goes to the city, but we hear little about the city boy who goes to the farm.

He is now the owner of eight hundred acres of land in a block, and is interested in potatoes, in six and a half sections of land—4,160. On his farm he has produced as much as 100 bushels of oats to the acre and 66 bushels of wheat to the acre.

He has also been an exhibitor and prize winner at the International Soil Products Exposition and other exhibitions held in the United States.

Mr. Lucas was born in one of the cities of Eastern Canada. Like many other boys whose parents are in moderate circumstances he earned money after school hours delivering newspapers and in various other odd jobs.

He has always felt a desire to become a farmer, however, and it is not surprising that the call of the Canadian Government for settlers for free homesteads at once appealed to him.

located on his homestead in Cayley, in the southern part of the province, the same year.

These are some of the things a city boy has been able to do on a farm. Not only has he become the owner of a large area of land but on this land he is producing crops of the highest quality and a maximum quantity.

Practically the whole of the crop grown by him he sells as seed at a higher price than that obtained by the average farmer, and the demand for what he produces is greater than he can supply.

He is also a great believer in livestock as he has done naturally would be cattle, hogs and horses are raised on his farm and the same painstaking care in the selection of types and breeding is paid to livestock as he pays to the selection of grain, with results equally as satisfactory.

The success of John W. Lucas should be inspiring to many a city boy. "Any boy can do what I have done in this country," he says. "It is not a matter of persistence." To this may be added patience and a desire to excel, qualities possessed by most successful men, whether in a city or country.
