By a majority of nearly four hundred the market fees have been "hoisted." We believe the abolition of these tolls to be a good thing for the town. We do not consider it egotistical to claim that the articles in THE SIGNAL against the fees were the chief means of shaping popular opinion on the matter. It now rests with our buyers, and business men generally, to make Goderich the best market in the County. If they do not do their duty, little in the way of success can be expected. The Council must see to it that a stringent Market By-law is readily spanies in the enacted, and insist upon it being enpicture and grants, and forced, no matter who may grumble.
