Stock Fluctuations. New York, May 31.—The covering novement among the bears in the stock market, which set in on Wednesday, was resumed in the early dealings today, but with the satisfaction of this demand, the movement issued in almost total stagnation for a time and then reaction.

The extension of the movement has nelped by special strength in a few stocks due to individual causes. There was also some buying based on President Roosevelt's Indianapolis address. The course of the day's events indicated that the supposed market influence of the address had been overestimated in the professional transactions which sought to anticipate it. A more substantial basis for the improved feeling was the showing of net earnings of railro for April which came to hand. Reading was a conspicuous example with net earnings for the month of nearly $2,000,000 compared with $331,347 in April of last year.

NEW YORK STOCK COMMENT. New York, June 5.—The early drop in prices of stocks today served to throw discredit on yesterday's up-ward movement. This fact caused operators to become distrustful and to reduce their transactions to almost nominal proportions.
