Canada and the United States. directs attention to the very intelligent and friendly tone which has characterized the discussion by the American press of the proposed Re-ciprocity Treaty, and points out the great change of feeling which has taken place in the States regarding the future relations between the Dominion and the Republic. change of feeling has been observable for some time, though we do not recollect that it has before been taken notice of. We well remember how, until very recently, the American press—especially the N. Y. Herald and a few others of the same stripe-scarcely ever mentioned Catempt, and looked upon it as a mere appanage of the Republic, to be gobbled upon the first fitting opportunity. Such were the dreams of the old fire-eaters, who were firm believers in the American legend, faithfully handed down from father faithfully handed down from father Mr. Blake.

The papers of the American of plorations.

In the list of Bills presented to the Governor-General on Tuesday, two were reserved for the Royal assent, namely, the Act amending the Extradition Act, and the Act respecting Marine Telegraphs. The first was a Government measure, the second was introduced by Mr. Blake.

Con Skinner's full majority proves from the Gulf of Mexico to the North Pole, belonged by right to the States, and that the Stars and Stripes some day would float over all this wide domain. A portion of their press fostered this ambitious idea, and it for one and a quarter year is $3,557. was so often reiterated in Fourth of July orations, and in spread-eagle stump speeches, that men began to the lake. look upon this dream of absorption and unification as a certainty, and look upon this dream of absorption and unification as a certainty, and which only required time for realization. It is but rare, indeed, that we hear such boasting now. The terrible experiences which the Republic underwent during the war has taught her people wisdom, and purified her sentiment. Besides, the nation is grown older, is losing many of its youthful tancies, and her statesmen are becoming more impressed every day with the difficulty of governing aright the territory she now possesses, which in its colossal proportions presents so many diverse elements that it is no easy task to keep them from clashing and endangering the unity of the State. The Scottish American adduces another cause for this change of sentiment, and we cannot do better than give these in its own words:—"It is also dawning upon the mass of newspaper readers in the United States that there is across the border a community of four millions of peeple, with an area for an indefinite expansion of three and a half millions of square miles, and with a productive energy which in portions of Upper Canada has achieved material triumphs as striking as any which have been witnessed in the most progressive, sections of the Union. When bank discounts show an increase in one year of $12,500,000, equal to twelve per cent, on the gross amount; when foreigh trade has reached an annual value of $240,000,000; when, with trade on a specie basis, the country is proceeding to the energetic development of public works, for which money can be borrowed at a lower rate than by any community in the Union, the progress of Canada is as unmistakable as the favourable conditions which it presents for that progress. Reciprocity will be of advantage to both countries, but the mutual good understanding which it will serve to maintain may prove of greater importance still.

THE REFORM PRESS .- The St. Mary's Argus says: "If there is one thing above another the Reformer party of the Dominion should be proud of it is its Press. The party has been in power but a few months, but short as the time is, it is long enough to show to the world that its Press is no subservient tool to the powers that be. It cannot applaud what in its inmost soul it does not approve. Official pap has no effect upon it. It allows itself full liberty to criticize every act of the Government, and render credit when credit is due, while it is not slow to denounce the whatever it may think detracts from the principles it has so long and withfully advocated. This has been without a portion of it has taken on the tariff, as brought down by Mr. Cartwright, the present Finance Minister. The organs, failing to see the utility of certain advances in the tariff, were the very first to denounce it, and spoke out manfully for, what it considered the right." every act of the Government, and it, and spoke out manfully for what it considered the right."

The Ottawa Times in speaking of the late session says that Mr. Speaker. Anglin discharged the delicate and responsible duties of his exalted position with very great ability. He succeeded admirably in preserving that dignified and independent atfitude which has ever been the characteristic of the distinguished gentlemen who have of recent years filled a similar position in the British House of Commons. At once urbaine, dignified, and impartial, the new Speaker, has in the course of the session aron the favorable opinion of even shose who were his inveterate opponents when he occupied a seat on the foor and took an active part in the conflict of debate.

Leading politicians in the States are colling to the conclusion that the presence of heads of departments on the floor of the House is necessary, and would facilitate and improve the passage of Government measures.

The Stratford Beacon understands that Mr. W. J. Spicer-General Superintendent of the Grand Trunk west of Montreal, has received the appointment of Superintendent of the whole road. He is expected to assume the new position about the first of July. The promotion is a popular one among railway men and will be equally so with the publication.

Rid of Small-Pox.—The authorities of their village anno mee that their village is now entirely free from small-pox. The disease was first contracted by the late Mr. B. Hill from a whip maker, who came from Elora, and who was just recovering from its effects. This man imparted the infection to several other persons with whom he came in contact, but owing to the strict sanitary measures adopted, the disease was confined to those partner and places to which he had access. In all there have been fourteen clases, two of which were fatal, but not necessarily from small pox, as both persons were in a delicate state of health for some time previous. Drayton has suffered materially by the visitation, yet the has nothing to reproach herself with for lack of precaution to prevent the spread of the disease, and now rejoices in the total removal of the infection.

EXERNSION.—The contracts have been let for which is the contracts have been

EXTENSION.—The contracts have been let for extending the EloraPublic School. Mr. Sutherland has the contract for the stone, Lawrence & Crackle for the plaster, Stevens & Son for the wood, and Mr Leech for the paint. Altogether the "addition will cost about $3,000."

Congress has granted the widow of Captain Hall $1,836, being the amount of pay due him when he died on the Poaris, and paying her fifteen thousand lollars for the papers of the Arctic exclorations.

REMOVAL.

G. B. FRASER

Has removed directly opposite his old stand, where he has opened with a bran new stock at much lower prices than could be bought earlier in the season. G. B. Fraser is too modest to advertise that he is solling much cheaper than those who make a great blow. Still facts are stubborn chiels, and a discerning public pronounce Fraser's to be the cheap store to deal in.

G. B. Fraser gives his old friends a cordial invitation, and invites all who wish to save money to call and see his new stock.
