These gentlemen have put themselves into a plight so ugubrious that he might at least have tried to look sympathetically sad. Their situation resembles that of a regiment stuck fast in a bog which they entered in hope to outflank the A SENSIBLE PROCEEDING

Friday's Good Buying Items

Editorial:- It could only happen here or in some other big Hudson's Bay Stores at this season of the year, that people run into such extraordinary buying propositions. Of course, with stock-taking so close at hand, it is our earnest desire to reduce stocks to as near their proper level as good storekeeping will allow. This is, perhaps, the main reason why the store is so busy these days and customers generally so intent on buying. But there is another reason, and one that all our customers thoroughly a preciate. It is the special advantages this store enjoys in its pur-And these advantages are shared, every time, with Hudson's Bay customers. But tomorrow will be Friday and another day closer to inventory. Now for a busy day's selling.

Take Note of this Notice re Wall Paper Sale

We'll frankly state right here that the unprecedented rush so far exceeded our highest expectations that we couldn't keep pace with the steady demand. Even with an extra staff busy as bees all day long bundling them up we were "swamped." Under such circumstances we thought it best for all hands to call the sale off today, Friday and Saturday, so as to have three whole days to complete making the stock into sale bundles. This will give customers a much wider and easier choice and will include all and every pattern in stock, the 25,000 rolls left after the first day's selling. Sale will commence Monday again. The papers will be done up in exactly the same fashion as before, and will represent just as generous saving possibilities. Bundles are put up for rooms of the following sizes, and priced accordingly:
