"No; and they are not likely to take any," came the prompt response. "The Police Commissioners are not as crazy as the members of No. 1 Committee. Do you imagine that the commissioners are going to instruct the police not to do their duty? The matter was talked over in Toronto some time ago, but the aldermen did not have presumption enough to ask the police and to make the arrests as they did here?" cipal of Barrie Collegiate Institute, was on the teaching staff of Hellmuth College when Bishop Sweatman was at the head of PORT STANLEY, July 23.

Yesterday was a gala day. Visitors coninued to pour in all afternoon, and as a consequence the stock in the larder was proposed to the stock of the larder was the stock of the larder was the stock of the stock consequence the stock in the larder was considerably increased, as many brought baskets for the boys. Last night was pretty stormy. The wind came off the lake and howled through the trees and around the tent all night. All hands were tired and slept like tops, notwithstanding the weather.

—"Bert, the Adventurer," tried to stand on his head on once of the tent poles, but thought the cloudy weather was not propitious and worked off his exuberant spirits in a different way.—Some of the boys made for the pienic grounds yesterday to meet friends, and on their return in the evening reported having had three suppers, so that it is evident they have their appetites along with them. We are living high.—Four additional campers arrived last night, and an additional tent was but up to-day.—Our champion hes weight scated himself on the life variand the strain was too great dit if fell. Damages slicht.—The coop of the boys see the camp notes until they appear in print. It is expected to have the notes fastened together and a copy presented to each camper.—President Hobbs, Mr. Wm. Bowman and other direct. Following were the successful competitors in the races at the picnic of the Queen's Avenue and Dundas Street Center Sunday schools, held at Port Stanley:

Hobbs, Mr. Wm. Bowman and other directors who visited the camp yesterday said that it could not be excelled for drainage, convenience and beauty of location—Heavy rain is falling this afternoon, with thunder and lightning to match.—Blackbird ple for supper shot by one of the boys.—We have an Irishman with us.
