MENDELSSOHN AND VICTORIA

The Great MusicalComposer and the Queen of Great Britain.

As is well known, Mendelssohn was a great favorite of Queen Victoria and the prince consort, and during his visit to London was frequently their guest, playing for them and ac-companying the Queen, who possessed to $4 25; culls, $1 75; lambs, $4 25 to $5 60; Canadian, lambs, $5 10 to $5 50. CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Cattle—Good demonstrated by the composer and bis a godson of Mendelssohn, a pleasing anecdote of the composer and his association with her Majesty is told. It was in 1847, the year of his death, that Mendelssohn had once more, as in 1842, been "making music with the Queen," and had been genuinely de-lighted with her rendering of his songs. As he was about to leave, she said: "Now, Dr. Mendelssohn, you have given me so much pleasure, is there nothing I can do to give you pleas-

He replied that he was more than amply rewarded by her Majesty's gracious reception, and by what would be a lasting remembrance of the interest she had shown in his music, but when she insisted he said: "Well, to speak the truth, I have a wish, and one that only your Majesty can grant."

"It is granted," she interposed. And then he told her that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to see the nurseries and all the domestic arrangements connected with the royal children. The most consumate courtier could not have expressed the line, and will stay out as long as a wish better calculated to please the Queen. She most cordially responded and herself conducted him through the nurseries. Nor was the matter treated lightly, she had to show him the contents of the wardrobe and give him particulars of the service, and for the time being the two were not in the relative position of gracious sove-reign and obedient servant, but rather of an experienced materfamilias and an There were a large number of repriendightened paterfamilias, comparing sentatives present from all parts of enlightened paterfamilias, comparing sentatives present from all parts of notes and giving each other points on Canada. STANSTEAD JUNCTION, P. Q., Aug. 12, 1893. MESSRS. C. C. RICHARDS & Co. GENTLEMEN—I fell from the bridge leading from a platform to a loaded car while assisting my men in unleading a load of grain. The bridge went down as well as the load, on my back, and I struck on the ends of the sleepers, causing a serious injury to my leg. Only for its being very fleshy, would have broken it. In an hour could not walk a step. Commenced using MINARD'S LINIMENT, and the third day, went to Montreal on business and got about wall by the use of a cane. In ten days was nearly well. I can sincerely recommend as the best Liniment I know of in use.

Yours truly. C. H. GORDON.

Strike Notes.

The Detroit Trades Council has officially sanctioned the strike of the theatrical workers. A committee was given authority to act as an auxiliary to the executive committee of the strikers, and to use all reasonable means to obtain a settlement, failing in which it is given full power to prolong the fight against what the council terms "the theatrical combine." The committee is only limited in its activity by the "bounds of the law The trades council will pay the bills. An effort will be made to discipline the theatrical musicians, who refused to obey the union's orders to strike in sympathy with the stage hands.

The C. P. R. machinists' strike took the officials at the coast completely by surprise. The men there say they do the men at Winnipeg, where the chief trouble is. The strikers intend holding a mass meeting on Sunday.
