GARFIELD RECEIVES DECISION WITHOUT TRACE OF EMOTION

Norman Garfield Is ROY HOTRUM Unmoved When Told TO BE HANGED That He Must Die ON

Doomed Man Is Resigned to His Fate-Eats Well, Sleeps Soundly and Reads a Great Deal-Canary in His Cell Sings While Condemned Prisoner and Wife Converse-Execution Will Be First in Oxford County in Over Thirty Years.

Woodstock, May 20 .- The deci sion of the authorities at Ottawa ot to interfere in the death sentence imposed on Norman Garfield, the murder of Ben Johnson here on January 20 last, was conveyed to Garfield last night by Rev. Mr. Gaetz, his spiritual adviser. That man was prepared for the worst was evident by the calm which the slayer of Johnson heard the news that will send him to the scaffold on June 2.

Garfield has been furnished with the daily papers and has read full accounts of the exploits of Ho trum, Conley and McFadden in To-He is also conversant with the details of the crime at Melfor which three London youths now await trial. These cases have evidently impressed on Garfield the utter fallacy of expecting commutation, and he seems to have prepared himself for the worst.

When the Canadian Press representative visited the jail this rning the prisoner's wife had just arrived. As customary, she was admitted to the corridor in which Garfield's cell occupies a position at the extreme west of the jail, and which overlooks the yard in which Birchall was hanged over 30 years ago, and in which the gallows on which Garfield, will pay the extre me penalty of the law will undoubt-

PREPARED FOR THE WORST.

That the wife and husband had buoyed themselves for this morning's meeting, the first since the fateful message was received from Ottawa, on which the young wife had built hope, was evident from events that transpired shortly after her meeting with her husband, for their conversation was carried on in a loud and pleasant voice, and was frequently interspersed with peals of laughter. Evidently the pet canary presented to Garfield by an ex-warden of the county a short while ago was inspired with the laughter and pleasant gestures, for the vellow-feathered bird frequently broke into song, and its voice mingled with those of the condemned man and his wife. Garfield has evidently determined that he shall not make the lot of his relatives any harder, for he invariably greets them on all occasions with smiles and comforting talk,

The jail officials say that Gar field's demeanor has not changed, and that he still sleeps well and en joys all his meals with evident "Never slept any better in my life," was his answer to a ques-

It is possible that the troubles exist ing between the London street railway and its employees will be settled without the assistance of an arbitration board. The appointee of the Government of the control of t ment, who was instructed by the department of labor to investigate the uation, and to bring about a peaceful settlement, if possible, is in the city, and will interview the officials of the company late this afternoon, and the executive of the union possibly tonight. Charles Lee, father of Edna Lee, in discussing the affair, placed the cause for the action to the trouble existing between Knox Presbyterian Church and the Methodist Church. The perpetrators, he feels, meant to go farther than they had gone in the affair, but due to some mishap of their plans in securing Jack Nairn, they failed, and as a last resort left Miss Lee at the Nairn farm with the hope of torcing disgrace on her and her ultimate resignation from Knox Church choir, where her success is said.

GOVERNMENT Living in London More Costly Than In Eastern Cities

Official Figures Show Only Two Cities in Dominion Where Cost of Living Is Higher, Windsor and Winnipeg ---Ald. F. R. Watkinson Places Blame On the Retailers' Selfishness and Civic Red Tape.

London bears the unenviable reputation of being the city in Eastern Canada with the highest cost of living, excepting Windsor, which can boast of being the city of the Dominion where living expenses are at the peak. Lonbeing the city of the Dominion where living expenses are at the peak. London ranks third in the high cost list, with Winnipeg following a close second to the city on the border. Figures provided by the minister of labor for the month of March, calculated on official Government reports, following collection of data on all prices throughout Canada, put the Forest City third in the ranks of the costly ones. While Winnipeg surpasses this city in high prices, it is pointeds out that prices in the Canadian west have always been higher than Ontario, with wages corresponding.

HIGHER THAN MONTREAL.

However, the cost of living here exceeds that of Montreal, Hamilton, and Brantford, as the following official report from Ottawa shows. Weekly family budget of staple foods, fuel and rent, in terms of retail prices, in each city, for

HAVE MANY ADVANTAGES. Ald. F. R. Watkinson is not pleased with the figures quoted in the Government report. "There seems to be a lack of public-spiritedness among some of businessmen. They should be willing to be satisfied with a fair profit, and give the other fellow a chance to live. London is not making the progress that it should. Take the building permits that are issued every day. They are issued, and that is as far as they go. There are too many red-tape restrictions placed upon the people.

"The plumbing bylaw is the most iniquitous piece of expensive red-tape legislation that was ever put on the people. No wonder there is no work. There is not enough public-spiritedness. These are a serious hindrance to the growth and progress of our city.'

MADE EIGHT DOL LARS ON TRIP. "The farmers have dropped their prices," he continued, "and we should demand that the retailer do the same. Bread and other staples must come down in price. Another citizen went to the same city and purchased a standard make of shoes for $5.50, while mercha demand $10 for the same shoes, Retailers in the United States have taken the reduction like men.

"A flour expert has informed me that bread should be down to 9 cents a loaf, with the present price of flour. Whereas it once sold at $16 to $17 per barrel, it is now $9.50 wholesale to bakers, and he declared that bread could be sold at 9 cents a loaf with the same profit as before the war. Instead it retails for 13 cents a loaf because the retailers have a good hold on the public purse and will not let go. MILK DEALERS MUST HAVE READ ADVERTISER TUESDAY

The power of the press has often been lauded, and more often disputed, but events in this city during the past 24 hours, have proven this power in a practical manner to the financial benefit of the local public. Thursday The Advertiser published an article comparing the price paid by the wholesaler for milk to that paid by the consumer in this city, the difference allowing for over 100 per cent profit on the part of the former. Milk on Thursday was retailed at sixteen tickets for one dollar, or 121/2 cents per quart.

This morning, deliverers for a leading milk company of this city left the following notice with the milk to their customers here: "Nineteen tickets for one dollar, 11 cents a quart. Milk down again. - Cream, eight for one dollar, or 13 cents straight."

Other milk retailers are contemplating a similar cut of almost 11/2 cents per quart in order to meet the competition of the new price set by the company. Perhaps the company purposed reducing the price of milk, regardless of the publicity of prices given in The Advertise: Thursday, and the reduction was merely a coincidence, but the buying public of London will not object to a few more coincidences of a similar nature, with the price of bread and meat uppermost in their minds.

Windsor, May 20 .- Bootleggers who contracted to supply rum-runners in Detroit with whiskey have been so hard pressed for supplies since the law against importation of liquor from Quebec went into effect that they have resorted to organized raids on liquor stocks in private homes here. the police department declared today in announcing that the entire force would be detailed to the task of running down the raiders. Scores of homes have been broken into within the past two weeks and large stocks of liquor hauled away in automobiles. On the west side, citizens have organized neighborhood patrols to protect their property.

RUM-RUNNERS ARE BEING

Another cause believed to be responsible for the numer ous liquor thefts is the suspension, effective today, of five federal prohibition officers at Detroit.

Rum-runners, it is believed, anticipate less difficulty in crossing the border in the absence of federal agents.
