The lucky bride and groom are to receive as their wedding present from the master of Sunshine Farm a highly-bred mare and a show buggy. Tea was subsequently served on the spacious lawns in front of Sleepy Nook, the bungalow on the farm, more than a hundred friends calling to offer congratulations and enjoy a chat with the guests of honor.

The newly-weds were then carried off to waiting cars, decorated for the! occasion, and a musical ride was the sport of the evening, a band of 15 pieces accompanying the procession to say nothing of bells and chimes and cow bells. Short stops were made in Komoka and Lobo villages in the course of the tour through the town-

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Dear Miss Grey,—I just picked up The Advertiser of Aug. 1, and noticed in your answer to Yellow Rose you say why not have an August babies' celebration some day? So I thought as I was an August baby away back about the middle of last century I would second the motion, and perhaps, as I was born the first day, I might be first. My year was 1851, so you see I am old enough to recan cities.

BONDEAU PARK. Dear Cynthia and All,-Just thought'I would drop in and see how you all are. Isn't it lovely and cool tonight? or is it in the country one needs their sweater or coat when outside? How is it in the city, Cynthia? If you find it hot just take a spin to Rondeau Park and you will find it cool and refreshing. How many of the Boxites have ever been to Rondeau Government Park? Those who haven't would enjoy a day there, I am sure. It is not made beautiful by flowers, but it is just as Nature made it, with the ex-ception of the buildings which have been erected by the Government. On one side there is Lake Erie, and on the other is Rondeau Bay, where you can enjoy the cool breezes boating and bathing. A quiet wedding took place Saturday, August 5, at 7:30 o'clock at St George's Rectory, Rev. Canon Sage officiating, when Miss Maud Puttock and Mr. Charles Coffin, both of London, were united in marriage. Miss Mae Baggott was bridesmaid, and the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. A. Coffin. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl necklace, and groomsman, an amethyst tiepin. Following the nuptial ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E.
