Local and District. Reeve Lacey committed Mary Brown for examination in regard to her mental condition. The Fire Department had eleven runs during April—seven fires and four alarms on account of chimneys. Dr. O'Reilly, Inspector of Prisons and Asylums, was at the London Assizes yesterday, and left town in the afternoon. James O'Gorman was before Judge Elliot yesterday on a charge of insanity, and was remanded till Friday. Assessment Commissioner Grant has completed the assessment of No. 1 Ward, and will return his roll in a few days. A blazing chimney at Mrs. Charwick's residence, No. 527 Maitland street, set fire to some of the surrounding woodwork on Monday, and damaged the house to the amount of $25. James Casey, employed on the Gladwin Railway, was at the London Assizes yesterday, and was committed to jail. His father was notified, and will take the remains to Canada. The East Elgin License Commissioners have granted the following additional licenses: Fred. Smith, Port Bruce; Daniel Wiley, Kingsmill; Chas. Reiser, Yarmouth.

Local and District. The farm of William Taylor, a reputedly rich farmer of Bidulph, was seized under a mortgage Tuesday, and the owner with his family ejected. Mr. Taylor appeared a few months ago in a charge against his daughter of stealing barley. Work on the new feather factory is being pushed rapidly forward. It is going to be a most substantial building, and will cost about $5,000. Joshua Garrett has the contract for the brick and stone work; John Purdom for the carpenter work; H. Colerick for the painting, and Wm. Phillips the galvanizer on work. Mr. Wm. Baker, late of the London Fur Co., previous to his departure for Petrolia, was presented Tuesday evening with a gold watch and chain by his numerous friends in this city. An address was read by Mr. F. Arscott and the presentation made by Mr. T. Dandy. Mr. Baker left on the 7:35 yesterday morning accompanied by the best wishes of his friends. A meeting of the Strathroy Reform Association was held on Tuesday evening in the Town Hall, when the following officers were elected: President, J. P. Whitehead, V. S., re-elected; Vice-President, John Pool; Secretary, W. Drynan, jr.; Treasurer, J. W. Mitchell. Delegates were also appointed to attend the convention on Friday, May 2nd, at Mount Brydges.

Local and District. The case of the County of Essex vs. Wright came up before Judge Street at Sandwich Tuesday, and was concluded much quicker than was expected. Mr. Black, for the plaintiff, wanted a competent accountant appointed to go over the books. Mr. Blackstock opposed the application, claiming that the debt of Wright to the county had been established beyond doubt. Judge Street said he would order the reference so as to ascertain the due date, if any, and the dates. He named as referee George F. Jewell, of London. One of the assessors got a lively breeze, or rather he would have received one had he been present, in the dog tax collector's office yesterday. A man came in to see Inspector Bell, who had been assessed for two dogs. He admitted having owned one, but said he had sold it to a neighbor. The other, he claimed, he never owned, and said it just happened to be chasing a cat across his lot at the time. He was positive that the assessor had not seen any more of it than the tail as it escaped under the fence. He paid his bill $2, however. At Osquedo Hall on Tuesday the following cases were heard:—Henry v. Huron & Middlesex Mutual Fire Ins. Co., D. Armour, for defendants, moved to set aside final judgment signed for default of defence and to be let in to defend. Enlarged for further material. Re Wardell and Wilson, McDonald (St. Thomas), for the vendors, vs. J. P. Whitehead, V. and P. Act as to whether they can sell under the power of sale in a mortgage under which they claim, the power varying from that in the Short Forms Act. Doherty (St. Thomas), for purchaser, contra. Order made declaring that the power of sale may be exercised. By consent no order as to costs.

Local and District. The P. M. discharged William Ritchford and James Chittle yesterday on condition that they leave the city at once. They were arrested sleeping in a stable on York street, and have been in custody for a couple of weeks as vagrants. A revolver in Chittle's possession was confiscated. Jessie Reining is the name of a respectable looking girl lately employed by Col. Paters, who is now suffering with insanity. She was remanded for six days. Lizzie Palmer, a colored young woman from Strathroy, was arrested yesterday on a charge of vagrancy. She has one little child now and may have to be sent to the Hospital. Prior to 1889 a woman could not recover damages from any person giving publicity to accusations against her fair fame unless she were able to show monetary loss. In the year named the Act was amended, permitting women to claim damages without being compelled to prove such loss, and Mr. T. W. Crothers, barrister, of St. Thomas, has been retained in a case which is believed to be the first brought under the amended act. Some time ago a young woman, residing in St. Thomas, went to live in a neighboring city, and afterwards, it is claimed, an employe on one of the railroads, living in St. Thomas, made certain disparaging remarks concerning her. Mr. Crothers went to the city and issued a writ against this employe, claiming $2,000 damages. At a meeting held for the purpose, on Tuesday evening, the 29th inst., a cricket club was formed in connection with the parish of the Church of St. John the Evangelist. Active practice will be begun as soon as grounds have been secured, and the club will then be prepared to receive challenges. The Grounds Committee is to report to a general meeting of the club on Monday next. Every cricketer and every friend of the game, resident in the north end of the city, is invited to be present at that meeting. The membership list of St. John's Cricket Club already includes several well-known players, and the older organizations must practice assiduously if they do not wish this latest aspirant to divest them of their laurels. The officers elected for the season were:—President, the Rev. W. T. Hill, B. A.; Vice-President, C. F. Compain, Esq.; Hon. Secretary, Mr. A. Zimmerman; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. J. C. Niles; Captain, Mr. E. Compain; Committee of Management, Messrs. E. Compain, Alfred Burwell and E. Skry. Communications can be addressed to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. A. Zimmerman, Oxford Street, London.

Local and District. Why do you always buy your tickets at the De la Hooke's office? First—Because it is more convenient. Second—Because he sells on commission, and the commission is spent in town. Let's keep all the money we can in local circulation.

Local and District. The twenty-fifth shoot of the London Gun Club took place on Tuesday afternoon, the competition being in the series for the cups. The scores made were as follows:—

Table with columns for names and scores. Includes names like Evans, Davey, Lyman, etc.

Local and District. The International League's season of 1890 begins this afternoon at Buffalo, Toronto and Hamilton, the London, Detroit and Saginaw clubs being the visitors at all accounts the teams are much more evenly matched this year than last, and exciting contests may be anticipated from the start. The Detroit, Hamilton and Buffalo teams have had the advantage—if such it can be termed—of playing several exhibition games, and to a certain extent have accustomed to the work of each other and to team work, but in many instances more harm is done by injury to players in such games than the general good accomplished. However, speculating will serve no purpose at this time and in a few hours the result will be known. As between the Tecumseh's and Buffaloes a more than ordinary interest should be set up. Jones and Murphy being the battery for the former and Manning and Oldfield for the Bisons. If the weather does not prevent the game, the score by innings will be bulletined in front of the Free Press office this afternoon, and a full report of the match in Friday's issue.

Local and District. The London Turf Club Association at their spring meeting on June 25th and 26th will offer the following programme:—

Local and District. Capt. A. P. Anderson, a wealthy young Englishman, has become so impressed with California's beauty that he has purchased an estate in Amier, San Gabriel valley, near Los Angeles, on which he will rear race horses for his own use on the courses of the coast. A late purchase is the Australian stallion Sir Ladd, by Richard III., and Queen. These horses will make their first start at the Los Angeles fall meeting. The Anderson stables, called "The Grange," are magnificently built, and lighted by electricity.

Local and District. The Tecumseh's left on the "Erie Flyer" for Buffalo yesterday, where they will open the International championship season to-day. The entire team went along, with the exception of Burton, and are in excellent spirits, and promise to come home with a good string of victories to their credit.

Local and District. The Active foot ball club of Stratford has been formed in the Classic City, and the officers are—President, W. S. Smith; vice-president, Peter Robinson; captain, A. W. Bell; secretary, F. B. Pratt; treasurer, W. G. Cast; committee of management, Earl Young, I. A. McKelvey, R. Stone.

Local and District. The Saginaw team again defeated the Flint club on the latter's grounds on Tuesday by 9 to 4. The principal features of today's sport were the excellent work of Day and Siny, the entire team went along, with the exception of Burton, and are in excellent spirits, and promise to come home with a good string of victories to their credit.

Local and District. President Brush was asked regarding the alleged plan to transfer the Pittsburg National League club to Indianapolis. He says that he knows nothing about any proposed transfer, and that if a transfer should be made he knows of no city that stands a better chance than Indianapolis.

Local and District. J. D. Hurdon, president of the Exeter base ball club, desires the names of some of the London amateur clubs, as they would like to communicate with one or more of them. Don't all write at once!

Local and District. At Newmarket yesterday the 2,000 guinea stake race was won by Merry's Surefoot; Rothschild's Leonard second, and the Duke of Westminster's Blue Green third.

Local and District. A baseball match has been arranged between the members of "D" company, I. S. C., and the Seventh Battalion, and will take place on Thursday afternoon.

Nationalism. A Club to be Organized in the City to Promote Bellamy's Theories. A preliminary meeting for the purpose of organizing a Nationalist Club was held in the Mechanics' Hall last night. After electing a chairman and secretary pro tem, an interesting paper was read by Mr. A. Johnston on the progress of the movement. The rapid growth of Clubs throughout the United States was reviewed. Their educational and political work was shown to be assuming large proportions. Many leading literary men, as well as many who have under the existing system amassed large fortunes are exerting themselves to promote the ideas and principles of Nationalism. The methods adopted by the co-operative Colony of Kaweah, in California, was explained at length. This Colony's success had given practical evidence of the possibility of realizing Bellamy's prophetic solution of the labor question.

Nationalism. During Mr. Johnston's address the statement was made that "Looking Backward" had been translated into German, and at the conclusion Mr. Bock stated that the Emperor of Germany had purchased and distributed 500,000 copies of the work. Mr. Marks gave some information concerning the growth of the movement in Woodport and other points in this vicinity, and also pointed out some of the benefits of our national school system and our national postal service. Messrs. Pocock, Mills, Marshall, Lepper, Boyle and others took part in a discussion that followed.

Nationalism. Messrs. Johnson and Lawson were appointed a committee to arrange for a place of holding a meeting for formal organization, and authorized to advertise the time and place.

Nationalism. City of Rome, Anchor Line, sails for Liverpool Saturday, May 3rd. Accommodation secured on the shortest notice. Call or address A. G. Smyth, agent, 443 Richmond Street, near the Post Office.

The Sportsman's Column. Notes of Interest from the Race Track, Diamond Field and Other Sporting Centers. Anson has got to make his first error of the season. The old man is playing great ball. It is likely that "Lady" Baldwin will sign with the Brooklyn (N. L.) Club in a few days. Catcher Young, late of the New Yorks, has left for Easton. Manager Carman gets an excellent player. The Metropolitan will be transferred to Lebanon, Pa., next week. All negotiations have been completed. The injury sustained by Second Baseman Fitzgerald, of the Athletic club, are much more serious than was at first expected. It is expected that the Duke of Portland's filly, Charm, will make her next appearance in public in the $3,000 at Kempton Park on May 9. There is nothing in the report that the Buffalo Players' League team will be transferred to Washington. If they go anywhere it will be to St. Louis. The general impression seems to be that Umpire McDermott was entirely too hasty in giving the Boston that game with New York. McDermott should curb his impulsiveness a trifle. Thirteen thoroughbreds belonging to Mr. James White, the Antipodean sportsman, were sold in Australia recently for 17,000 guineas. The highest price, 4,000 guineas, was given for a two-year old named Titan. The stallion Pickett, by Aberdeen, dam Martha, by American Emperor, died at Hammonnton, N. J., of colic. He was valued at $4,000. Pickett was the sire of Mollie G., 2:24; Helen R., 2:27, and Verona, 2:30. Little Davy Force has raised a crop of whiskers nearly as long as himself, and will make a great hit with the cranks this season by hiding the ball in his whiskers. The wind will be notified to keep off the grounds whenever Davy plays. Pitcher Easton, of the Columbus club, assaulted McCarthy, of the St. Louis team, Monday, while the game was in progress. Go it, boys. The game is on the down grade. You'll soon have it buried. Then you can all shovel mud at $1.50 per day. Bierbauer, the ubiquitous, would not be a bad title for Ward's second baseman, says Murnane in the Boston Globe. Unless the ball reaches right field via the ozone it gets there, for that hustling individual seems to be everywhere at the same moment. Mr. V. E. Walker, the celebrated Middlesex cricketer, has presented to the Southgate, Eng., local board fifteen acres of land, situated at New Southgate, to be laid out as a public recreation ground. The value of the land is estimated at about $5,000. The Brooklyn "L" team has disbanded. Not long ago the nine played a game with the Brooklyn Brotherhood team. Now the clubs all through the state, fearing the national agreement boycott, have refused to play the "L's". The disbanded of the club is a result of this action. "Whether or not a change is to be made in the League's playing schedule for 1890," said President Young to-day, "depends entirely upon the gentlemen whose capital is invested in base ball. But my impression is that nothing of the sort will be attempted beyond an occasional change, now and then between the clubs, and for this unanimous consent will be required." The Australians will play their first match in England May 8th, and will meet a very strong team, including seven professionals. The English Eleven will be—W. G. Grace, W. Newham, A. E. Stoddard and W. W. Read, with the professionals Atwell, Briggs, Peel, Humphreys, Shrewsbury, Lohmann and either Billing or Sherwin. At a meeting of cricketers held in Woodstock on Friday last it was decided to form a club, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing season:—President, W. Totten; vice-president, J. E. Thompson; captain, John Perry; secretary-treasurer, George Whitwell, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Sterling, Woods, Johnson, McElvey and Notcross. This proved is the Philadelphia Press—Phil Powers has again been appointed a League umpire. So long as the League people stand by and see such men appointed they ought not to complain when their club gets the raw end. This is the man who downed the Phillies in favor of Boston right along last season? You can have your entire bank account that the Phillies were at fault, or they would not have got downed by Phil Powers. An extract from a letter from Independence, Ia., the home of C. W. Williams, former owner of the marvellous colt Axtell, 2:12, 3 years old, says of Mr. Williams' other great colt, Allerton, 2:18 1/2, 3 years old:—Allerton, I think, will surprise many this fall. His injured ankle appears all right. He was driven a full mile this week in 2:24, and if he will stand training and be handled, I honestly believe Axtell's name will be Dennis before October.

The Licensed Victuallers. Who May Sell Liquor in London During the Year Entailed Upon Five Old Licenses Revoked—Two New Ones Unsettled. The License Commissioners of the city of London met in the Inspector's office in the Palmer block yesterday afternoon, and granted licenses to sell liquor for the ensuing year. There were present Messrs. Geo. M. Reid, D. Beagan, John McClary and Inspector Henderson. A great deal of pressure was brought to bear to have the Board largely curtail the number of licenses this year, and they cut off four taverns and one shop. The strong resolutions passed by a large mass meeting of citizens the previous evening appears to have had considerable weight with the Commissioners. No new licenses were granted. Following is a complete list:—

The Licensed Victuallers. Hotels and Taverns. J. B. Jennings, Revere house, corner of King and Richmond streets. James Homister, Hamilton road. Harry Walsh, 147 and 149 King Street. Henry Brinsmead, Britannia house, corner of York and Wellington. J. A. Ross, Ross' hotel, Dundas street east. John Tomlinson, Victoria house, Clarence street. Edwin Stanton, Cousins house, corner of York and Wellington. E. H. Gustin, 368 Dundas Street. Mrs. Elliott, Wellington house, corner of Balmora and Wellington streets. John Fraser, corner of King and Talbot streets. R. A. Carrothers, corner of Waterloo and Horton. J. W. Humbridge, London house, corner Dundas and Talbot streets. W. A. Fraser, "The Hub," Dundas street. McGaw & Winnet, Tecumseh house, Richmond street. Harry M. Ryan, corner of Clarence and King. T. K. Grigg, Grigg house, corner of Richmond and York streets. W. M. Purcell, Grant house, Dundas street. John McGill, corner of Talbot and York streets. J. P. Evans, Royal hotel, Richmond street. W. C. Drake, International hotel, Clarence street. James James, Western hotel, Richmond street. Mrs. Taylor, American hotel, Ridout street. Martin O'Meara, Dominion house, corner of York and Clarence. John Oag, Boswell house, King street. James McDonald, Queen's hotel, Carling street. J. W. Martin, Martin house, King street. Edward Markin, 454 Wellington street. Thomas Markin, 587 Richmond street. F. S. Hodgins, Ontario house, King street. Alonzo Hall, McFarlane hotel, corner of Ridout and King. Wm. Bernard, corner of Talbot and Carling streets. Jerry McDonald, Dundas street west. J. B. Land, 534 Richmond street. Deacon & Small, Hodgins hotel, corner of King and Talbot streets. John Lewis, Huron hotel, corner of Richmond and Maple. Edward Pantou, Oxford house, Adelaide street north. John Burton, 682 Adelaide street north. John Horsman, corner of Dundas and Wellington streets. Hough & Eckley, American house, Richmond street. J. & J. McCMartin, City hotel, corner of Talbot and Dundas. John Howe, corner of Clarence and York. James Fallahas, 625 Dundas street east. Louis Risk, 601 Richmond street, corner of Lichfield. C. Collet, corner of Hamilton road and Burwell street. Wm. Avey, 754 and 755 Dundas street east. Henry Powell, Butcher's Arms, Hamilton road. Edwin Barrwell, 577 Hamilton road east. James Westbrook, 633 and 635 Dundas street east.

The Licensed Victuallers. Exempts. W. J. Fowler, Grand Trunk restaurant. James Smith, Albion, Dundas street. David Saxe, Office restaurant, Richmond street. Peter McCann, corner Market lane and Market square.

The Licensed Victuallers. Wine and Beer. A. Jeffery, Mansion House, 60 and 62 Dundas street west. Charles Maker, 797 King street east. Shors. P. J. Watt, Market square. Wilson Bros., 388 Richmond street. John Sandreth, 175 1/2 Dundas street. John Gusty, 156 Dundas street. Somerville & Fredericks, 414 and 416 Talbot street. Wm. Connor, 169 King street. E. B. Smith, No. 9, Market square. McEban Bros., Dundas street. Findley McNeil, 471 Maitland. Ed. Shea, 747 Waterloo street. John Orange, corner of Grey and Clarence.

The Licensed Victuallers. Applications Refused. The following applications for new licenses were refused:— J. D. McDonald, corner of Pall Mall and Maitland. Wm. Guest, Ridout street. Chas. Lilley, Dundas street east. The following old license holders were given three months in which to sell out:— John Kincaid, Richmond street north. Jonathan Ardiel, corner of Rectory and Simcoe streets. John McKeivlin, 236 Rectory street. J. A. Depolie, 1,007 Frances street. Henry Depper's shop license on the Hamilton road was also cut off. W. J. Thompson, on King street, and Thos. Taylor, on Richmond street, made application, but as there was some dispute as to the legality of some of the names on the petitions, the question was referred to the city clerk to take evidence under oath, and they will be decided on later. The inspector will be at his office this morning to issue new licenses.

The Licensed Victuallers. Toronto World:—"Dude Esterbrook was not good enough for last season's Tecumseh's, but is considered a suitable man to hold down first for the New York National League team. The standard of the big organization must have fallen off considerably." Not necessarily. Tommy was a good ball player of his kind, but, unlike the best players, he had no control of his temper. See?

The Licensed Victuallers. A lady writes:—"I was enabled to remove my corns Saturday, May 3rd. Accommodation secured on the shortest notice. Call or address A. G. Smyth, agent, 443 Richmond Street, near the Post Office.

The Licensed Victuallers. Tea and Coffee. For genuine value go to Wm. Gilmour Market Lane.
