KENORA LOSES TO OTTAWAS. Winnipeg, Dec. 30.—The hockey match his evening between Thistles, of Kenora, and Otiawa, proved to be one of the most exciting games seen here in recent years. Although only an exhibition, both teams played Stanley cup hockey. Ottawa won by a score of 10 to 5, but the score is hardly a correct indication of the play, as Kenora was on the aggressive at all times, but lacked combination work, depending entirely on individual rushes. Ottawa has a well balanced team and play a good combination game. About 5,000 people witness the game, and the crowd was about evenly divided. Considerable betting was done with Kenora a slight favorite.

A POINTER FOR CANADIANS. Richmond, Va., Dec. 30.—Virginia preeders and horsemen are taking steps to organize the Hunters' Improvement Society, which, as the name suggests, is for the improvement of the hunting stock in the Old Dominion. The purpose of the new organization is best set forth in the following circular letter of its secretary, Charles Griggin Herring, Harrisonburg, Va.

The letter follows:

"It is evident to all who have observed the tendency of the times that a hunter improvement society, on the lines of the English Hunter Improvement Society, will be organized in this country in the English Hunter Improvement Society, will be organized in this country in the near future. It is being constantly agitated, especially in the Eastern States. Now it does not require much reflection the country in the

Their popularity is well deserved and general among the eastern sportsmen.
"That prince of gentleman sportsmen, Foxhall P. Keene, says the Virginia hunters are the best he has been able to the market now, but we can extend that market, and we cannot be too careful, both to deserve and preserve our prestige. This cannot be done by resting on our reputation, but only by brave, earnest and unceasing effort.

'The objects of the proposed organization are, in part, the general improve ment of the hunter and hack breeding in the state; the more careful and general use of the best thoroughbred blood; the registry of suitable, sound and approved sires, and dams; a systematic extension of the market for horses in this class, including cavalry remounts; the offering (when the society is able) of prizes, etc.

We hope we are laying the foundation for a National Hunter Improvement

FOOTBALL

TO REVISE FOOTBALL RULES. New York, Dec. 30.—A resolution favoring amalgamation of the association football rules committee for 1907, with the committees representing Yale, Harvard and the other large universities, was adopted at the annual meeting yesterday of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the United States. It was decided, however, that if this can not be accomplished, the association's committee shall formulate rules under which football shall be played by the institutions belonging to the association.

Another resolution was adopted chang-Another resolution was adopted changing the bylaws so that a conference composed of several colleges may be represented by a single delegate.

After electing officers and executive and football rules committee the meeting adjourned sine die.

550 THE SCOTCH GAME.
500 London Leader: Modesty as well as shrewdness as the trait of the Scottish character. Four Scotchmen, when he has secured a good thing, does not make it known from the housetops; he just holds on tightly; his gratification is for-himself; he leaves the outsider to discover his wealth in his own time. When posterity deals with this era of football history it will find that Scottish football flourished simply through the Scotsman's immense faith in orthodox Rugby, and the first principles of orthodox Rugby are hard forward play and heaps of footwork. The Scotsman has insisted that the backs are auxiliaries of the forwards. So Scotland by this stead-fast policy has retained to the scotsman has insisted that the backs are auxiliaries of the forwards. So Scotland by this steadthat the backs are auxiliaries of the forwards. So Scotland by this stead-fast policy has not only preserved her forward play, but has produced a great class of backs. Neither Ireland nor Scotland ever had any lean years, because neither would be deluded into the immolation of everything for the purpose of heeling and passing ing and passing.

BEAUTIES NIAGARA

Dr. Clark of Opinion Steps Should Be Taken to Prevent Encroachments

New York, Dec. 30.-Before the American Association for the Advancement of Science yesterday, Dr. John M. Clark spoke on the "Necessity of Perpetuating the Natural Beauties of Niagara. He said it was high time to take some steps to prevent further encroachment of commercial interests at the Falls. The speaker said that inasmuch as the State of New York had been the first to grant privileges to the power co panies, it should be first to take steps to put an end to encroachments. He believed the only sure way to stop it was by an international agreement between the United States and Canada The common rat possesses a sixth sense, described as the sense of direction, according to Prof. John B. Watson, who related the results of experiments before the association. Prof. Watson said that he used a covered box, in the centre of which was a maze leading to escape and food. After the rat had learned to traverse the path having all its senses, Dr. Watson eliminated the senses one by one, and even then the creature succeeded in making its way out of the box.

Another interesting question which was discussed at considerable length brought up by Dr. Robert B. Bean fore the American anthropological section of the convention. Dr. Bean said that experiments extending over more than two centuries show conclusively that the average negro brain is decidedly blood in the American negro. In the discussion which followed, however, this theory was not upheld. Reporting to the economic section, Irving Fisher, the vice-president, described the steps that have been taken to form a national department of health. He said that he had appointed a committee of 100 prominent men as a national committee. Very few whom he had approached had declined to serve, and nearly all of these had warmly endorsed the movement. The next step would be to nominate an executive committee.

It had been thought advisable, he said. not to place on this executive committee any Government official whose duties were connected with the national health. The committee would have the benefit of their advice in all matters of importance, and it might be less embarrass for them not to be too closely asso with the comittee
