EDITOR'S MAIL

To the Editor, The Campbellton Graphic.

Sir—Will you be good enough to grant me a few lines of your space to conduct a report, which is in circulation regarding the recent robbery at the Campbellton Post Office.

I overheard a business man make a statement the other day to the effect that it was to blame for the registered letters, from which some of the money was abstracted, being left on the desk in the Registration Office. May I say that on the occasion of Saturday, Sept. 2nd (the night of the robbery) mail train No. 38 from the N. B. arrived at the depot at 7:45 p.m. and the same day on the occasion of Saturday, Sept. 2nd, at 7:30 p.m. These times are from the official record at the depot. I left the office with Mr. MacKendrick's consent, about 7:45 p.m. and as a matter of fact on my way up Water Street saw these mails being taken down to the Post Office.

Such malicious statements as quoted above, can do no good and, on the other hand, they may do considerable harm if allowed to go unchallenged. Thanking you for your courtesy, I am, Sir,

Yours truly, PETER H. BLYTH.

By order, R. C. DESROCHERS, Secretary.

CATTLE AND MOTOR ACCIDENTS

On returning to town, one dark, foggy night recently a local motorist ran into a herd of cattle a few miles below here, and damaged his car to the extent that repairs will include one tender, two lights, a bumper several small but expensive accessories and a new radiator.

At the time of the accident the autoist was driving at about twenty miles per hour. Upon ascending a rise he suddenly saw that the road immediately ahead was almost completely blocked by a herd of cattle which were standing at rest in languid posture and betrayed no signs of alarm or much promise of getting out of the way.

The motorist grabbed his emergency brakes very useless, it was a matter of seconds before he was able to stop. But two, standing together so that they formed an obtuse angle, proved the motorist's Waterloo for he could not pass on either side. So, without regret that he might be depriving someone of their winter's milk, he headed for the nearest creek.

Beefsteak in its natural form is not a very solid material as a shock absorber. Consequently the collision was not a gentle one. The violent impact caused the cow to migrate to the ditch in a speedy manner and, instantaneously several things happened to the car. One fender lost its former graceful lines, the radiator sprang per turned down and the headlights turned up casting their yellow glare seeking the sky like search lights.

Later he received a telephone call from the owner of the cattle which brought the intelligence, in veracious tones, that that gentleman intended bringing the motorist to account for having nearly demolished his milk supply.

Thereupon, the motorist, feeling no quams of conscience, advised the farmer to talk business but was laughably instructed to ring his song to a local lawyer. We have not heard as yet whether or not the words have been set to music.

In passing, it might be in order to make a few remarks. It would appear that some owners of cattle are too careless about observing the laws and which govern the matter of trespassing. Frequently this negligence on the part of stock owners has been the cause of serious accidents to motorists. Not long ago a reversal of this place lost his life in a railway accident which was directly traceable to laxity and negligence of this kind. Probably when certain rick ralers have paid fines and set property there will be fewer domestic animals roaming at large and endangering the lives of travellers on road and rail.

Cataral Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased membrane. The only way to reach the membrane is by the use of the "CATHARTIC" MEDICINE. This is a constitutional remedy. It cures the disease by acting on the system. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or ringing in the ears, and when it is closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing will be destroyed. "CATHARTIC" MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous membrane of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. Circulate free. All Druggists. J. J.
