THE MARITIMES MUST HELP THEMSELVES

While it is generally admitted that the Maritime Provinces have not during the past forty or fifty years made the progress that they were expected to make and led to believe they would make by the promoters of Confederation, there is, after all, too much of a dwelling on the dead past, and too little looking forward and using constructive effort to make the best of what is undoubtedly a bad situation. While it is not well to overlook the grievances and disabilities which do exist it is extremely unwise to dwell on these to the exclusion of other things. Hence it is decidedly refreshing to read the views of Senator J. A. McDonald on the situation. The Senator, through dint of enterprise, hard work, and business acumen has built up an industry in which the Province may justly take pride. He knows the situation right down to the ground and speaks with authority and with the voice of reason. It is all right to take up and discuss our grievances and many would be pleased to see our members of Parliament or the majority of them, show more backbone and exert themselves when occasions are opportune to seek redress of these grievances, but after all there is too much dependence on governments and representatives and too little real initiative by past masters in the art of growing.

Then, too, the people of the Maritimes have some considerable responsibility as well. The old tale of "far away fields look green" applies here. If the people of the Maritimes as a whole wish to see their industries flourish and grow, it is up to them to give them a decent share of support and not fall into the idea that because certain articles are manufactured a few thousand miles away they must therefore be far better than those in similar lines which are made at home. There is too much knocking and too little boosting. We have a number of industries in this Province which have made for themselves a name all over Canada and farther. Such, for example, as Moir's of Halifax, Stanfield's, of Truro, and several others. In spite of positional disadvantages these industries have abundantly made good, and we believe that there are many industries in these Provinces which would increase and grow most satisfactorily if they had even a reasonable amount of confidence and support placed in them by the people of the Province themselves, and less of the idea prevailing that everything which we manufacture is made very much better elsewhere.

Co-operation by our own people is the first step. After that is secured our industries are then in a position to reach out after wider markets and will be in a position to secure them. What has been done by some of our industries can be done by others. The biggest knockers of these industries have lived in the Maritimes themselves and neither Province nor community can prosper without a large percentage of boosters. The God's help them who help themselves. Let us all do what can be done. These things accomplished, the door of opportunity will open wider as the years go by, and our just complaints receive a better hearing.

EASY MONEY

For pounding each other for three minutes and fifty-seven seconds, Mr. Jack Dempsey gets $480,000, and Mr. Luis Angel Firpo $160,000. They are no doubt congratulating themselves that they are ring gladiators instead of college presidents.—(Moncton Transcript).

GLAD OF IT

Although London's name is not on the list of places securing a reduction in hydro rates, this city is pleased to see 100 or so other places getting a lower rate.—(London, Ont., Advertiser).

KNOWLEDGE AND LIBERTY

Liberty is in no danger, so long as our public schools tell the great purpose for which they were established. Ignorance, tyranny, oppression of all sorts vanish before the light of education, and that land is greatest where schools are freest.—(Omaha Bee).

A CHANGED VIEW

In Manitoba all the trouble used to be about the lack of it. Now, it's about the price of it.—(Manitoba Free Press).

KEEP ROADS IN BEST OF REPAIR

The progress made during the past few years in improving the main highways of our Province is a matter of satisfaction and pride. Of course it costs money to do these things, but money wisely spent in these regards is not an expenditure but an investment.

Some are perhaps a little too much inclined to look upon the building of good roads as the only consideration, overlooking the fact, that to keep the roads in good repair comes only second to the actual construction. Any person who has done a fair amount of travelling over the roads of the Province or, to bring it nearer home, through the Valley itself, must have noticed how decidedly many a good stretch of roadway has deteriorated during a season. There is little use in spending large sums of money on our road building if no adequate provision is made to keep them in the best of repair. It is the old case of the "stitch in time saving nine". If, as the suggestion has been made before, roads were regularly patrolled by competent and qualified persons in sufficient numbers to give prompt attention to repairs when they are first needed, these roads would always be in good shape and the ultimate roadway cost most materially diminished. There is no doubt that cars driven at a high rate of speed are responsible for much of damage done but the car is a good round tax into the Provincial treasury. We think that a fair way of applying this would be, as is the case in a number of States, and also we believe now in British Columbia, to tax cars according to the amount of use they make of the roads. In other words have an upkeep tax from gasoline but so adjusted that the actual tax, and that alone, would come out of the consumer, and not a tax starting at say 2 or 3 cents a gallon and working up to perhaps 5 or 6 from the owner of a car.

THE OPERATOR WINS

The record of every coal strike since coal strikes became fashionable discloses that after each of these ceremonies, whether an increase in wages is granted or not, the operator cuts another large piece of pie for himself.—(Detroit News).

WHAT TWO DOLLARS WILL BUY

In each of its many departments, catering to all classes and all ages, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, has continued to improve each year over the last until now it would seem perfection were reached. Yet for the coming season that remarkable farm and family journal again promises—still further improvements in all departments. It is a profound mystery to publishers the world over how the Family Herald and Weekly Star can continue to publish a 72-page weekly paper containing such a wealth and variety of reading matter for a subscription price of only $2.00 per year.

If this were not enough, we hear that, added to the amazing value of the paper itself, each subscriber this season who remits in time will receive free a most beautiful picture in colors of a lovely and heroic woman, whose remarkable life story has been published in booklet form and can be obtained without charge from the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal.

ALBANY

Dr. and Mrs. I. B. Oakes, of Wolfville, spent 22nd, 23rd and 24th of Sept. with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oakes, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Murray.

Mrs. Phineas Whitman's 85th birthday, Sept. 25th, was celebrated by the presence of her son and wife, Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Whitman, also her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Whitman received congratulations at the church on Sunday, 23rd. They were serenaded on the previous evening. The neighbors are much pleased to have Mrs. Whitman with us again as she taught school in this section several years ago and made many friends.

Mrs. Louisa Andrews went to Falkland Ridge the 3rd, where she will board with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Mason. Mr. Lemuel Murray has repaired and newly painted his house.

Monday's severe storm and wind was of much damage to the orchards, nearly one third of the apples are on the ground.

Scores of moose hunters have passed through here since Monday morning, 1st.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. William F. Gilliat.

On Wednesday afternoon Sept. 21st, at her home, Granville Centre, the death occurred of Maria Ellis, wife of William F. Gilliat. Deceased had been ill many months, and patiently endured the suffering she was called to bear. She was born in Sheffield Mills, King's Co., seventy-two years ago, was a daughter of the late John Ellis, of that place. Forty-four years ago she came to Granville a bride, and has since resided here. For many years her health has not been good, and her activities have necessarily been confined to her home and family. She made many friends who will always remember her as a kind neighbor and friend. In her home she was bright and entertaining, being a great reader and possessing a retentive memory, made her a pleasant companion. She was deeply interested in missions, being a member of the W.A. of the Anglican Church and the W.M.A.S. of the Baptist Church.

The funeral took place on Saturday, 29th. Services were conducted at her home by Rev. Archdeacon Watson, Rector of All Saints Church, interment in Wadeville cemetery.

She leaves beside her husband, one daughter, Mrs. A. E. McCormick, of Granville Centre, and three sons: J. Burton Elliott, Civil Engineer, Webana, Newfoundland; Frederik C. of the Entomological Laboratory, Annapolis, and Clyde A., of the Royal Bank of Canada Inspectorial staff in Port of Spain, British West Indies. Also one sister, Mrs. Annie Beckwith, Wolfville, and two brothers, Rupert Ellis, of Centreville, King's Co., and Fenwick, of Sheffield Mills. A profusion of beautiful flowers adorned the casket. Noticeable among them was a pillow from the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church and a broken circle from All Saints Sewing Circle.

The sympathy of the entire neighborhood is extended to the bereaved husband and family.

Mr. Jacob I. Beals.

There passed away at South Williamston on Sep. 10th, one of the oldest residents of the place, Mr. Jacob I. Beals, at the advanced age of 88 years.

Mr. Beals had been a life long resident of the place, a farmer by occupation, and had many relatives and friends. He was twice married, his first wife was Miss Sarah Miller, of Mt. Hanley, who died over 40 years ago. His second wife was Miss Margaret Warwick, of Lawrenceton who predeceased him over 30 years. By the first marriage there were two daughters, Ada M., who faithfully and tenderly cared for her father in his declining years, and Mrs. Gesner Lonsbury, of St. John, N. B. By the second marriage there is one daughter, Susie M., who also assisted in caring for her father, and one son, Lewis, who died a few years ago, leaving a widow and six children, who reside in the old homestead. The children and grandchildren will ever cherish the memory of one who was deeply interested in their welfare.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. H. Whitman, pastor of the Lawrenceton Baptist Church, of which Mr. Beals was a charter member. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The pall bearers were: F. L. Bishop, H. T. Bishop, F. C. Bishop and Paul Durling. Burial at the Valley West Cemetery.

Alfred Farnsworth.

The many friends of Alfred Farnsworth will hear with regret of his illness and death which took place at Lynn, Mass., Oct. 1st.

The deceased was very highly esteemed and respected in Lower Granville and had made many warm friends in Lynn where he had resided for the last year.

His body arrived on Wednesday, 3rd inst., accompanied by Miss Blanche Parrott, his brother, Harold and wife, and sister, Mrs. Reuben Conley.

The funeral which was largely attended, took place at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Farnsworth on Thursday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. W. R. Thomas, interment taking place at Stoney Beach cemetery. Hymns sung were: "Abide With Me", "Some strange We'll Understand".

He leaves to mourn their loss, his parents, one brother, three sisters, Mrs. Harry Delap in Lower Granville, Harold and Mrs. Reuben Conley of Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Geo. Robinson who with her children have been spending the Summer with her parents. His friends have the sympathy of the entire community.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful, as follows: Basket of Flowers—Alfred; Miss B. Parrott; "Our Boys", Pillow—father and mother; "Brother", Wreath—brother and sisters; Spray—Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Parrott; Spray—Mrs. Peterson; Wreath—Mr. and Mrs. H. Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. E. Pihkam; Spray

The storm on Monday, Oct. 1st, was very severe here. The schooner Oronohyatek received considerable damage and will be several days before she will be ready to sail for St. John.

During the storm of Monday night great anxiety was felt for a ship that was seen not far from shore. Fears were entertained for the safety of those on board and several men watched her all night, seeing she was coming near the rocky shore after she had anchored. Fortunately the storm began to moderate and they lay at anchor until the next day. It proved to be the four mast schooner Ad-Towner.
