

330

FRANCES,
OR PIRATE COVE.

A Legend of Cape-Breton.

BY W. C. M'KINNON.

" The stormy waves dash'd high
On a wild and rock bound coast,
And the trees against a stormy sky
Their giant branches tost.—
And the heavy night hung dark
The woods and waters o'er,
When a band of pilgrims moor'd their bark
On the wild new England shore."

For Sale at the American Book Store: 33 Hollis Street, Halifax.

CAN ed at the Office of the "British North American."
PR
4971
.M54F8

1851.