FIRE PREVENTION CLEAN-UP DAY

HORATIO C. HOCKEN, Mayor of Toronto.

Whereas the Canadian Fire Prevention Association have requested that a day to be known as Fire Prevention and Clean-up Day be proclaimed, and the Department and the Property Commissioner mave reported that this is a step in the right direction, and that a considerable amount of good can be accomplished by this means. They, therefore, recommend that the last Friday in April be set apart for this purpose and that on this day and the following day the Merchants and Manufacturers of the City and Citizens generally be requested to have removed from their premises all accumulations of inflammable and combustible waste materials, and that in the following or first week in May a general inspection be made by the Fire Department, for the purpose of ascertaining what has been done, and those who have falled to comply with the requirements above outlined.
And whereas the City Council have, on the recommendation of the Board of Control, authorized me to issue a proclamation requesting the observance of the said day in the manner indicated.
I, therefore, in compliance with the wish of the Council, proclaim

FRIDAY, APRIL 25th, 1913,

FRIDAY, APRIL 25th, 1913,
as Fire Prevention and Clean-up Day, and do hereby respectfully and urgently request our Manufacturers and Merchants and the Citizens generally to cooperate with the City authorities in removing or destroying all accumulations of waste material and to have a general cleaning up of their premises.

The Fire Department will make a general inspection during the following or first week in May to ascertain to what extent the request hereir made has been complied with, and in all casts of noncompliance to urge and insist upon the observance of the reasonable provisions of this proclamation.

In witness whereof this proclamation is made public and Citizens are hereby requested to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.
